Issue to Provide More Classrooms

Following close on the heels of county, state, and national elections comes the school district 25 referendum, to provide additional classrooms for the district's expanding grade school population.

Voters will be asked to approve the $650,000 bond issue Saturday, Nov. 15, an issue which oddly enough will not increase the taxpayers' burden, according to school board estimates. The taxpayer will actually pay less next year, school officials say.

The need for the additional space may be seen in the accompanying graph, which shows school enrollment increasing almost 100 per cent over the past five years. Less than two years from now, say school officials, the present enrollment will have increased almost as much as the total enrollment was in 1953.

Without additional facilities by next September, said School Board President Lambert W. Bredehoft, the schools must plan for (1) double sessions in grades 1 to 3 at Westgate, (2) double session in grades 1 to 5 at Windsor-Miner, (3) some double sessions at Park, (4) oversized classes in both junior high schools, and (5) four sessions daily in one kindergarten room at Windsor and Westgate.

"In view of continued increases in the total assessed valuation of the district," said Bredehoft, "and the retirement of previously issued bonds, this program will not cause any increase in the tax bills."

THE TAX RATE for school construction, as shown on the accompanying chart, shows how taxes affect the Arlington Hts. home owner. That portion of taxes going into the school bond and interest fund now stands at slightly over 46 cents for each $100 of assessed valuation (.4634). A family with a home assessed at $10,000 (actual value about $23,000), is now paying $46.34 toward the retirement of existing construction bonds.

"The proposed bond issue will have no affect on next spring's tax bills," Bredehoft said, "and the home owner whose house is assessed at $10,000 will see his taxes drop from $46.34 to around $40 over the next few years."

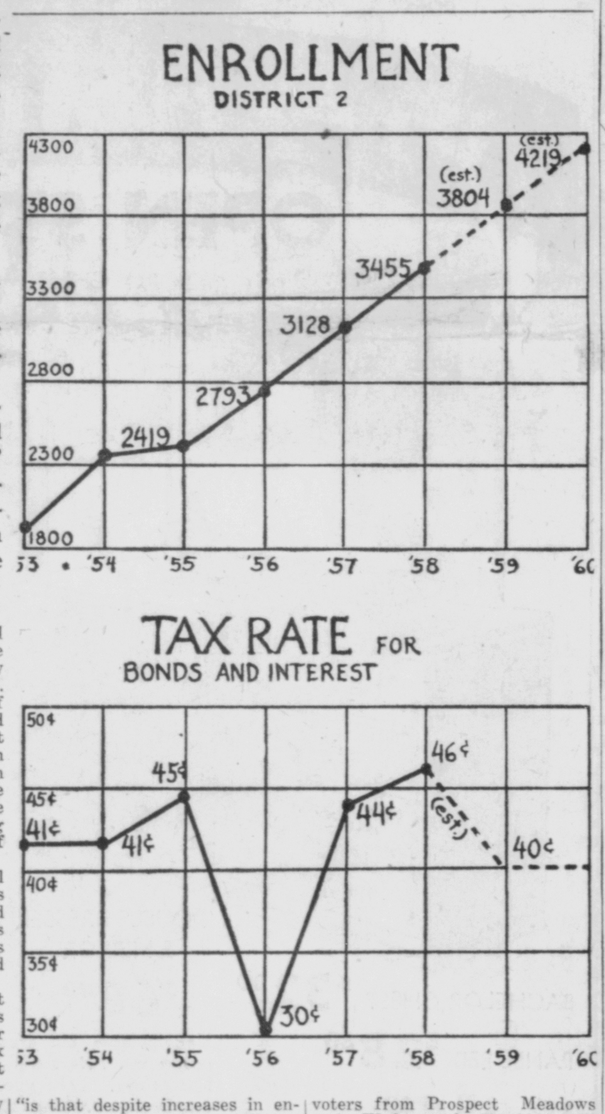
But school officials do not claim the Arlington Heights resident is getting something for nothing. The dip in the 1956 tax picture (see chart) shows what could happen if no new expenditures were anticipated. They point out, that without further building, the tax rate would continue to drop until it disappeared.

THEY ALSO point out that as long as school enrollment rises, new classrooms will be needed.

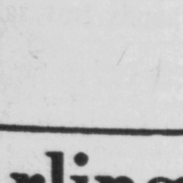
"One interesting point," said School Supt. R. E. Clabaugh, "is that despite increases in enrollment, our tax rate will actually be lower for the next few years than it was in 1953."

The election will be held Saturday, from noon to 7 p.m., and polling places will be at all six of the district's lower grade schools, with precincts the same as the areas served by the schools. There is one exception: voters from Prospect Meadows and Wedgewood Terrace will cast ballots at Windsor school.

The polling places are: North, Park, Dryden, Ridge, Westgate, and Windsor schools. Qualifications are that voters be residents of the state for one year, of the county 90 days, and of the precinct 30 days. They are not required to be registered voters.



The Editor's Column



We discovered last Thursday that the Cook County Farm Bureau is very much alive in spite of the farms that are being taken over by subdivisions.

Quoting from the report of the organization chairman, the membership November 1 was 5,873, an increase of 140 over the previous year.

The speaker from the American Farm Bureau Federation added that Cook county has the largest farm bureau in the United States and that it has more members than many states.

The answer is: the Cook County Farm Bureau is finding a new market for its services—the home owner, who needs aid in the care of his lawn and advice on his garden problems.

Safety First is not an unusual slogan, but a touch of soberness passed through the audience at the Cook County Farm Bureau meeting Thursday night when J. L. Drake said, "In all probability and based on past years, one of you farmers here tonight will lose a hand or an arm in a corn picker this fall — just because you did not shut off the power when the machine clogged."

We are not going to indulge in any postmortems over what the Democratic party did to us Republicans November 4. We just looked up our files of two years ago when the streamer heading read, "GOP sweeps county, state and nation." Turn to "Way Back When" for story.

Charges are being made by proponents of the Blue Ballot that Gov. Stratton made little or no effort to marshall the down state Republican organization on the side of the Blue Ballot.

The governor had signified that he would support the proposed amendment. Evidently his promise was not recognized by some of his strong henchmen in central Illinois.

We were told two months ago that enthusiasm for the judicial Amendment in Cook county would get nowhere because it would be defeated by down state. The prediction proved true.

It is very appropriate that Arlington Heights school district 25 selected Education Week for its important election this Saturday that will provide increased school facilities.

We urge every Arlington resident to go to the polls Saturday.

Over a luncheon table Monday at Old Orchard, we heard some of the men identified with that shopping center express their sympathy for local businessmen of the suburban towns who are taking it on the chins by the increasing number of shopping centers that surround them.

They mentioned, as an example, the empty stores to be found on former choice northside business districts in Chicago. They even expressed their sympathy for Evanston merchants.

We told them those old business areas in Chicago may need their sympathy, likewise Evanston, but the businessmen of our area are so busy fighting for business they have not the time to feel sorry for themselves.

Competition has spurred them to adopt modern merchandising methods. Few empty stores are to be found in our suburbs.

Mt. Prospect Herald last week said something about a small size war that was in the offing of that village over the sidewalk issue. Arlington Heights recently passed through a similar "incident," but nobody called it a "war."

The development of the proposed Carson Pirie Scott & Co. shopping center would be like a golden apple to the coffers of Mt. Prospect. Perhaps the village authorities in planning annexation of the area have their eyes on the municipal luxuries the money could provide.

Top Soprano In Concert Here Friday

A young dramatic soprano, who has won the acclaim of Chicago concert audiences and music critics, will be featured Friday night in a special dedicatory concert at Our Saviour's Lutheran church, State rd. and Olive st., Arlington Heights.

BARBARA LEICHSENRING

Barbara Leichsenring, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Leichsenring of 600 Albion dr., Mount Prospect, will be soloist in the 8 p.m. program which is part of the week-long dedication activities for the new $208,000 church. Rev. John P. Petersen is pastor.

THE CONCERT is open to the public, and admission is free.

Miss Leichsenring's program will include a traditional Hebrew melody, "May the Words of My Mouth;" Bach's "Quia Respexit;' R. Strauss' "Allerseelen" and "Zueignung;" Vaughn-Williams' "Greensleeves;" Taylor's "May-Day Carol;" Hageman's "Do Not Go, My Love;" and Rachmaninoffs "Floods of Spring."

ALSO SCHEDULED for the concert are the Nordic Knights, a male octet which has made numerous concert appearances in the U. S. and Canada, including performances with the Chicago Symphony and Marian Anderson.

The award-winning soprano's debut on the Chicago concert stage last May was hailed by the critics, prompting Roger Dettmer of the American to write: "Basically, Miss Leichsenring's soprano is one of the few really gorgeous voices heard in years — more beautiful, by nature, than Tebaldi's or Meneghini-Callas' even."

Quick Thinking Teen Is Heroine

FLAMES SHOOT OUT upstairs window and smoke pours from side window at height of fire in Arlington Heights last Saturday. Eighteen firemen fought flames, in Walter Munson home at 931 N. Munson, for an hour. Extensively damaged were two bedrooms and storage area.

Susan Munson, at 14, is a heroine.

The young Arlington Heights girl was home alone last Saturday morning with her two-year-old brother when fire broke out in the Munson home at 931 N. Salem.

SUSAN HURRIEDLY closed a door, confining the flames to the upstairs area, then grabbed her baby brother and ran to a neighbor's home.

Her quick thinking was praised this week by Fire Chief Harvey Caruthers.

EIGHTEEN FIREMEN fought the fire an hour before it was brought under control. Damage was estimated at between $6,000 and $7,000 by Walter Munson, owner of the home.

Neighbors saved some of the furniture before the firemen arrived. But two bedrooms upstairs and a storage area were a complete loss. Lost were furnishings and clothing belonging to Susan and her 10-year old brother.

The Munsons, who have owned the home for eight years, are staying in the house until insurance questions are settled. They hope to rent another house or an apartment until rebuilding can be completed.

Fourth Mailbox Explosion Here

A bomb went off in a mailbox last week only two doors away from another box shattered by an explosion days earlier, and brought to four the number of such bombings this year.

Arlington Heights police suspect the bombings are the work of one or more teenage vandals, and have alerted all druggists in the area to be watchful of any youths who may wish to purchase materials for gunpowder. They also cautioned residents of the Arlingdale section, where the explosions have been centered, to be on the lookout for anyone tampering with mailboxes. Do not approach the box, they warned, but call police.

THE BOMB did less damage to the Robert Strelau mailbox than it had to others. Neighbors told Strelau of the explosion when he returned to his home at 1109 W. Wing Friday evening. He called police who found a six-inch steel casing, blasted and torn at both ends, in the mailbox. This, officers said, resembled parts of other bombs found after the three previous explosions.

Police Chief L. W. Calderwood called the bomb "lethal," saying the home-made instrument was capable of killing within several hundred yards. The explosive capabilities of the bombs are seen in the twisted fragments of steel now in police hands.

Monte Carlo Party

An "Evening at Monte Carlo" will be the theme of the November couples party for the Arlington Heights Newcomers club. The party will be held on Saturday, Nov. 15, in the Arlington Crest country club, at 8 p.m. Anyone interested in attending may contact Mrs. Donald Kirkham, CL 5-6272, for information and reservations.

Police End First Aid Training

The accident-prone of Arlington Heights can now rest a little easier, knowing that in a mishap they will be in good hands.

Arlington Heights police will wind up a comprehensive advanced Red Cross first aid instruction course today (Thursday), according to Chief L. W. Calderwood.

The course, instructed by Red Cross Field Worker Polly Duzeski, was stretched over a 10-day period with classes on November 4, 6, 10, and 13. Miss Duzeski instructed all officers in treatment of accident victims and those suffering from sudden attacks of illnesses.

Officers took their examinations Monday, and were graded on the knowledge they gained from each of the four-hour sessions they attended. The 17 policemen taking the course passed "with flying colors," said Miss Duzeski.

Village Considers Purchase Of Blades for Snow Season

If present planning jells, Arlington Heights this winter will experience less trouble with snow-covered streets.

THE VILLAGE board is considering the purchase of two manually-operated blades that attach to the axles of trucks.

According to a folder distributed to members of the board, the blades do about everything but throw a snow ball.

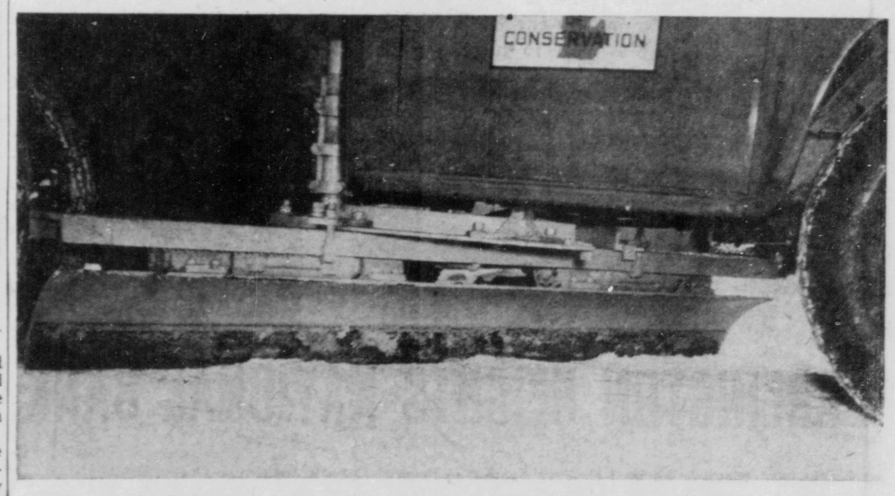
L. A. Hanson, the new village manager who has seen the equipment in use, urged the board to purchase at least two of the blades as a starter. They cost between $800 and $900 each.

The blades, called snow scrapers, can be reversed and raised and lowered from a control panel in the cab of the truck. One of the biggest advantages, Hanson said, is that the blades can be adjusted to scrape within a fraction of an inch of the road. The pneumatic-hydraulic controls and flexible settings permit raising and lowering over uneven areas.

THE BOARD AT its meeting last week expressed interest in the equipment and scheduled further discussions and the possible calling for bids.

The blades would attach to present trucks used by the village's street department.

In most storms, the blades would be able to clear streets of snow. But in the case of heavier storms, Hanson said, the blades would augment the work of a snowplow.



NEW SNOW REMOVAL equipment under consideration by Arlington Heights village board attaches to underside of truck and is operated manually by driver. Scraper's pneumatic-hydraulic action permits reversing, and lowering to street's surface. In heavy snows, equipment would follow plow and clear street surface of all snow and slush.

Trustee Suggests Village Withdrawal of Bank Funds

The continuing controversy over Arlington Heights' Railway Park took a new turn last week.

Trustee Frederick A. Weber suggested in a motion that the village withdraw its funds from the Arlington Heights National Bank, which has spread gravel on a sector of the park for use as a parking lot.

THE MOTION was tabled at the suggestion of Trustee James E. Millay. Consequences of the motion are being studied by the village's authorities.

The Railway Park issue has troubled the trustees for several weeks. It started when the Chicago and North Western ry. severed a lease with the village, then sold two parcels.

An oil company bought one as a filling station site, and the bank bought the other for a parking lot. In the meantime, the village is preparing condemnation proceedings, preparatory to a referendum at which time voters will be asked to decide whether the village should purchase the park.

DISCUSSING his motion this week, Weber said:

"I made the motion and it's part of the record.

"I find it difficult to understand why the bank would go ahead with its gravel spreading when they knew the village's plans for a referendum. They could have waited two or three months."

"In my opinion, we should cooperate with the bank, and the bank should cooperate with us," Weber added.

"They say they put the parking lot in for the convenience of customers. The village is a customer too. A big one."

Weber added, however, that if a break in relations with the bank would create a burden for village administrators that he would withdraw his motion.

THE VILLAGE'S account varies according to tax receipts. Deposits total over $1,000,000 at times.

"It's a very active account," Weber pointed out.

In the meantime, the railroad has told the village it will hold up further sale of any of the other parcels until a referendum is held.

In other board actions, Trustee Wendell Prunty introduced Harvey Caruthers, the village's new fire chief.

A proposal was made and carried to accept bids for a car to be used by L. A. Hanson, the new village manager.

SIDELIGHTS OF ARLINGTON HEIGHTS

The party line was not as busy in Arlington Heights last week as it has been recently but prevailing ideal weather and the wanderlust took over to keep anyone from saying, "My, it's been dull lately." Over the weekend some parents welcomed their children home from college campuses while others were honored guests at the colleges; friends and relatives visited families here and local folk visited out of town. And here and there the party-minded added variety to the spice of life.

A PROGRESSIVE dinner party Saturday night kept four Mt. Prospect and local couples on the move most of the evening. They began with cocktails and hors d'ouvres at the Charles Kleinofens, 627 S. Chestnut, and enjoyed the salad course at 28 S. State rd., where the Dan Mussers' specialty whetted appetites. The Mt. Prospect home of the Leonard Arnolds was the next stop where the main course was served and the final hop across town to the William Hugos provided dessert and coffee.

A few lines of bowling as an after-dinner exercise is the approved method of figure control for six local couples who met at the John Pepios Saturday night for cocktails and an abundant potluck dinner. However, bowling works up an appetite and so it was back to 820 S. Vail for coffee and a late evening snack after the strikes and spares were added up. An old-fashioned songfest concluded the well-varied activities of the group.

SIX NEIGHBORHOOD couples on the 700 block of S. Walnut enjoyed dinner at the Swedish club in Chicago Saturday night, at the same time celebrating a birthday and a wedding anniversary.

The bride and groom of 17 years ago, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Anderson, 701 S. Walnut, hosted the group at pre-dinner cocktails, were toasted in honor of the anniversary occasion by their guests and in turn extended congratulations to Mrs. Edward W. Johnson, 714 S. Walnut, whose birthday was also Saturday. Others in the group were the Robert Sweets, Jerry Biebers, Robert McAllisters and Dr. and Mrs. Ed Benson, all of whom are in favor of a repeat get together whenever an occasion needs celebrating.

Mr. and Mrs. K. N. Hull, 713 S. Dunton, entertained five neighborhood couples in their home Saturday night for a regularly scheduled evening of cards. The group meets once a month and the Hulls neatly sandwiched a 2-week vacation between meetings, recently returning from Austin, Tex., where they visited Mrs. Hull's sister and family, the Cary Palmers.

The G. Howard Telliers, recently of 826 S. Vail and now of Cedar Rapids, spent the weekend as "neighbornood property," to quote Mrs. Tellier, among their former neighbors and friends here. They were the house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Weinrich, 825 S. Vail, who generously "loaned" the Telliers for numerous reunions over the busy weekend.

ONE SURE fire way to get teen-age girls to bed comparatively early on a Saturday night is to let them go to a so-called slumber party Friday night. However, it was just for the fun of it and not because of any such ulterior motives that eight young ladies brought their pillows and giggles to 711 N. Evergreen to spend the night as Nancy Lips' guests.

The previous weekend Mr. and Mrs. Lips were guests at Monmouth college where their daughter, Judy, is in her first year. It was parents' weekend with many special activities planned for the parents' enjoyment including open house at the sororities.

Local friends of the family who have expressed concern for Mrs. Lips' mother, hospitalized for four weeks by a broken leg, will be cheered by the report that Mrs. Duerkop has returned to her Des Plaines home and, although temporarily confined to a wheelchair, is recuperating and hopes to be in a walker soon.

WEEKEND GUESTS of Mr. and Mrs. Carson Scoggins, 717 S. Walnut, were the Cal Johnson family of Cleveland.

Mrs. William Mees of Oshkosh arrived a week ago to visit at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, the H. D. Youngbergs, 500 S. Dunton. Mrs. Mees plans to remain through the Thanksgiving holiday.

The H. T. Lemmons family, 624 S. Walnut, returned Sunday after a 4-day visit with Mrs. Lemmons' brother, Dr. J. D. Heath and his family in Charleston, Ill.

Dr. and Mrs. L. D. Paajanen, 515 S. Mitchell, welcomed Mrs. Paajanen's mother, Mrs. Sophie Cwodzinski of Turtle Lake, Wis., who arrived Sunday to spend a week with her family here.

The V. C. Warfields, 501 W. Euclid, were pleasantly surprised this weekend with the unexpected arrival of their daughter, Gwen, from Des Moines, where she attends Drake university. As any college student knows, there's only one logical course to follow when the chance for a ride home comes up in a hurry, and that's to grab a toothbrush, hop in the car and surprise the folks at home. Gwen did.

MR. AND MRS. B. B. Hieronymus of Rock Island are visiting their daughter and family, the Robert Sweets, 738 S. Walnut.

While the Earl Rileys headed for home from Lawrence, Kan. Monday, Mrs. Riley's sister and family, the Arthur Aslaksens of Woodbridge, N. J. approached 738 S. Mitchell from the opposite direction. The Aslaksens will visit here about a week.

Mr. and Mrs. Riley were returning from a 5-day stay in Lawrence where they attended the homecoming weekend activities at Kansas university, their daughter, Laurie's, college choice. They were joined on the campus by the Harold Gores, family friends from Menlo Park, Cal., and the two families celebrated Mrs. Riley's birthday Sunday.

MRS. FLOYD Terbell, 402 W. Kirchoff rd., recently returned from an "old home week" reunion with three former Arlington Heights neighbors, now in Cleveland and Summit, N. J. She was the house guest in Cleveland of the Paul Cromm[illegible] vided her time in Ohio between her hosts and the C. Byron Crains. Both families were neighbors on the 800 block of S. Mitchell and left for new homes in Cleveland within weeks of each other late last year.

In New Jersey, a third former S. Mitchell family, the James Kuykendalls, welcomed Mrs. Terbell who returned home with greetings from all three former Arlington Heights families to their friends here.

This weekend the Terbells daughter, Sarajane, enjoyed her first visit home since she began her studies at Iowa State university at Iowa City.

COLORADO STATE university alumni Mr. and Mrs. George Sandy, 515 S. Chestnut, returned by train last Thursday after a trip to Colorado for the homecoming weekend at the university in Ft. Collins. Visits with friends and relatives rounded out a full week's activities for them. Mrs. Sandy's cousins, the Thane Turners, hosted them during the homecoming weekend and Sunday they were guests of honor at a family reunion at the home of a family friend, Mrs. Phoebe Clark in Loveland.

Among the guests were Mr. Sandy's brother, Raymond, and his family, also of Loveland, and their sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Balkenbush of Denver. Mr. and Mrs. Sandy returned to Denver with the Balkenbushes to spend a few days with them and with former Arlington Heights residents, the Carl Beckers of nearby Wheatridge, who send back greetings to their friends here.

A farewell family supper for 40 at the Joe Muran home, 1319 N. Dunton, Sunday evening honored Mrs. Muran's brother and sister-in-law, the Nick Herffs of Los Angeles who have been visiting with members of both families in the area. Mr. and Mrs. Herff spent two weeks here and returned to California Monday.

IN CELEBRATION of their 25th wedding anniversary, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. LeMeilleur entertained 40 guests Saturday with a cocktail party and buffet dinner in their home at 1009 W. Miner. Dancing and singing old time songs furnished the evening's etnrteainment. The couple's daughter, Cherie, was among the guests, as were several friends from St. Louis.

Alan Purvis, son of the Charles Purvises, 506 N. Pine, took advantage of the long weekend holiday for students by traveling to Houghton, Mich. where he visited Donald and Charles Stadelman, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stadelman, 503 N. Belmont. The boys attend Michigan Tech.

MR. AND MRS. Frank Csar, 201 W. Orchard, attended the American Finance conference at the Palmer House last week, enjoying the social activities as well as the business sessions of the 3-day conference.

Also attending the Finance conference was Ralph Paxton, 102 S. Brighton, who was joined by Mrs. Paxton Saturday evening for the banquet in the grand ballroom. The Paxton family recently moved here from Pacific Palisades, Cal., when Mr. Paxton was transferred to the Chicago executive office of Pacific Finance. Mrs. Paxton and the children, Nola and Kim, are looking forward to their very first white Christmas; neither of the children has ever seen snow.

MR. AND MRS. L. Kussow and on, Jim, 1203 Woodford, recently returned from Peoria, where they visited their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Peterson.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas K. Reis, 348 Wilshire, spent the weekend in Pittsburgh where they were joined by friends and former neighbors from Cleveland, the Reis' former home. The Reises and their friends all attended the Pittsburgh-Notre Dame football game Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward R. Klamm, 1200 Woodford, entertained friends for cocktails Saturday before attending the Stonegate dinner dance at Itasca country club.

A group of friends also met in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Otis Means Jr., 1101 Mayfair, for cocktails before the dance.

MR. AND MRS. Charles Barton, 321 S. Windsor, recently spent four days in Cleveland, where they attended the convention of the National Association of Assessing Officers. The Bartons' 14-year-old son, Michael, a freshman at Loyola academy in Wilmette, was happy to announce to his parents that he made the junior varsity basket ball team.

Lorena Ann Strobel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Strobel, 1319 Mayfair, celebrated her fourth birthday November 8, with a party for four friends.

Another Stonegate younster celebrating his birthday was Kim Paxton, the Ralph Paxtons' son, who was 5 years old November 5. Guests sharing his birthday party were Martha and Matthew Schoen, Mike Brierton, the Belden children, Beth, Bill and Bobby, and Nola Paxton. Highlight of the party was the electric train Kim received from his parents, and the children spent hours at playing "engineers."

MRS. C. S. Cline, 415 Belmont, attended the annual reunion of the Lloyd Cousins Tours held November 1 in the Evanston home of Lloyd Cousins. Mrs. Cline was accompanied by Mrs. Edward Martin of Mt. Prospect and Miss Kathryn Burns of Lansing, Mich., a former college friend who toured Europe this summer with Mrs. Cline.

There were many members of the summers tour present as well as travelers from previous years and the day was a full one, starting with breakfast at their host's home and luncheon at the Tally Ho in Evanston.

During the afternoon Mrs. Cline joined others in showing slides taken during their visits in the British Isles, Holland, Belgium, Germany, Switzerland, Italy and France. Mrs. Cline, who was born Camborne, Cornwall, England, visited her birthplace during her visit abroad, enjoys renewing the scenes at the reunions.

MISS LINDA Hardison, daughter of Mr. andMrs. J. B. Hardison, 347 Burton, celebrated her 13th birthday November 5, with a dinner party at the Elks club in Des Plaines. Her guests were Dee Dee Drumtra, Kathy Wallace and Gail Hardison. An organist played while Linda shared her birthday cake with her guests.

Miss Gail Hardison celebrated her 12th birthday November 12 with a dinner party at the Elks club. She had as her guests Mr. and Mrs. Arney Pedersen of Des Plaines.

Mrs. Charles E. Geerdts is visiting at the home of her son and family, the George Geerdts, 114 S. Brighton.

Susan Whalen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Whalen, 534 S. Pine, returned home Thursday from St. Francis hospital, Evanston, where she underwent major surgery.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Clabaugh, 510 S. Beverly, spent the weekend in Bloomington, Ind., visiting their daughter, Judy, a student at Indiana university. They attended the Indiana-Michigan game and saw Judy perform as cheerleader for Indiana.

DR. AND MRS. Roland A. Jacobson, 817 S. State road, recently returned from a 2-week vacation island-hopping in the Caribbean. They visited Jamaica, Haiti and Puerto Rico, and spent a week at Caneel Bay Plantation on St. Johns Island in the Virgin Islands.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Miller, 639 S. Lincoln lane, recently gave a dinner and bridge party for Mr. and Mrs. Ray B. Allen, who will soon leave Arlington Heights for their new home in New Orleans.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Conley, 417 S. Lincoln, and their children, Donald and Debbie, flew to Louisville, where they spent the weekend visiting their cousins, the D. A. Shays.

A surprise birthday party was held November 7 for Bob Fred H. Schultz Jr., 630 Newbury. Schultz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Schultz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Schultz home, and then went bowling, after which all returned for supper. (A

Suburbs Praised For 'Arm of Help'

A Spanish-American, who rose above a third grade education to become one of the country's most successful businessmen, had words of encouragement for over 125 associates Sunday evening at Old Orchard Country club.

FELIX TIJERINA, president of the League for United Latin American Citizens, addressed the group at a community dinner sponsored jointly by the Bensenville council of LULAC and Opportunity Council, an organization formed last March to study problems involving Latin Americans and other minority groups in the northwest suburbs.

The Texas restaurant chain owner told the assemblage that "because you (the Opportunity council and LULAC) extended an arm of help to these few people (Latin American citizens), the community will be repaid threefold."

He described problems of educating Spanish-speaking Americans in Texas and urged that the groups "help their fellow Americans to get an education. This is the means to success," he said.

OTHER distinguished guests at the dinner were the Hon. Fidencio Guerra, district judge from McAllen, Texas; and Alfred J. Hernandez, regional LULAC governor for Texas and toastmaster for the evening.

Rudy Perales, district governor of LULAC, Gerald M. Chapman, past president of the Northwest Family Service association, and Willis J. Jensen, president of Opportunity Council also addressed the group.

A highlight of the evening was presentation of honorary membership certificates in LULAC to Charles Hayes, managing editor of Paddock Publications; Katherine McFeely, Elk Grove teacher; and John F. Sicks, Wheeling business executive, for their contributions twoards the betterment "of the relationship of Mexican-Americans and their neighbors in the northwest suburbs."

WORD STUDY

"Use a word three times and it is yours.' Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day. Words for this lesson:

Asperity; harshness; roughness; rigor; inclemency. "He treated his followers with asperity."

Anathema; a solemn ban or curse pronounced by ecclesiastical authority, and accompanied by excommunication; hence, denunciation of anything as accursed. (Pronounce a-nath-ee-mah, accent second syllable. "At one time in our history, collective bargaining was the businessman's anathema."

Aggressor; one who begins hostility. "We know who was the aggressor in this quarrel." (B12

HONORARY MEMBERSHIPS in the League of United Latin American Citizens were presented to three residents of northwest suburbs Sunday night at a community dinner in Old Orchard Country Club, Mount Prospect. The memberships were presented by Houston, Tex., businessman Felix Tijerina (right), national president of the League, in recognition of the suburbanites' contributions toward helping Mexican-American citizens. New LULAC members are (left to right) John F. Sicks, 268 E. Dundee rd., Wheeling, member of the Opportunity Council; Mrs. Clifford McFeely, 106 S. George, Mount Prospect, director of the council's adult night school; and Charles E. Hayes, 36 S. Highland, Arlington Heights, managing editor of Paddock Publications, Inc.

CIVIC LEADERS attended a community dinner Sunday night in Old Orchard Country Club, Mount Prospect, under auspices of the Opportunity Council, Inc., and League of United Latin American Citizens. The dinner served as a "progress report" on how northwest suburbs are solving problems of Mexican-American citizens in this area. Speakers included (left to right) Felix Tijerina, national president of LULAC; Hon. Fidencio Guerra, District Judge of McAllen, Tex.; Alfred J. Hernandez, Houston, Tex., attorney and LULAC Regional Governor for Texas; Mrs. George Bailey, program chairman of Opportunity Council and member of the Governor's Commission on Migratory Labor; Gerald M. Chapman, past president of Northwest Family Service; Rudy Perales, LULAC District Governor for northwest suburbs; and Willis J. Jensen, president of Opportunity Council, Inc.

'Welcome Whirl' Dance Is Nov. 21

WELCOMING ST. JAMES parish newcomers and inviting them to the Welcome Whirl dance, is Barney Malburg, a parishoner for over 20 years. The newcomers, Roseann and George Sexton, moved here in October. Seated are Sue and Jim Murphy, dance chaircouple.

St. James Catholic church, Arlington Heights, is presenting a Welcome Whirl dance Friday, Nov. 21, at Chevy Chase Country club, according to Gene Schlickman, publicity chairman.

The dance, called by Schlickman, "the first of its kind," is planned to bring old and new members of the parish together, ae well as former parishoners and friends of St. James.

Like the village of Arlington Heights, said Schlickman, St. James has grown at a rapid rate in recent years. So much so, he says, that three other parishes were established to relieve it. But St. James is still expanding, about 30 families a month, and it is faced with the problem of having the old and new parishoners become acquainted with one another. To help correct this, and provide an enjoyable evening for all, said Schlickman, the Welcome Whirl is being planned.

DANCING WILL BE augmented with barbershop quartet and community singing. The dance committee will be under the direction of Rev. John Lane, assistant pastor. The committee includes: Jim and Sue Murphy, chaircouple in charge of tickets (Cl 3-1957); Bob and Marguerite Scott, treasurers; Joe and Georgia Schneller, prizes; Don and Betty Kresbach, entertainment; Dee and Norma Kemp and Jack and Kay Summers, floor and arrangements; and Gene and Margaret Schlickman, publicity.

Committees will be assisted by Bill and Mary Bergen, Margaret and Joe Lalor, Frank and Norine Cowan, Matt and Hazel Dietrich, Jerry and Ann Mockenhaupt, Bill and Inah Hessler, and Bob and Joy Wakefield. (A

Nurses Club Marks 20th Year At Rustic Manor

The Rustic Manor in Gurnee was the meeting place for 49 members of the Arlington Heights Nurses Club Inc. recently in celebration of their 20th anniversary. At the dinner nine of the original charter members were present and were given corsages of white carnations for the occasion.

Mrs. Albert Peters gave the invocation. Mrs. Charles Bloecker, one of the founders, gave a talk on the organization of the nurses club and why it was needed in 1938 as it is today. Following the talks, Mr. Albert Peters, Mrs. Eric Seitz and Mrs. James Drake sang and led members in group singing, accompanied by Mrs. Mark Johnson. (A

Camp Fire Girls to Sponsor 'Rumpelstiltskin' Play

For the third consecutive year, Arlington Heights Camp Fire Girls will sponsor the final presentation of Village Theatre's production of the annual children's play. This year's offering of "Rumpelstiltskin" will play to an audience of over 500 Blue Birds, Camp Fire Girls and friends at the 5 p.m. performance Sunday, Nov. 23, in the Miner Junior high school auditorium.

Although this event is one of several ways and means projects for the Arlington Heights district of Camp Fire Girls, the Village Theatre's children's play has been greeted on all sides with such enthusiasm, as being a delightful group theatre party on a mass scale.

Money derived from the sale of tickets is used to obtain a greater variety of programming and necessary equipment for over 400 registered girls and adult workers in the local organization.

SIGNIFICANT of the type and scope of privileges available to the 7 to 9 year old Blue Birds and the 10 to 14 year old Camp Fire Girls are the monthly district-wide events offered to the girls in addition to several Council-wide sponsored activities throughout the year. The girls also participate in a nation-wide annual project.

Arlington Heights district is noted for its interesting and unusual summer day camp program which brings the top talent and training to the girls of the area. Camp Tiyalaka in Westfield, Wis. is the organization's resident camp.

Chairman for this year's theatre party is Mrs. Gordon Martin, 1409 N. Yale ave., Arlington Heights. Information regarding the sale and distribution of tickets may be obtained from her at CLearbrook 5-8483. (A

Milwaukee College Male Chorus Here

HOLLY WIEBER practices her interpretation of the Charleston which she will perform on the Little Stars Show, WGN-TV, Sunday, Nov. 16, at 11:30 a. m. She is a member of Delores Eiler's Tot and Teen entertainers and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Wieber, 903 S. Ioka, Mt. Prospect. On the November 2 Little Stars Show, Barbara Settle, Mt. Prospect, also of the Delores Eiler dancing school, won second place doing a novelty dance called Dungaree Doll.

When the Concordia college male chorus appears in concert at St. Peter Lutheran church, Arlington Heights, on November 21, it will present a varied program of choral works representing an international group of composers renowned in the history and field of sacred music.

Works of English, German, Welch, Italian, and Russian composers will be heard on the program.

THE VISIT by the chorus will bring 40 singers to Arlington Heights under the direction of Prof. James E. Engel, chairman of the department of music at Concordia college, Milwaukee. The complete chorus numbers 80 singers. The tour choir consists of chorus members selected by Prof. Engel on the basis of extensive experience and superior ability.

Concordia college is a preministerial liberal arts school operated by the Lutheran Church —Missouri Synod.

Prominent on the November 21 program is a group of chorales, or hymn tunes, from the vast treasury of Lutheran song. This group includes "What God ordains is always good," "Now rest beneath night's shadow," and "When o'er my sins I sorrow." The first of these will be sung as an anniversary number commemorating the work of the author, Samuel Rodigast, who died 250 years ago. Rodigast, a German university professor, lived from 1649 to 1708.

A sixteenth century English composer, Christopher Tye, will be represented by the motet "O come, ye servants of the Lord!" The chorus will also sing a Welsh hymn tune, "Immortal, Invisible," arranged by G. Winston Cassler.

THE GROUP of Russian songs includes "Salvation belongeth to our God," by Paul Tchesnokov; "Lord, now lettest Thou Thy servant depart," by A. Gretchaninof; and "To Thee we sing." The last of these is based on the liturgy of the Russian Church and has been arranged by Pete D. Tkach.

A work of the Italian composer Antonio Lotti will be heard in a Latin anthem entitled "Crucifixus."

German compositions to be presented on the program include "Praise Him" and "Jesu, Joyance of my heart," both by J. S. Bach; "Christ, to Thee be glory" and "Sing praise to our glorious Lord," both by Heinrich Schuetz; "O sons and daughters," by Volckmar Leisring; and "World, farewell," by Johann Rosenmueller. The program will also include a compostion by G. G. Haendel, "In Thee, O Lord, have I trusted."

The work of the male chorus is one of the prominent activities in the music department of Concordia college. Members join on a voluntary basis but are held to a rigorous program of work. Rehearsals are held at least three times per week. Last spring the choir's concert tour itinerary extended through midwestern states and Eastern Canada. (ACM

'Y' Business Girls Club To Entertain Servicemen

The new business girls club, known as the "Y" Service organization, of Northwest suburban YMCA is giving its first party and dance for service men of the nearby bases November 14 at the South Park field house, Des Plaines. Men have been invited from the bases at Fort Sheridan, Arlington Heights, O'Hare, Palatine and Lombard.

The name of the party will be the "Fall Flip." The program will include mixers and special entertainment in the form of a western dance, "The Walker," by Karen and Donna Brodahl of Arlington Heights. Music will be furnished by a combo from the Arlington Heights base, "First Century Trio," and refreshments will be served.

The party will be open only to those servicemen and girls invited.

SINCE ORGANIZING the club, the girls have given a Halloween party for O'Hare field, have been invited to Fort Sheridan twice, the USO once and Arlington Heights twice. Besides entertaining men at these bases the club calendar calls for a project for the Childrens Foundling home, the Hines hospital and helping the local "Y" in its World Service carnival.

Young unmarried women between the ages of 18-35 from Des Plaines, Arlington Heights, Mt. Prospect and other neighboring communities are invited to join. Meetings are held the second Tuesday of each month.

OFFICERS OF the group are Jean Wilke, Des Plaines, president; Donna Brodahl, Arlington Heights, vice president; Carol Schuller, Des Plaines, secretary; Frances Cook, Park Ridge, treasurer.

For information concerning this club Mrs. Louise Deyman may be called at the 'Y' office, VA. 4-4156. (AM

New England Film, Talk Scheduled for Tuesday

The Travel and Adventure series will hold its second lecture of the season in the theatre at Prospect high school Tuesday, Nov. 18, at 8 p.m. with the showing of Donald Shaw's film on "New England, Our American Heritage." Single admissions are available when space permits.

Departing somewhat from the usual travel-lecture presentation, Dr. Shaw's lecture includes the historical foundations of the American scene, and interprets the development of new England through its early background to its modern scenes, while missing none of the scenic beauty of the seasons.

A RECONSTRUCTED pioneer village with the seventeenth century homes of the first settlers and their primitive way of living, the story of the Revolution from Concord Bridge to the shrines of Boston set the stage for the trip, followed by modern industrial scenes, the shipping and fishing industries and the world famed academic institutions.

The history in the film does not overshadow the spirit of adventure and beauty of the six New England states, the whaling ships, lobster fishing, the ascent to Mt. Washington on the cog railway, wilderness camps in northern Maine, harvesting maple syrup in Vermont, and harpooning swordfish off Martha's Vineyard.

HISTORY and adventure combined with beauty provide exciting contrasts. In a region noted for its beautiful residences Dr. Shaw captured for his audience the early American homes at Nantucket, the mansions of Beacon Hill, the Vanderbilt estate at Newport, the summer homes at Bar Harbor, as well as country villages, white church spires, covered bridges, lighthouses and homes on the promontories of the rock-bound coasts.

Now a specialist in travel and photography, Dr. Shaw has a background as educator and writer, having taught at the University of Southern California and served as president of the California Council for Adult Education as well as writing for national publications, including Pageant, Mechanix Illustrated, and This Week. In addition to his excellent travel films he has also produced industrial and commercial films, and served as civilian speech writer to the general who organized the Berlin Air Lift. (ACM

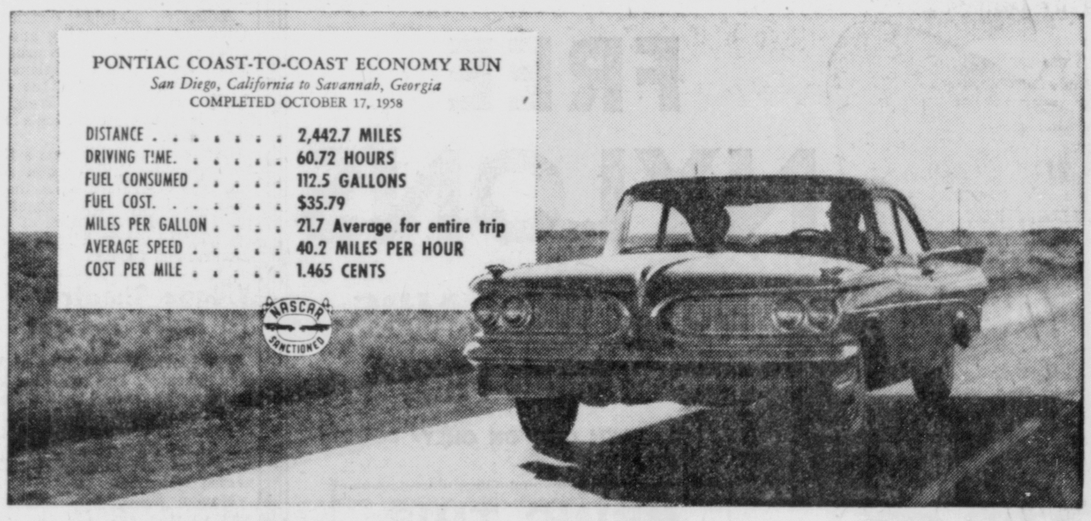
COAST TO COAST ONLY 1½ CENTS PER MILE FOR GAS!

Pontiac's new Tempest 420E V-8 sets the year's most important economy mark—Here's the story and what it means to you!



We asked one of America's most respected car testers—"Uncle Tom" McCahill—to put a standard Pontiac Catalina Sedan with our new economy V-8 to the test.

And with only one specification—that the run would be exactly like you would drive coast to coast yourself—in mountains, in city traffic, across deserts, buying gas wherever the tank ran low.

And here's the phenomenal story in every complete detail—all officially certified by NASCAR, America's top automobile competition authority.

What does it mean to you?

Simply—and very importantly—this: For the first time, you can get deep-chested V-8 pep with better mileage than from many smaller so-called "economy cars" . . . and get it on regular fuel!

High School Set To Stage Messiah

MISS RILEY

Miss Alice Riley, soprano, who was chosen "Singer of the Year —1957" in national competition by the National Association of Teachers of Singing, has accepted the difficult solo assignment in the Arlington high school presentation of Handel's Messiah on Sunday, Dec. 7. She was also chosen "Best Woman Singer" in the Chicagoland Music Festival in 1954.

Miss Riley has been soloist in Orchestra hall with the Swedish Choral club — in Grant park, singing the Beethoven's Ninth Symphony—in performances of the Messiah, Verdi's Requiem and Elijah with the Euterpean Oratorio chorus, Chicago — and other oratorio appearances throughout the Middlewest. Her many solo appearances have always evoked warm praise from the music critics. Chapel Hill, N. C.: "A big voice of purity and rich tonal color." Charlotte, N. C.: "Miss Riley captured her audience from the very first and held it spellbound." Alvin R. Edgar, director of music, Iowa State college: "Voice was thrilling in it's perfection."

FRED C. Schmoyer, director of music at Arlington high school, announced this week that orchestra rehearsals and massed church choirs rehearsals for the Messiah would begin Sunday afternoon, Nov. 16, in the high school. The orchestra will rehearse in Room 227, beginning at two o'clock. Access to the building for orchestra personnel will be through the third door north of Euclid on Walnut. The chorus Theater beginning at 3:15 p.m. The regular theater entrance off of Ridge ave. will be used by chorus personnel.

All adults of the high school district are welcome to sing in the chorus. Membership in a church choir is not a requisite for singing in the Messiah chorus. However, many of the area church choirs have indicated an interest in this community effort, Schmoyer said. He urged those choirs who have not yet contacted him to report at this first rehearsal Sunday afternoon.

There is still an urgent need for more adult string players in the orchestra, Schmoyer said.

Successive rehearsals will be held November 16, 23, and 30. The same time schedule will be in effect for all Sunday rehearsals, and a final rehearsal will be held on Thursday evening, Dec. 4, at which time the adult choirs and all high school choruses will meet with the orchestra.

Thanksgiving Day Lesson-Sermon

A special lesson-sermon entitled "Thanksgiving" will be featured at the Thanksgiving day service announced by Christian Schience Society, Palatine, 11 a. m.

The Lesson-Sermon consists of selections from the King James Version of the Bible and from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy. It will emphasize the importance of living one's gratitude to God. (AMP

the HARRIS huddle

GEORGE HARRIS

This is ole' "premature Pappy" Harris coming at you this week, telling you to do your Christmas shopping early. I had an uncle who used to do his Christmas shopping REAL EARLY (before the stores were open); he gets out next month!

Seriously though, why don't you start getting some of your Christmas shopping out of the way and not get into that hectic rush you usually encounter. At Harris Pharmacy we have so many items that make wonderful Gifts and you can take care of so many loved ones at the same time. I'm certain that most of you would like to have your shopping done early, so why not make it a point to do so this year. You are always welcome at Harris Pharmacy, and we have personnel who are qualified to help you with your Christmas shopping.

Make Harris Pharmacy your Christmas H. Q. and get most of your shopping for the Yuletide out of the way early — you'll be happy that you did!

Donut Day

Camp Fire Girls clad in colorful red, white and blue costumes sold glazed donuts throughout the Chicago area, November 11.

The occasion was the annual Donut day of the Chicago Area council of Camp Fire Girls.

Proceeds from the sale go toward support of the Camp Fire Girls program, which serves more than 9,000 Chicago area girls between the ages of 7 and 17.

Carl Burling, 801 S. Hamlin ave., Park Ridge, head of the arrangements committee for Donut day, said: "People who purchased donuts on November 11 were performing a real public service by helping the Chicago Area council of Camp Fire Girls to continue and expand its program."

Camp Fire Girls and Blue Birds, the younger group within the organization, were dressed in white blouses, navy blue skirts and hats, with jackets or boleros and red ties. The donuts were in newly designed blue and white boxes inscribed with the Camp Fire Girls insignia.

Council leaders, parents and interested adults accompanied the girls in their rounds of downtown office buildings, railroad stations, and neighborhood areas.

Council Assistant Treasurer

Ralph Sandeen, a graduate of the University of Michigan, is one of the reasons for the efficient service we get from the Illinois Bell Telephone Company's traffic department.

When he served as chairman of the council camping committee, he did a wonderful piece of work and has given yeoman service at Camp Tiyalaka work weekends many, many times. There he has trimmed trees, cleared out hazelbrush, painted, planted trees and other assorted items of vegetation and is a steak broiler par excellence.

As training for his new job of Chicago Area Council's assistant treasurer, Sandeen has given many hours assisting with the doughnut sales, he has served on the council finance committee and worked on the Wampum Roundup.

Sandeen lives at 21 S. George st., Mt. Prospect, where his wife has long been active in Camp Fire. A daughter, Anne, and a son, Perry, complete the family.

Arlington Heights

At the regular meeting of the district committee held Tuesday, November 4, camping chairman, Mrs. M. R. Kephart announced the plans for the 1959 summer day camp program directed by Mrs. Fred Heiden. The first of several girl-planning committee meetings will be held Wednesday, Nov. 19 at 3:45 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Irvin Harris, 717 S. Belmont, Scarsdale. One or two girls from each Camp Fire group and one girl from each Blue Bird group should be selected to represent their respective groups at this all-important first meeting. The purpose of the girl-planning committee is to have the group's thoughts and requests for the summer camping program presented by the chosen representative. In this manner, it does not become an adult-planned program, but rather an adult-guided program. Last year's Camp Welasi was representative of this fact. An overwhelming majority of registered Camp Fire Girls and Blue Birds asked for Indian ceremonial dances. The procurement of Ernest (Eagle Plume) Naquayouma, Hopi Indian Chief, not only satisfied the girls desire for instruction in the art of ancient ceremonial dances, but gave them an added interest in Indian lore with Chief Eagle Plume's authorative talk and demonstration on the Hopi Kachina dolls.

Several leaders and members of the district committee enjoyed an informal luncheon, November 5 at Dick's Corral, feting Miss Miriam Dedeian, field director from the Chicago Area Council. Hosting the honored guest were: Mrs. George Currier, Mrs. Richard Hoppe, Mrs. Charles W. Johnson, Mrs. Donald Knutsen, Mrs. Robert Nicol, Mrs. Gayle Oberlin and Mrs. Louis M. Schomburg.

Elukocita Camp Fire Girls held an unusual Mother and Dad party Saturday morning, November 8 at Beverly Lanes. The 14 girls and their parents took over the bowling alleys for a try at the sport and although merriment was the keynote of the event, many a stiff muscle was noted later in the day. Returning to Forest View school, the partygoers enjoyed cookies, brownies, and coffee prepared by the girls as a requirement of their wood gatherers rank. Invitations depicting a bowling ball with party details were made the previous Thursday at the group's regular meeting. (B8

Round 'n About Westgate

Paul Van Dellen, 8 S. Yale, has recently become a member of the St. Mark Lutheran church, Mt. Prospect.

Doreen Logsdon, the daughter of Shirley and George Logsdon, 14 S. Yale, celebrated her eighth birthday October 23 with a party. Girls enjoying cake, ice cream, and games were Paula Van Dellen, Kathy Gaare, Kathy McVicker, Linda Nendel, Chris Anderson and Judy and Joy Travis.

October 24 a teen party was given at the home of Joe Corrado, 201 S. Wilke. Pizza and pop were served to the 35 guests and dancing was enjoyed. Joe is the son of Virginia and Frank Corrado.

November 8 marked the seventh birthday of Paula Van Dellen. Guests who helped her celebrate included Kathy Gaare, Doreen Logsdon, Linda Nendel, Marsha Myer and Judy and Joy Travis. They enjoyed cake, ice cream and games. Due to illness, Kathy McVicker and Chris Anderson were unable to attend.

OCTOBER 30 A Halloween party was given at the homes of Renee Johnston, 1505 W. Euclid, and Michael Madden, 1501 W. Euclid. The young guests coming dressed in costumes were Sheryl and Michael Smith, Kirk Verbeck, Barbara and Moreen Callahan, Judy and Linda Miller, Cissy and Cathy Johnston and Barbara and Steven Madden. At Renee's house the guests enjoyed a ghost town, and at Michael's they ducked for apples and had cocoa and doughnuts. Renee is the daughter of Fran and Bill Johnston. Michael is the son of Lois and John Madden.

Eight couples enjoyed the Halloween costume party given at the home of Louise and Ken Smith, 1515 W. Euclid, Halloween night. Among them were Jeanne and Ed Huster, Fran and Bill Johnston, Arlene and Mary Verbeck, Carolyn and Dick Burkett and Bert and Andy Graczyk from Westgate One. Couples living outside of Westgate were the Steve Grimms from Plum Grove Estates, Phil Brachts from Virginia Terrace and the Orv Boltes from Arlingdale.

Recently spending a weekend with Louise and Ken Smith, 1515 W. Euclid, were Ken's mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Smith of Detroit.

Fran and Bill Johnston, 1505 W. Euclid, had as a recent overnight guest Fran's brother, Lt. Charles F. Weishar of Warrington, Va. (A

Assessor Catches Up with Bi-Level

The Cook county assessor's office is catching up with the age of mechanization and bi-level homes.

It is in fact about to add the bi-level home to its appraiser's manual.

The office is busy preparing its 1959 appraiser's manual, the first one in 23 years to contain major changes.

CONTRARY TO popular opinion the assessment of real estate is much more than guesswork, according to Ernest Sirois, coordinator for the Cook county assessor's office.

A field assessor in Cook county usually has a sound background in real estate and engineering, says Sirois.

The old manual contained 28 different building classifications. The new one will include several new ones, including the bi-level, in keeping up with recent architectural trends.

Following the manual, the field assessor considers such things as construction material, age, frontage, composition of the roof, number of finished rooms, type of heating system, number of baths, and whether or not your bathroom is tiled.

The office is also modernizing its billing procedure, says Sirois.

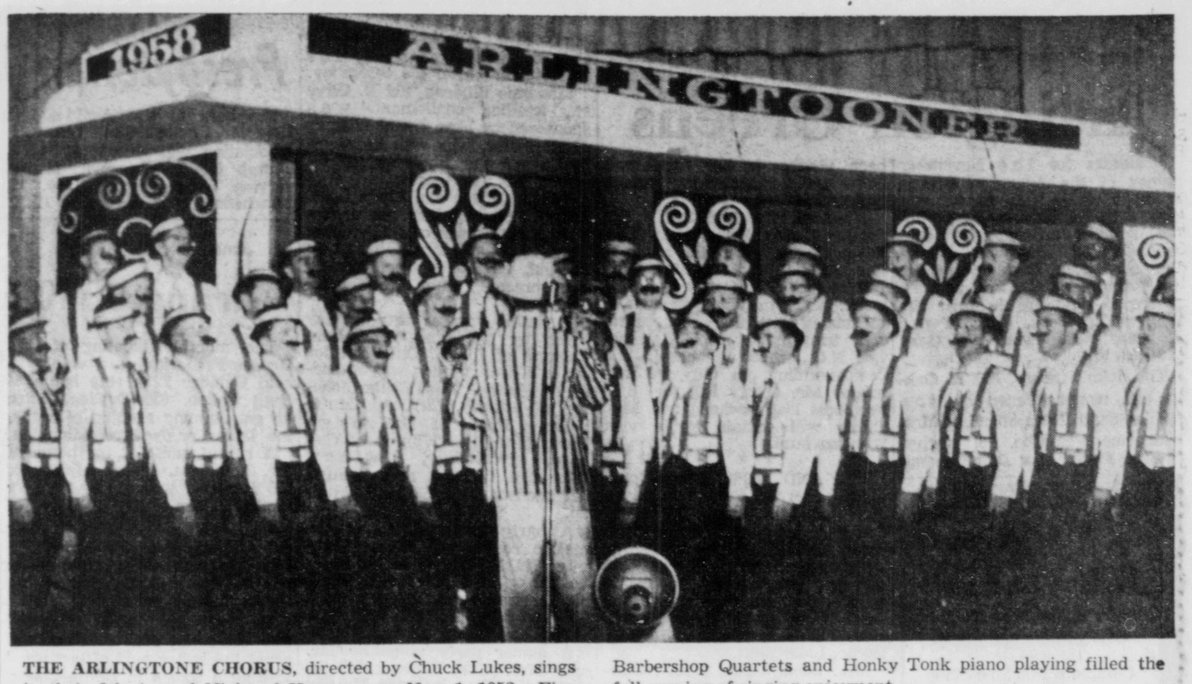
SO WHEN YOU get your 1958 assessment bill sometime after April 1, 1959 don't be concerned if it no longer describes your property in detail.

From now on your property will have a permanent property code number to be used on your bill instead of your property's description, according to Sirois.

This will enable all bills, formerly made out by hand, to be computed mechanically.



THE ARLINGTONE CHORUS, directed by Chuck Lukes, sings in their 8th Annual Night of Harmony on Nov. 1, 1958. Five Barbershop Quartets and Honky Tonk piano playing filled the full evening of singing enjoyment.

North Palatine

Brownie troop 221, under the leadership of Mrs. Erik H. Skaglund and Mrs. Robert Johnson, chose as a service project, to share their tricks and treat Halloween candy with the children of the Lydia Children's Home in Chicago.

The home of Leader Mrs. D. V. Sargol, was the scene of a Halloween costume party held by troop 301 the evening of October 24. The girls made and prepared all the decorations, favors and refreshments for the occasion. Each scout brought a guest. A play and appropriate games were the entertainment. Refreshments were served at the end of the festivities.

North Arlington

Troop 21, St. James school, was selected by the nuns of the Addolorata Villa to entertain their ladies in residence on October 30. The girls put on skits and dances and made the evening a true Halloween eve in their costumes and masks. Refreshments were served to the girls by the nuns.

Rolling Meadows

October 24 troop 37 went on a hay ride with their co-leaders, Mrs. Perry Mann and Mrs. Emmer. After the ride the girls went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Newburg for hot chocolate and donuts.

A pumpkin-carving contest was the highlight of the meeting held October 29 by troop 37. Prizes were awarded for the funniest and most original pumpkin face. After the contest the girls played games.

Girl scouts of troop 436 enjoyed a picnic at Elk Grove October 29. Each girl brought her own lunch and thr troop made hot trees and plants for their second class rank. Accompanying the troop were leaders, Mrs. Harry Schneider and Mrs. Jack Yarbrough, and two committee members, Mrs. A. J. Rush and Mrs. Steve Eberhard.

COMMITTEE MOTHERS of troop 357 gave a Halloween party for the girls at the home of Mrs. Mills October 29. Mrs. Kennedy, Mrs. Mills and Mrs. Lachner, the committee, provided games, refreshments and prizes. Troop leaders are Mrs. Raymond Werer and Mrs. Clyde Mesics.

November 2, troop 357 and 89 enjoyed a hayride and wiener roast at Half Day. The girls were accompanied by the leaders, Mrs. H. Siewenie and Mrs. G. Siewenie of troop 89, Mrs. Raymond Werer and Mrs. Clyde Mesics of troop 357, Mr. and Mrs. "Doc" Paeglow, George Siewenie, Mrs. Mills, Mrs. J. Mueller, Mrs. Raymond Werer and Mr. Clyde Mesics.

Park College Singers Give Concert Here

A young man from Prospect Heights will be in the group when the Park Singers present a concert in Mt. Prospect November 21 at 8 p.m. He is Charles Watson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hilary Watson, one of 30 talented young men and women from Park college, Kansas City, Mo., who will sing at the South church in a concert sponsored by the South church chancel choir and the adult choir of the Community Presbyterian church in cooperation with the Park College Alumni Association.

A RECEPTION for singers and audience will follow the concert. The group will also sing in the afternoon of the same day at Lincoln and Central junior high schools in Mt. Prospect.

Organized in 1951 by five Park college students who wished to contribute their services as entertainers to veterans' hospitals, the group has grown rapidly, is now limited in number, and includes students who sing for the fun of it but are carefully selected and rigorously trained. Kenneth F. Seipp is conductor and accompanist for the Singers who often appear on television, and on the current annual tour will be heard in St. Louis, Peoria, and Quincy.

Everyone is invited to hear the Singers in Mt. Prospect, their only appearance in the Chicago area. There will be no admission charge. For further information phone Mrs. William Mott, CL. 3-6127.

DID YOU KNOW THAT...

There are only 5 "Service" Stations for all of Moscow's 5 million inhabitants

● The sketch above was copied from a photo of one of Moscow's 5 "service" stations.

Even at these few filling stations, service is non-existent and gasoline is rationed. That's what you can expect when all industry is controlled by the State. In the U. S., with a privately-managed oil industry, more than 180,000 service stations compete for the motorist's business. As a result you get the world's finest oil products at lowest prices.

That's just one reason why all of us in America's competitive oil business take pride in the progress of our industry and in the part we play to make this progress possible.

A NUMBER of children from the Greens were among the more than 300 who were confirmed at St. James Catholic church November 4. Among them were Diane Ravas, 1102 N. Beverly lane, whose sponsor, an aunt, Mrs. Arnold Jackson of Chicago, joined the family for refreshments after the ceremony.

Madeline Bludeau, 811 E. Olive st., another confirmant, was sponsored by Mrs. Donal Wismer of Elmhurst, who with her family, joined the Bludeaus for refreshments afterwards.

Both Kathleen and Linda Loos, 1170 N. Beverly lane, were confirmed and sponsored by Mrs. Bert Kamp and Mrs. Charles Freund, neighbors, who enjoyed refreshments after the ceremony.

A buffet supper party Sunday given by Mr. and Mrs. Pete Johnson of 709 E. Olive st., for Susan's confirmation was attended by Mr. and Mrs. Walter Johnson of Antioch, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Press of LaGrange Park, Mrs. Rita William of Chicago, grandfather, Matthew Whalen of Chicago, and an aunt, her sponsor, Miss Virginia Whalen.

A party following the confirmation ceremony of Janet Zimmer, 704 E. Oakton st., was attended by Mrs. Mary Jane Nichols, her aunt and sponsor, and Mr. and Mrs. M. This, Christine, Donna and Laura, all of Chicago.

A dinner party given by Mr. and Mrs. Carl Traina, 643 E. Clarendon ave., included Mr and Mrs. Val Hauska of Palatine, who was sponsor for their daughter, Mary Lou's, confirmation.

MARIE PISORS, 711 E. Clarendon ave., was also among the confirmants and was sponsored by Miss Karen Weirich, a neighbor, whose younger brother, Thomas, 715 E. Clarendon ave., was also in the confirmation class. A dinner party in the Weirich household included his uncle, George Weirich, his sponsor, and grandmother, Mrs. Peter Weirich, both of Chicago.

Grandfather Walter Forpanek of Chicago was sponsor for Scott Forpe, 921 E. Olive st., and joined the family for refreshments after the ceremony.

Sponsor for Barbara Nelson, 705 E. Olive st., at her confirmation was a cousin, Mrs. Carol Deike of Chicago. Barbara also celebrated her 11th birthday several days before with a family dinner party and trip to see the Ice Follies in Chicago.

An aunt, Miss Alice Brune of Chicago was sponsor for Susan Brune, 1110 N. Dryden ave., and joined the family after the confirmation for refreshments.

A dinner party for Sue Ann Hill's confirmation was given by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Hill, 1132 N. Douglas ave., and attended by her aunt and sponsor, Mary Vormittag, and grandmother, Mrs. Anna Vormittag.

A SUPPER party the Sunday before confirmation was given for the confirmation of Kathleen Shannon, 1161 N. Hickory ave., and attended by sponsor and her family, Mr. and Mrs. Al Crawford of Prospect Heights.

Susan Dettloff, 1160 N. Hickory ave., also a member of the confirmation class, entertained sponsor, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Berens, after the ceremony for refreshments.

An uncle, John Galizia of Chicago was sponsor for Robert Galizia, 646 E. Clarendon, another confirmant, and enjoyed cake and coffee following the confirmation.

Unable to join the rest of the confirmation class was Arlene Roby, 1149 N. Beverly lane, who several days before acquired scarlet fever.

Bob Lippens of 707 E. Clarendon ave. enjoyed a visit from his brother Andre' Lippens, of Brussels, Belgium recently. Mr. Lippens was in the United States on a combined business and pleasure trip, and enjoyed visiting relatives and friends whom he hadn't seen for several years.

Arlington Terrace News

The monthly meeting of the Dryden-Frederick card club was held October 22 at the home of Ruth Lalish, 830 Dryden. After an entertaining evening of cards, the ladies enjoyed refreshments.

A recent guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Marinello, 825 Hickory, was Florence's mother, Mrs. David Hart of Spring Brook, Wis.

Neighbors of Gloria Syoen, 909 Frederick, extend sympathy to her on the recent death of her sister, Mrs. Frances Downing.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hartwig and daughter, 1013 Douglas, spent the better part of last week visiting a cousin in Battle Creek, Mich.

Peggy Wunderle's seventh birthday was celebrated on Halloween, when nine children gathered at her home in costume, to enjoy dinner and a scavenger hunt, followed by trick or treating. Peggy is the daughter of Ted and Audrey Wunderle, 922 Douglas.

Mr.-Mrs. Club Plans Potluck

The Mr. and Mrs. club of the First Presbyterian church, Arlington Heights, will meet Friday, Nov. 14, at 6:45 p.m. for a potluck supper.

A different and interesting program will be presented by a representative of Illinois Bell Telephone, Co. Using the most modern type of sound reproducing equipment and stereophonic tape, he will trace sound science through almost a century of development, ranging from Alexander Graham Bell's first telephone message to the music of a modern symphony orchestra.

Among the historical events recorded on the tape will be the first words recorded on Edison's phonograph, the eye-witness broadcast of the burning of the Hindenburg and the abdication speech of England's Edward VIII.

This presentation will be conducted by Ed Udell, a veteran telephone company technician and public speaker, with 30 years experience in communications.

Couples are invited to attend and hear "Adventure in Sound." Reservations may be made by contacting Mrs. Jack McComb, CL 3-7823, or Mrs. B. Henry, CL 5-2838. (A

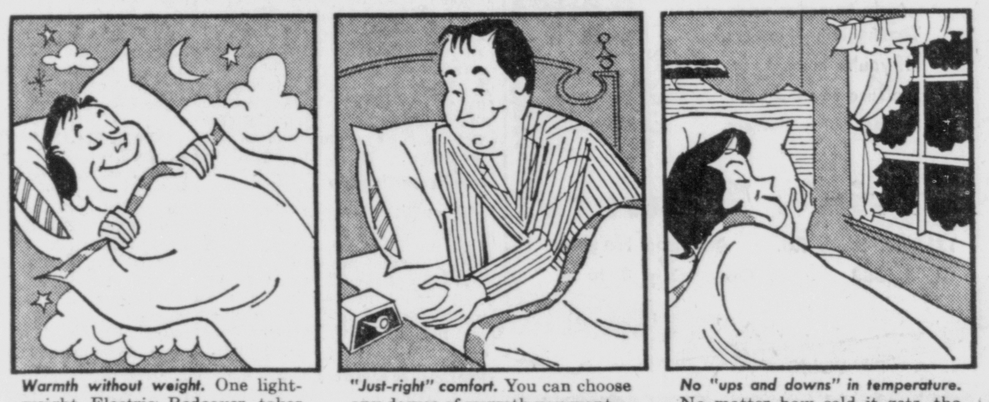
(20 million people do, and wake up fresher, too!)



Warmth without weight. One lightweight Electric Bedcover takes the place of 3 or 4 ordinary blankets—ends oppressive weight.

"Just-right" comfort. You can choose any degree of warmth you want—just "tune" the bedside dial attached to your Electric Bedcover.

No "ups and downs" in temperature. No matter how cold it gets, the temperature remains the same. It's thermostatically regulated!

"His and Her dual control" models. Husband and wife can enjoy the degree of temperature each prefers—with one blanket, two controls!

No more icy, clammy sheets. Electric Bedcovers prewarm your bed, end cold-sheet shock. Relaxed sleep comes faster.

For fresh air fiends! Enjoy all the fresh air you want. No fear of freezing during the night when you keep warm electrically!

6 more reasons why you'll enjoy owning an Electric Bedcover

Low cost. An Electric Bedcover costs no more than you'd pay to equip a bed with good woolen blankets. And it keeps you warm for just a penny a night!

Easy to launder. You can wash it yourself, or send it to the laundry. It launders as easily as any fine woolen blanket (and there's only one per bed to wash)!

Saves storage space. You get a whole winter's warmth in one compact blanket, easily stored away.

Easier bedmaking. With just one bedcover and one spread, your bed's all made in a minute. Contoured Electric Bedcovers are available, too!

Long life. Extensive research and development of Electric Bedcovers assure you of years of safe, economical, dependable service.

Safe. All Electric Bedcovers are Underwriters Laboratories Approved. Wiring and controls are rigidly tested.

DON'T YOU REALLY BELONG IN A BUICK?

Don't let the beauty of this Buick fool you for a minute . . .

Nor the superb quality of its ride and performance when you try it.

For it's nowhere near as costly as it looks and feels.

That's the BIG THING about the Buicks of today. Almost anyone who's out to get a car can get a Buick, and fit it into his budget with no struggle at all.

And a Buick is an awful lot of car . . . as more than 4 million Americans will gladly tell you. This '59 Buick, more than ever. It's THE car.

Never before, in fact, have new Buicks caught on so fast with so many people. A success due in no small part to buyers who switched to Buick '59 from other makes of car . . . in every price range.

For in a Buick, you own the rightest-looking car there is.

In a Buick, you take charge of the rightest-going combination of engines, transmissions, braking and steering you can find.

And in a Buick, whatever the price, you own something that belongs to Buick alone. You own an automatic share of a special prestige and admiration that is universal. You own a BUICK!

ARCHITECT'S CONCEPT of the new commercial building now under construction on Evergreen ave., Arlington Heights. The building, whose front is 75 per cent glass, will be occupied "about the first of February," according to Dr. Frank Psota, owner.

Rush Work On Evergreen Building

Workmen on Evergreen, just north of Northwest hwy., are rushing to complete a February 1 deadline on a new commercial building that will house two offices upstairs and two stores below.

Designed by John Holland and Robert Chaney, architects, the two-story structure will be of contemporary-modern design. An immense flower box, with California redwood panneling, will extend across the entire gray face-brick front.

THE NEW BUILDING is the work of Dr. Frank J. Psota, a dentist at 11 N. State rd. Dr. Psota will occupy one of the two offices, and Richard Bronwell, an exporter, will occupy the other. No leases have been signed as yet on the two stores.

The building will be air-conditioned throughout. John Lindstrom Construction company is doing the work. (AF

Schoolrooms Needed

Voting should be the aim of every parent this Saturday. A referendum to provide more facilities for the children of district 25 will be held November 15 from noon to 7 p.m. There will be polling places in all six of the district's lower grade schools: Dryden, North, Park, Ridge, Westgate and Windsor. Qualifications for voters are: a year in the state, 90 days in the county, and 30 days in the precinct. It is not required that you be a registered voter. With prompt action we can avoid next September double sessions, quadruple kindergarten sessions, and overcrowding at Park school and the junior high schools. The proposed issue will have no effect on next spring's tax bills. With continued increases in the total assessed valuation of the district this program will not cause any appreciable increase, according to the Board of Education.

Something More To Sell

Jackets and coats in sizes worn by grade school children have been added to the ice and roller skates, boots, rubbers, and snowsuits which the PTA will sell for you this Saturday from 10 a.m. to noon at both junior high schools. Articles should be marked with size, price, seller's name, address, and telephone number and be firmly tied if a pair. They should be deposited at all schools Thursday or Friday.

All money or unsold items may be picked up by owners from 1 to, 4 p.m. (when the owner's vote). The PTA treasury retains only 20% from the sale of each article.

Harold Brunt, band instrument instructor and junior high band director, will precede Dr. Chandler with a brief description of the music program and demonstrations of the drum, bassoon, and tuba. Three of his students will perform.

DR. B. J. CHANDLER

November Meetings

Dryden's speaker is B. J. Chandler, associate professor of education at Northwestern university. "The School in Modern Society" is title of his talk to be presented at 8:15 p.m. in the multi-purpose room Tuesday, Nov. 18. Dr. Chandler is highly qualified in training and experience to advise parents on how to work with the schools. He received degrees at the University of Texas and his doctorate at Columbia. He has been a teacher, principal, assistant superintendent of schools, and assistant professor at the University of Virginia. He is author of "Personnel Management in School Administration" and numerous articles.

"TV and Your Child" is Miss Ethel Daccardo's topic at North School Tuesday at 8:15. A graduate of the University of Illinois and a former teacher Miss Daccardo was also a radio-television critic for five years for the Chicago Daily News. She actively worked for less violence in television for the child audience. Currently she is working with an advertising agency in Chicago.

Robert Bright, consultant for our audio-visual program, will briefly outline his work in that field and as testing consultant.

MISS ETHEL DACCARDO

Park School welcomes the return of Dr. Harold Shane, professor of education at Northwestern University, to Arlington Heights with "Should We Model Our Schools after the European Pattern?" Colored slides taken during post-doctoral study in Europe in fourteen countries will illustrate his message, at 8:15 p.m. Tuesday.

Preceding Dr. Shane's election to Northwestern's faculty his experiences have ranged from teaching fourth grade, serving as state supervisor of elementary education in Ohio and being superintendent in Winnetka public schools. This summer took him to the University of Hawaii.

DR. HAROLD G. SHANE

Dr. Shane is author of over 150 publications and 25 books, three of which have won the "Outstanding Book of the Year" award in the annual Enoch Pratt Memorial library poll published in the NEA Journal.

Ridge school will have a sampling of Christmas gift ideas for children in "Late Shoppers' Special" Tuesday at 8:15. Miss Edith Lindsey of the Arlington Heights public library plans to have books with her for children of all ages. Miss Rosemary Vidal and Mrs. Eloise Kinney will show gifts available to stimulate interest in creative arts and music and demonstrate to parents how to make items themselves.

The Arlington Hhigh school German band will play in authentic Bavarian costume. This group under the direction of Frederick Schmoyer is in its third year with a membership ranging between 12 to 18 musicians. Girls made their costumes from those pictured in catalogs from which the boys' costumes were ordered.

Windsor-Miner parents have the opportunity to learn about our school instructional policies Tuesday at 8:15. Superintendent Ralph Clabaugh will speak on "Effective Instructional Practices for Today's Schools."

Melvin Kasen, band and orchestra instructor, will give a short talk on the program of the instrumental music department.

Speech Corrction Tea

The annual speech correction tea on November 4 introduced teachers, Miss Marion Elliott, Mrs. Margaret Carlson and Philip Breiding. There are 251 students receiving speech help this year, 238 having articulation problems. The other 13 children stutter.

Many of the techniques used in correction work were illustrated in the film, "Good Speech for Gary." A display table showed many materials used in speech classes. Mrs. Hal Bloss was chairman of the event.

Yule Lighting Contest Slated

Arlington Heights Jaycees this week took initial steps toward getting their residential Christmas decorating contest under way.

Posters that will appear in the stores of local merchants were picked up from the printer. The entry blanks, which are attached to the posters, were also obtained.

The posters and entry blanks were then distributed and placed in various stores throughout the community by the Jaycees headed by the contest chairman, Tom McAuliffe. Also working on the project were Warren Petersen, Jan Behrens and Jack Walsh.

AS HAD BEEN announced last week the Christmas decorating contest begins December 22, and ends December 27. This contest is being sponsored by the Arlington Heights Jaycees to spread the spirit of Christmas by means of decoration by light. All residents are urged to join in the spirit by obtaining an entry blank and planning their decoration.

The Jaycees are stressing the point that the winners will be chosen on the basis of originality, ingenuity, lighting technique and artistic merit, and not on how much money is spent on the display. A few lights appropriately placed to create a new or unusual effect will have as good a chance to win as the most expensive display. (A

Families to Receive Awards From Evangelical Church

Approximately forty families in the Arlington Heights area will receive gold cups on Sunday, Nov. 16. These cups are being awarded by the Bible school of the Arlington Heights Evangelical Free church in recognition of each complete family's attendance during the school's observance of Sunday school improvement days.

The school has conducted a six week inter-department contest for the past six Sundays under the leadership of its superintendent, Leonard G. Garasha of Arlington Heights, The purpose of the contest as stated by Garasha was "to increase our outreach among those presently outside our Bible school and to encourage regularity among our members. Our aim is not a sudden spurt, but to set a pace for building and growing in our Christian education program."

Prior to the contest, the attendance averaged 238 pupils and teachers. The average attendance during the contest was 277, representing a thirty per cent increase over the same period in 1957.

In addition to the awarding of the gold cups, the Bible school will present pin awards for perfect attendance during the past year at the opening exercises of the school. (A

Q. When is it proper not to make introductions?

A. Although there's no magic formula for this, generally we skip unnecessary introductions. There's no point in introducing persons who aren't going to talk anyway. When you pass friends on the street, you needn't introduce the person you're walking with unless you're going to stop and chat. At a large party, we usually don't bother to introduce a stranger to everyone in the room—just to one group of persons that he can talk with.

Christian Science meets a universal need

The one thing that cannot be quenched in the human heart is the longing to find God — to feel assured that there is a supreme intelligence, controlling the orderly reaches of star, and space, and man.

By thoughtful study of Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy and the Bible, many have found lasting peace of mind, health and freedom from all manner of human ills — often after other means have failed. You can do the same.

Science and Health may be read or borrowed at any Christian Science Reading Room. Send $3 for a copy postpaid.

GOD LOVES US

God loves us, not that we deserve it, but because it is God's nature to love . . . because He is love. God has manifested love through His Son, the Lord Jesus Christ, who loved us and died for us, that we through that sacrificial death may have life eternal.

HEALTH THROUGH RELIGION

More than half of America's hospital beds are occupied by mental cases. Fears, tensions, conflicts and vice account for most of these. Our church accepts modern medicine with gratitude, but has something to supplement its therapy. Sick souls are brought to the Great Physician.

OBITUARIES

Micahek Marzen

Funeral services were held at Tharps funeral home, Palatine, Sunday afternoon for Michael John Marzen, 53, of 325 S. Cedar st., Palatine. His son-in-law, Rev. Howard B. Kishpaugh of Alabama officiated. Burial was private.

Monday morning there was a requiem mass in St. Philip Episcopal church, Palatine, offered by Rev. Kishpaugh and Rev. Sheldon B. Foote, rector of St. Philip's.

Mr. Marzen, who died suddenly November 6 from a heart attack, is survived by his wife, Mary, and son, James, of Palatine and a daughter, Mrs. Caroline Kishpaugh and two grandchildren of Alabama. Mr. Marzen was stock clerk for C. F. Pease and Co., Chicago.

Mrs. Eliz. Hannika

Rev. Hughes B. Morris officiated November 10 at funeral services for Mrs. Elizabeth Hannika of 1108 E. Northwest hwy., Arlington Heights. Mrs. Hannika was born November 4, 1873 in Austria, Hungary, and died November 8 in her home.

She leaves her children: Eve Richter of Arlington Heights, with whom she made her home, John, Margaret Montgomery, Ferdinand, Anthony and Johnny; and eight grandchildren.

Services were held in the Lauterburg and Oehler chapel in Arlington Heights. She was preceded in death by her husband, Ferdinand.

Gertrude Wiese

Miss Gertrude E. Wiese, a resident of Arlington Heights for 50 years, died November 7 in St. Joseph hospital, Elgin. She was born November 16, 1904 in Chicago and for the last 30 years was a secretary at Dreyer Electric Co. in Arlington Heights.

Miss Wiese, who resided at 113 S. Evergreen, leaves a brother, Wilbert Jack Wiese, and a sister, Grace Wiese, both of Arlington Heights. She was preceded in death by her parents, John H. and Emma.

Funeral services were held November 12 in the Lauterburg and Oehler chapel in Arlington Heights with interment in Ridgewood cemetery.

Miss Mary Eiterer

Miss Mary Eiterer, 141 Bonnie Brae, Mt. Prospect, died in Resurrection hospital November 9. Funeral mass was held November 12 in St. Mary church Des Plaines, and burial was in St. Joseph cemetery.

Miss Eiterer was born June 5, 1893 in Chicago and leaves two brothers: Louis of Mt. Prospect and Frank J. of Chicago; three sisters, Johanna Ahern and Rose Eiterer of Mt. Prospect and Emma Moritz of Chicago; and a niece: Gertrude Becker of Mt. Prospect.

She was in state in the Oehler chapel in Des Plaines.

Mrs. Lulu Wrasse

Mrs. Lulu F. Wrasse, mother-in-law of Rev. Howard Henke of the St. Matthew Evangelical Lutheran church on Milwaukee ave., died November 5 in Bethesda hospital. She was born October 19, 1896 in Wauwatosa, Wis. where services were held November 8 in St. John Evangelical Lutheran church. Burial was in the town cemetery.

Mrs. Wrasse, who resided at 9200 Milwaukee ave., leaves her husband, Harry H.; her daughter, Jane Henke; three grandchildren; three brothers; and three sisters.

She was in state in the Oehler chapel in Des Plaines.

William Wagner

Funeral mass for William Wagner, 50, of Bush rd., Prairie View, was held November 10 in St. John Vianney church in Northlake Village with burial in St. Joseph cemetery, River Grove.

Struck by an auto while crossing a street in Schiller Park Friday, Nov. 7, Mr. Wagner was pronounced dead on arrival at Resurrection hospital. He was born November 29, 1908 and had farmed in Prairie View for the past 12 years. He leaves his wife, Myrtle; three brothers: Nick of Chicago, Frank, of River Grove and John of Roselle; and two sisters: Margaret Stade of Arlington Heights and Lillian Stroup of Northlake Village.

Miss Harriet Kuebler

Tharp Funeral home in Palatine was scene of funeral services November 10 for Miss Harriet R. Kuebler, 70, of the Plum Grove Nursing home. Miss Kuebler, a life long resident of Palatine, died November 8 in the home, where she had been a patient for some time.

Miss Kuebler was born January 2, 1888 in Palatine, daughter of George Kuebler. She leaves a sister, Mrs. Maud Lomb of Chicago and a niece and nephew, Mrs. Marcella Windbiel of Chicago and Ward Wente of Des Plaines.

G. G. DeLaCerda

Funeral mass for Guadalupe G. DeLaCerda, 2315 E. Palatine rd., Arlington Heights, was held November 10 in St. Alphonsus church, Prospect Heights. Burial was in St. Joseph cemetery.

Mr. DeLaCerda was born September 30, 1924 in Big Wells, Texas and died in Evanston hospital. He leaves his wife: Ernestina; 3 children: Ricardo, Bertha and Hector; two brothers: Manuel and Andrew; five sisters: Maria of Arlington Heights, Emelia of Prospect Heights, Josefa, Jesusita and Mary.

He was in state in the Oehler chapel in Des Plaines.

Approve Sewer Extensions

Extensions of the Park Ridge, Rosemont, and Elk Grove sewer systems have been approved by the Metropolitan Sanitary District.

The extension in Park Ridge will serve 60 persons residing on Cumberland road, north of Oakton st. About 1,000 feet of eight inch sewer will be installed.

Rosemont's extension will serve two office buildings at Bryn Mawr and River road. To be installed are 400 feet of eight inch sewer.

THE SEWER extension in Elk Grove will serve a 120 acre tract east of Tonne and north of Elk Grove blvd. The Metropolitan Sanitary District's permit authorizes the installation of 16,124 feet of eight inch sewer, 1,693 feet of 10 inch sewer, and 229 feet of 12 inch sewer to serve 1,696 persons in the area.

The new sewers will have an indirect connection to the Upper Des Plaines interceptor sewer system. (ACM

Duplicate Bridge Offered at YMCA

Bridge enthusiasts are invited to join the Northwest Suburban YMCA duplicate bridge group which meets each Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock in the 'Y' headquarters, 1488 Miner st., Des Plaines. This is an opportunity for an evening of competitive bridge where duplicate hands are played by several partners to determine their greatest value.

Couples or individuals are welcome. (AMC

One Killed, Two Injured In Collision

One death and two injuries resulted from an automobile collision last week at the Higgins and Barrington rds. intersection.

John Danielak, 70, of 5442 Pensacola ave., Chicago, was thrown from his car when it struck a truck at the intersection. He was pronounced dead on arrival at Sherman hospital, Elgin.

Danielak's two passengers, his wife Rose, 73, and Martha Lorenz, 64, of 2703 N. Ashland st., Chicago, suffered injuries requiring hospitalization.

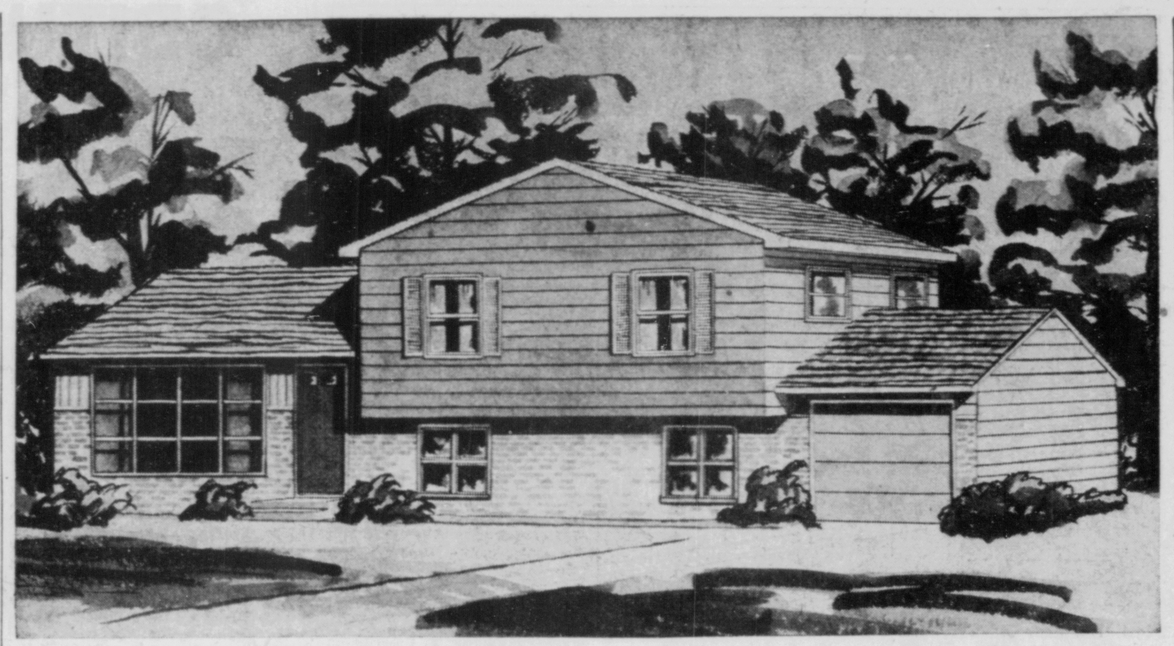
THE DRIVER of the truck, James A. Wideman, 25, of 1831 Lemar st., Evanston, was uninjured.

State police said Danielak, traveling south on Barrington rd., failed to halt for a stop sign at the intersection. The truck was traveling west on Higgins rd.



THIS IS THE LATEST MODEL HOME, the eighth in a series to be introduced in the Winston Park Northwest development at Palatine. The tri-level Hanover is designed for comfort and roominess to set a standard for 1959 living. Priced at $22,500, the roomy new design features three bedrooms, large living, dining and utility rooms, 1½ baths, a finished family recreation room and enclosed garage. Free landscaping and seeding is included in the purchase price. Seven other ranch and split level homes are featured in Winston Park Northwest's development located at Chicago ave. and Wilke rd. in the suburb. Homes are priced from $19,890 to $27,290 with conventional and veterans' financing plans available.

Country Store Open House

Free coffee, doughnuts and apples will be served to visitors at the annual open house at the Country Store Paint co., Dunton court, Arlington Heights, on Friday, Saturday and Sunday mornings, Nov. 14, 15 and 16.

Open to the public, it is hoped that area residents will stop in and browse, enjoying the many authentic antiques which are displayed in the store, the management said. Old prints and items, such as ice skates, ox yokes and hand carved cowbells, decorate the walls and in addition many objects have been acquired from an early general store and are in use and on display in the Country Store.

The Country Store Paint co. carries a full line of art supplies, household paints, wallpaper, picture frames and accessories. (ACM

MRS. GWEN PITTENGER, a teacher at Countryside school, watches as a group of children work on picture puzzles. The school is a non-profit organization and serves children from many northwest suburban communities. They will hold their tag day, November 14. Among the volunteers helping in this project will be 20 members of the Palatine Junior Women's club.

Collect Personal Property Tax: State School Chief

by JOHN CORRIS

Collection of personal property taxes in Cook county would greatly reduce the financial problems faced by the county's school districts, the chairman of the state's school problems commission said Monday night.

SPEAKING BEFORE a group of parents in Palatine's Paddock school, Rep. Charles W. Clabaugh of Champaign, charged that last year assessors "missed" more than a billion dollars in property on which personal property taxes were not paid.

As a result, he noted, the county received "$4,600,000 from the state (in school aid) which it did not deserve."

The veteran legislator particularly noted that automobiles in Cook were not assessed at their true value while he claimed they were accurately assessed in most downstate counties.

Clabaugh said he understood that in Cook, the county clerk does not pass on to the board of review the automobile registration lists he receives from the secretary of state for the levy of personal property taxes. He said that this procedure was established several years ago by legislative action.

He charged that Cook county "killed" a legislature bill which would have required auto owners to present a receipted personal property tax bill before receiving their vehicle plates.

LOCAL TAXES on real estate and personal property provide the main source of revenue for schools, coupled with the state's contribution of 20 to 30 per cent.

Describing himself as a "patron of the schools," Clabaugh predicted an increase in taxes to pay for operation of the state government, and for the state's school system which he said has been increasing at the rate of about 10 per cent each year for the past 10 years. He added:

"Illinois is one of the lowest tax states in the nation." He noted, however, the high real estate tax rate and pointed out some inequities in the tax system under which "some 100-thousand residents of the state pay no taxes at all."

Clabaugh said his school problems commission was organized in 1949 as a fact-finding group to recommend legislative action. Its membership includes 5 members each from the house and senate, and 5 members at-large, appointed by the governor.

He called attention to the different problems faced by school districts in downstate areas as compared to those in the Chicago suburban area where the population increase has been much greater.

Clabaugh said that his commission had recommended an increase of $45 — from $200 to $245 — as the state's guarantee for each pupil. This compares to the average cost per elementary student of $262, he added.

HE INDICATED that the state would be unable to allocate the additional funds without increasing taxes.

Under the commission's proposal the Palatine school district would receive an additional $135,000 from the state without taking into consideration the increased population of the district. The district would receive a little more than a half-million dollars in state aid.

The legislator said it was unfortunate that school administrators were forced to spend a great part of their time on school financial problems and "not enough as scholars."

"We have a fine school system in Illinois," he said. He called attention to the state's educational facilities for retarded pupils which he described as pilot programs for the nation.

Clabaugh, who, incidentally, is a cousin of R. E. Clabaugh, Arlington Heights school district superintendent, was introduced by Marion Jordan, superintendent of the Palatine and Rolling Meadows schools.

Mrs. Fred S. Nicklas of Inverness was chairman of the PTA program.

TEACHERS WELCOME the children into the new classroom building of the Countryside School for Retarded Children. The school has recently moved to the new permanent location on a farm at Plum Grove and Shirley rds., Palatine, which was purchased by the Countryside Association.

Countryside School Set For Tag Day

Countryside Association, will hold its tag day November 14 in the northwest suburban communities of Arlington Heights, Palatine, Barrington, Fox River Grove and Wauconda. Proceeds of tag day will go to the Countryside School for Retarded Children which has recently moved to its new permanent location on a farm at Shirley and Plum Grove rds., Palatine.

The association purchased the farm this summer. It will house a classroom building, a separate workshop and outdoor recreational facilities. Donations will help to pay for this farm and provide for the retarded youngsters at the non-profit school. The school currently has 20 children enrolled. They come from a number of northwest area communities.

Purpose of the school is to determine the ability of each individual child and teach him to take care of himself, to get along with others and to learn simple skills.

Modern Ettiquette

Q. When the ceremony is over at a church wedding, should the members of the immediate families be permitted to leave the church first, before the other people?

A. Yes, this is the proper procedure.

Q. I recently saw a person, after dining, dip his fingers into his glass of water and then wipe them on his napkin. Is this good manners?

A. Never! If there are no fingerbowls and the fingers are sticky, it is permissible to tip the glass of water into one corner of the napkin, then wipe the fingers with this.

free dollar bills

A few weeks ago the papers had a story about a gal who wandered down the sidewalk giving away dollar bills. Or rather, she was trying to give them away. This advertising stunt had passers-by shying aside with eyebrows raised skeptically.

We've seen a few raised eyebrows at FLAGG'S, too, in the couple of weeks the store's been open.

"What's wrong with this typewriter?" one sincere but worried gentleman asked us.

"Doesn't it work?" we said.

"Works fine," he replied. "But there's something phoney about the price. It's too low!"

So here's what we told him: If a store can buy at the lowest possible price (and we do) and hold overhead to a bedrock minimum through self-service (and we do that, too), the store can sell for far less than the customary price.

That convinced him, all right. He bought the typewriter and saved himself $28.04.

. . . And then we've had exactly 587 customers ask, "When's the sale over?"

Actually it's never over. Our low, low prices are always the same . . . every day, every week, every month. And these prices are all clearly marked on the tag — you don't have to haggle with a salesman to get the best possible buy. Come on in and see for yourself!

Library Features 'Movie' Books

Hollywood has used many biographies in recent years, and there has been a rash of life stories of war heroes, politicos, athletes, prize fighters, religious figures and other contemporary personalities.

Many of these films have been based on books, according to Mrs. Charles Stadelman of the Arlington Heights Memorial Library.

People prominent in the entertainment world have been the subject of a number of recent moving pictures. "I'll Cry Tomorrow," the life story of Lillian Roth, tells of her career behind the footlights and her fight against alcoholism and mental illness.

"TOO MUCH, Too Soon," is the title of the story of Diana Barrymore's Life, also a best-selling book. "Interrupted Melody," which portrays the life o fopera star Marjorie Lawrence, is another moving picture made from a book.

Life stories of sports figures have been the subject of several moving pictures in recent years. "Fear Strikes Out" is based on the autobiography of Jim Piersall, infielder for the Boston Red Sox, who suffered a mental breakdown during baseball season several years ago, while "Somebody Up There Likes Me" is the title of Rocky Graziano's autobiography. This is the story of a boy who practically began life as a criminal, hating the world, and who later won peace and respectability by becoming middle weight champion.

AMONG moving pictures based on the life of a World War II hero is "Battle Hymn," the autobiography of Dean Hess, a clergyman turned fighter pilot. When Hess was recalled to service during the Korean War, he aided in the development of the South Korean Air force and helped to save thousands of Korean orphans.

Recent film productions featuring famous historical characters include "Saint Joan," based on Bernard Shaw's play, while the movie "Richard III" was adapted from William Shakespeare's "The Tragedy of King Richard III." "Alexander the Great" and "Helen of Troy" are other recent book-based movies from famous people.

Two other popular books which have been made into movies include "A Man Called Peter," the biography of Peter Marshall written by his wife Catherine, and Charles Lindbergh's autobiography "The Spirit of St. Louis." This biography begins in 1926 when he decided to fly the Atlantic, and follows every step of his careful, detailed plans for accomplishing his dream.

STILL OTHER interesting lives made into movies are "Call 2455, Death" Caryl Chessman's Story, and "Albert Schweitzer."

Numerous other books about famous people who have had their lives portrayed on the screen are available at the library. (A

X-Ray Unit Slated for Arlington

Free chest X-rays will be offered residents 15 years old and over, Tuesday, Nov. 25, when a mobile X-ray unit is parked at the village hall, 101 W. Davis st., Arlington Heights.

X-raying hours are from noon to 6 p.m.

The mobile X-ray unit intended to serve as an adjunct to the routine community, industry, and food handler surveys conducted yearly in various parts of suburban Cook County will again be available for 70mm. survey X-rays for persons who need such X-rays for pre-employment, pre-marital, pre-natal, or licensing purposes, as well as those who have not checked their chests for tuberculosis within the past year. This X-ray unit is also available to persons needing diagnostic (14x17) X-rays as follow-up to suspicious signs found in small film surveys. (A

Prominent Organist Slates Recital in Suburb

One of America's leading organists will be featured Sunday afternoon at a dedicatory recital in Our Saviour's Lutheran church, Arlington Heights.

She is Mrs. Jean Sittler, who's been titled "one of the top two or three interpreters of the Classical period of church organ music."

MRS. SITTLER received her Bachelor of Music degree at the Cleveland Institute of Music and was an assistant in the department of music at Wellesly college, where she received her Master's degree in music. She is an associate in the American Guild of Organists.

In recent years, she has conducted several recitals at Grace Lutheran church in River Forest and at the Cleveland Museum of Art. She is the regular organist at Bonn Chapel at the University of Chicago.

While she specializes in the Classical period of organ music, the Friday recital is also representative of the outstanding organ music of more recent times. For example, Hindemith's "Sonata II" was written only 20 years ago.

Other numbers included in Mrs. Sittler's program will be Bach's "Concerto No. 1, First Movement;" Tartini's "Air;" Francks "Piece Heroique;" Dupre's "Magnificat V;" and Vaughn-Williams' "Rhosymedre."

THE 4 P.M. recital climaxes a week-long dedication program for the new $208,000 church at N. State rd. and Olive st.

The organ, which will be dedicated immediately preceding the recital, is a new Allen electronic organ with diapason and percussion. This instrument has been designed to be the ultimate in electronic reproduction of true organ tones. A great deal of credit for the success of this organ is due to the development of the exclusive "Gyrophonic" speaker unit. While the organ plays, eight specially-designed high-fidelity speakers rotate in a cabinet at various speeds. This feature produces an effect duplicating that of a multi-rank pipe organ.

Rev. John P. Petersen, pastor of the United Lutheran congregation, said the recital was open to the general public.

Witnesses Plan 3-Day Assembly In Chicago

William Narve, presiding minister of the Arlington Heights congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses, 7056 W. Madison, Niles, has just returned from atte... a an organizational meeting in Chicago in connection with their next circuit assembly.

The minister's meeting was attended by 24 presiding and assistant ministers of Jehovah's Witnesses from Chicago and surrounding suburbs. Presiding over the meeting was circuit director of ministers, Edmund W. Hooper of Brooklyn, N.Y.

Mr. Narve said plans were discussed for the 3-day assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses to be held in Senn high school in Chicago, November 28-30. He said the assembly will be attended by more than 1,500 delegates with their families from congregations of Jehovah's Witnesses in the North and Northwestern suburbs of Chicago, as well as Chicago itself.

PRINCIPAL Bible talk of the assembly will be Sunday, Nov. 30 at 3 p.m. on "The Watch Tower Society in God's Purpose." Speaker will be Andrew K. Wagner, well-known Bible teacher and lecturer, representing the sponsors of the convention, the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society of New York, legal agency of Jehovah's Witnesses. (A

Panel Program For Wayside Women's Club

A panel discussion entitled "Reading Can Be Fun" is the program planned for the November 13 meeting of Our Lady of the Wayside Catholic Women's club. The meeting will be held at 9 p.m. in the parish hall, Arlington Heights.

Mrs. Joseph Grant will be moderator, with Mesdames Lester Massey, Victor Miller, Willis Jensen and Raymond Sklencar as panel members.

To augment the program, the library and literature committee will open its annual "book fair" with gift suggestions for all ages. These books may be purchased Thursday evening at the meeting, and on the following Sundays: November 16 and 30, and December 14, after all masses in the front lobby of the school.

The book fair is under the direction of Mrs. Raymond Sklencar, chairman.

Eastwood Events

Larry Pakyz, 727 N. Hickory, had as his weekend guest, Dick Wetzler, halfback on the Peoria Spalding football team. The Peoria school played Notre Dame high school to a 6-6 tie Friday night at Niles. Since the distance home was too far to travel that night, the Notre Dame coach asked each member of his football team to entertain one of the Peoria team members for the weekend. Larry, who plays tackle on the Notre Dame team, was assigned Dick. After the game Friday night, several open houses were held for the visitors, and Saturday the boys toured Chicago's loop. The Viatorian fathers teach at Spalding Peoria, and since their seminary is located right here in Eastwood on Euclid ave., the entire faculty came to see the game and stayed the weekend at the seminary.

Before the game the mothers of the Notre Dame team were honored. Mrs. I. J. Pakyz was among the mothers who received a corsage.

Virginia Terrace News

Sue Anne Herbert, 1227 N. Chicago, recently celebrated her sixth birthday with a party. Her guests were Jennifer Marshall, Jean Kellogg, Jon Freeburg, Laurie Miller, Bruce Wayne, Nancy Mayer, Susan Pohle, Patricia McGuire and Leslie Gullet. Games were played and refreshments served.

A six pound 8 ounce daughter was born to the John Geers, 1515 W. Clarendon, November 6. Eagerly awaiting her homecoming were her sisters, Nancy Jo and Barbara Lee.

Jackie and Joe Koenig, 1255 N. Chicago, spent a recent weekend in Rockton, the highlight of which was a visit to the Wagon Wheel lodge to hear the Dixie Land Jazz band.

NEW RESIDENTS of the Terrace are Margaret and John Noon, 1221 N. Chicago, and their children, John, James and Jonathan, who came from Teeneck, N. J.

Mrs. Laura Belle Wolf, 1247 N. Chicago, is leaving this week for a month's visit with her sister in Louisville.

Jerri Rix, 1248 N. Chicagp, and Jeanette Westmark, 1252 N. Chicago, co-hostessed a stork party for Hal Trowe November 10. Those presenting Hal with a gift certificate for later use were Jackie Koenig, Doris Silver, Laura Belle Wolf, Dee Perry, Betty Gumz, Pat Kieffer, Joan Wayne, Glanna Riefstahl, Jerri and Jeanette.

November 5 Lauren Lynn, 7 pounds 11 ounces, joined the Alan Jeffrey household at 1236 N. Race. Helping grandmother, Mrs. Anna Engelking from New York, in caring for the new baby will be Lauren's sisters, Kathy and Susan.

Just changing locale in Arlington Heights are Lorraine and Ray Kunstman, who, with their daughters, Cassandra and Rae, moved to 1309 N. Chicago this past weekend.

"Miracle" drugs are not perfected overnight. In 1929 Dr. Alexander Fleming noted that Penicillium Notatum mould inhibited certain bacterial growth. It then took many more years to perfect it so that it could safely accomplish its wonderful work.

Millions of research dollars are spent on every new drug before it can be released for use. Often expected benefits do not occur and the money is entirely lost. Modern prescriptions can produce almost miraculous cures, but equally amazing is the fact that they cost so little for what they accomplish.

Centennial for Church In Itasca November 23

Bethany church, at the corner of Division and N. Walnut st., Itasca, will observe its 100th anniversary as an organized church Sunday, Nov. 23.

Professor John F. Schaefer of the Evangelical Theological seminary, Naperville, will be speaker at the divine worship services at 9:30 and 10:45 a.m. He will also speak at the Centennial-Thank offering service at 3:30 p.m. Following this service, ladies of the Women's Evening guild will serve a 5 p.m. centennial luncheon.

Also present at the 3:30 p.m. service will be visiting former pastors of Bethany church. Among them will be Rev. J. V. Bischoff, who served Bethany from 1919-1923; Rev. Royald Caldwell, now of Faith United Church of Christ, and Christian Reider, now on the staff of the Duncan YMCA.

BETHANY CHURCH owes its origin to the conversion experience of a teenager, Miss Dorothea Bierman, who, with her family and friends held the first meetings of the church in their homes. First records of the existence of the church appear in 1853 when it was called the Elk Grove class.

In 1858 an old schoolhouse was purchased and moved to Biesterfeld rd. The young congregation built their first church on rt. 53, just south of Biester-Gathman in 1875. Four years feld rd. on the farm of Louis later the Sunday school was organized.

At that time the congregation was called the "Zion society of the Evangelical association." After some additional construction, in 1924 this building was moved with Church Federation Comity permission to the present location of the church in Itasca. In 1926 the present parsonage was built.

er some additional construction, gan on the present beautiful lan-

IN 1951 the construction be non stone Gothic structure. The building was put up in two sections. The last portion was torn down in July, 1955 and the entirely new church dedicated June 10, 1956 by Bishop H. R. Heininger.

Bethany church is a part of the Evangelical United Brethren church which proudly traces its history to an origin among the Pennsylvania people of about the year 1800, and the consecrated labor of a former Revolutionary war hero, Jacob Albright, known as "The Honeset Tiler."

The work of a sister church in this region, led by Phillip William Otterbein and Martin Boehm, later was known as the United Brethren in Christ, helped to form the first native born denomination on American soil.

In 1946 the two churches, the Evangelical church and the United Brethren in Christ voted to merge, and a union was consummated which has since been known as the Evangelical United Brethren church. This merger has proven to be a blessing to both former communions. Not a single church was lost by this union. In 1951 the Itasca congregation voted to be called Bethany Evangelical United Brethren church.

BETHANY NOW has a membership of 325 with a Sunday school attendance of well over 200 children and youths. The church has tried to serve the village of Itasca during the rapid period of suburban expansion as a truly ecumenical church.

The present pastor is Rev. Kenneth G. Truckenbrod, a graduate of North Central college and the Evangelical Theological seminary in Naperville. He has served previously as assistant pastor at the Elgin EUB church for two years, and in Mt. Carmel for six years. He is a native of Mendota and served 3 years with the U.S. Infantry, 99th Division in Europe during World War II.

How Suburbs Celebrated First Armistice Day

As the nation quietly observed Veterans Day on Tuesday, old timers and seasoned veterans in suburbia fondly recalled earlier days in the northwest territory.

Those were the days of more spirited observance of Armistice Day — since renamed and diluted into a lackluster celebration for GIs in general.

The microfilm files of Paddock Publications reveal a flag-waving past for northwest suburbs' first Armistice Day.

"HEIGHTS BLOWS the Lids Off" cried headlines November 15, 1918. Reported the Herald to its readers:

"The pre-peace celebration of Nov. 7 proved to be just an appetizer for the real thing that came at 3 a.m. Monday, Nov. 11. The citizens of Arlington Heights were aroused from their slumbers at that early hour by the whistles and bedlam of noises and few of our citizens again closed their eyes that night. None needed to be told what it was all about and all citizens, little and big, old and young, vied with each other to find new ways of giving expression to their feelings. An impromptu parade was organized and as it passed down the streets many a lighted window showed that the citizens were giving recognition to the important event. A few of the daily commuters took the early trains for their jobs in Chicago, but the first train brought them back and this new national holiday was celebrated in a manner that would have made those artillery boys in France envy our improvised noise-making instruments. All powder that could be begged, borrowed, or stolen was put to good use and the only regret of the boys was that there wasn't enough to last throughout the day. The enthusiasm, at a high pitch all day, broke out afresh as each passing train gave its long whistle.

"PALATINE HAD TWO peace celebrations November 11, one at 4 a.m. and the other at 4 p.m. Both of them were a credit to the town. During those early morning hours when the enthusiasm was at the highest pitch, a big bonfire was started at the Schoppe corner, a parade formed and of course the mayor made a speech. Whether it was the early hour or the occasion, we don't know, but it was the best one he ever gave. The village authorities declared a holiday, the stores closed and the telephones called the people from miles around to come to the celebration that afternoon. Schaumburg responded with 30 autos and the school districts did as well. There was never a parade like it in Palatine.

"The official celebration and incidentally the last obsequies over Mr. W. Hohenzollern took place in the evening. The funeral march proved to be a noisy wake. Nearly everybody was a part of the big foot parade — the biggest ever held here. Of course the 'extinguished monarch' was given a place of honor beside undertaker U. A. Reese.

"W. F. MEYER, Sr., presided at the public meeting held in the postoffice square. Messrs. O. R. Zoll, Chas Sigwalt, Rev. Jenkinson and Rev. Nocack delivered stirring addresses and the band furnished music. The program closed with a grand bonfire that carried the Kaiser to his reward.

"Bensenville — Many from Bensenville went to Chicago Monday evening to witness the Peace rite. They report that Chicago sure was 'bug house.'

"Itasca had a premature celebration Thursday, as well as the rest of the country, but on Monday, when the real time came to celebrate World Peace they were still in the ring. A parade was formed at 2 p.m. of about 200 autos which went from here to Roselle, Bloomingdale, Addison, Bensenville and home."

Mrs. Smedstad Heads Heart Conference Panel

Grace Smedstad, AFL-CIO labor staff representative, Welfare Council of Metropolitan Chicago, will be chairman of a panel in one of six workshop discussion groups featured at the sixth annual Heart-in-Industry conference sponsored jointly by the Chicago Heart association and the Chicago Association of Commerce and Industry Friday, Nov. 14, at the Sherman hotel.

Mrs. Smedstad and her husband, Iver, an artist, live at 22 S. Maple st., Mt. Prospect. Mrs. Smedstad who has traveled extensively through Europe, South America, Africa and most recently the Iron Curtain countries, is commissioner and secretary of Suburban Cook County TB Sanitarium district. She is also a member of the legislative committee of Chicago Federation of Labor; of the labor advisory committee of Riisevelt university, University of Chicago and University of Illinois, and of the Welfare services committee of Illinois Public Aid Commission.

PANELISTS IN each of the six workshops will discuss two actual case histories of workers with heart disease and the problems arising out of their disability. Each workshop will have a panel of six experts, each representing a different field: Industrial medicine, cardiology, labor and management, industrial nursing and personnel, law and industrial relations.

The conference, a memorial to the late Gustav Freund II, is made possible by a grant from the Visking corporation of Chicago. Theme of the conference is "Cardiacs Have Abilities." James L. Salomon, medical director, Aircraft Engine division, Ford Motor company, and chairman of the conference will give the Summation.

tells you why this auto insurance costs less

Allstate cuts red tape and sales costs... passes savings on to you

Savings depend on where you live and how your car is used, of course. But savings of 20% are common with Allstate, compared with the rates of most other companies!

How we can do it:

Allstate was founded by Sears. We operate on the same low-overhead, big-volume, quality-for-less principle that has made Sears famous for value. We cut red tape and costs. Savings are passed on to you.

Johnny-on-the-spot claims service.

Allstate has over 4,000 claims expediters—the largest full-time staff in the business—and they are located throughout the United States and Canada. Claims are often settled "right on the spot"—with no home office red tape.

Remember, you haven't got all the facts about auto insurance until you have the Allstate facts. Stop in or call today.

Caucus to Elect Selection Group

The Arlington Heights Caucus has scheduled an election Monday, Nov. 17, at 8:15 p.m. in Miner junior high school, to select members of a new Candidate Recommendation committee, Caucus Chairman Frank Palmatier said this week.

The committee's job, said Palmatier, is to recommend two possible candidates for each of the three village trustee posts up for election in April. The meeting will also elect a new chairman, said the out-going Palmatier. A new platform will be discussed.

THE CAUCUS OFFICIAL explained that, of the two candidates selected, one will be chosen for each of the posts at a meeting to be held in January or February.

"We're going to try to select people who are public-spirited, and who don't want to push themselves as candidates," he said. "Our success will depend on a large representative turnout."

The Recommendation committee will be composed of three representatives from each of the village's six precincts. (AF

Teens Plan 'Work Day,' Seek Jobs

St. Peter Lutheran church's Walther League will sponsor a Work Day Saturday, Nov. 15, in the school lobby at 9 a.m.

League members, boys and girls of high school age, will "pitch in" to earn money for the League's various activities. Residents of Arlington Heights who want any odd jobs done that day, can contact Miss Yvonne Hinrichs at CL. 3-0192, according to John Hoffschneider, league counselor.

League members, according to Hoffschneider, are qualified to put up storm windows, wash cars, rake leaves, or do any of the many weekend tasks that confront homeowners during the fall. (A

Ridge Park–Sherwood

FROM SHERWOOD

The James Pooles, 1106 N. Princeton, and her sister and husband, the D. F. Houses, 1120 N. Harvard, have something unique in common. Their wedding anniversaries fall on the same day, so last Saturday they celebrated the occasion by going to the Villa Venice for dinner.

FROM RIDGE PARK

The Lawrence Geislers, 816 N. Ridge, went to the dance given by the Fireman's Post of the American Legion at Ashland auditorium, Chicago, Saturday. Sunday the family went to Roosevelt high school to see Mrs. Geisler's nephew receive the Boy Scout Eagle award. After the ceremony, they went to her mother's home for supper.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Corn, 826 N. Kennicott, are sure to be on hand when South Junior High school presents "Grand Old Switzerland" November 21. Their son, Richard, an eighth grader, has one of the leading roles in the operetta.

The birthdays of the senior Garashas prompted a family dinner at the home of their son and family, the Leonard G. Garashas, 809 N. Harvard, Sunday. To make the party complete, their daughter and family, the Fosters of West Chicago, joined them for the day.

CATHY CRYER, daughter of the N. S. Cryers, was 5 Saturday and had a party to celebrate the occasion. Ken Gleason, Mary and Maggie Meade, Steve Lambert, Linda Hostler and Nadine Thrasher came for ice cream and cake shaped like a merry-go-round. They played games and all received prizes. There was another celebration at the Cryer home Tuesday, when Cathy's brother was 11.

Although the T. Merle Pauls, 815 W. Oakton, moved from Harvard some time ago, their Harvard friends are not letting them get homesick. Sunday Dr. and Mrs. Martin T. Bergsjo of Harvard visited in the afternoon and later that day the Roland Lemkers and Larry stopped by. Wednesday the Pauls drove to Mendota, where they were joined by Peoria friends for dinner. Mendota is a good meeting place, since it is the half way mark between their homes.

There was a birthday party at the Richard Lavers', 940 N. Fernandez, last week. Billy was 6 and celebrated in a way that appealed to all who came. Tommy Adam, Mike Buechner, Mark Rubenking, Mark Patlovich and Pete Bukowski arrived in time to see Billy open his gifts before they left for the Choo-choo restaurant in Des Plaines. This was the second celebration for Billy. Relatives came the preceding Sunday to wish him a happy birthday.

SATURDAY NIGHT the William Rudys, 822 N. Princeton, had dinner and went to the Great Northern theater to see the Old Vic company present Hamlet. Mrs. Rudy says that the cast did such an excellent job they made the modernized settings seem quite insignificant.

The Martin M. Saidikowskis, 828 N. Salem, took their children with them Saturday night when they joined 150 guests for the celebration of the silver wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Cook.

When Mrs. John Schipper, 1007 N. Kaspar, opened a letter from her son, Johnny, last Monday she received a double surprise. He received his M.A. degree from UCLA and also became engaged. He is now doing research work for Hughes Aircraft company and working on his doctor's degree.

It is good to hear that Mrs. Charles Vetter, 813 N. Patton, is home recuperating from an operation.

LAST TUESDAY evening Mrs. Mel Thrasher's son, Dennis Tossi, made his confirmation at St. James church. Mel's cousin, Mrs. Anthony Cassioppi, and her husband came from Rockford so that Mr. Cassioppi could be sponsor for Dennis. After the ceremony there was a family dinner at the Thrasher home. Coffee and cake were served later that day, when Mel's sisters came out. Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Gormer and Mrs. George Poulos and Georgie live in Chicago. Dennis is a fifth grader at St. James school.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Howes, 945 N. Kaspar, entertained a group of the Ridge Park bridge tournament Saturday night. Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Searfoss, Mr. and Mrs. Kent Robinson and the Howes made up the two tables of bridge.

The James Spiels, 730 N. Harvard, went to the housewarming for Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ketza, 735 N. Princeton, Saturday evening. Mrs. Spiel and Mrs. Ketza are sisters. Thirty relatives came to the Ketza home for a buffet supper and a tour of their home, after which they went to the basement for dancing to the hi-fi.

Firemen Reply To Five Calls During Week

Firemen answered five calls in Arlington Heights last week, according to Chief Harvey Caruthers.

They doused a grass fire at 12:08 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 4, at 1324 E. Rockwell.

A cigarette was blamed for a fire at 2:16 a.m. Wednesday, Nov. 5, in the William E. Hawkins home, 620 N. Hickory. The fire was extinguished by pump can, and damage limited to a studio couch and smoke in the living room.

Firemen were summoned at 11:56 a.m. to the H. W. Fisler home at 1524 N. Yale on Thursday, Nov. 6, to put out a fire in the electric motor of a sump pump.

Lint in the ventilator pipe of a gas clothes dryer caught fire Friday, Nov. 7, at the C. H. Oestman residence, 315 E. Park, at 8:35 a.m. No damage was reported.

A story-and-a-half dwelling at 931 N. Salem ave. was damaged by fire Saturday, Nov. 8, when firemen were called by Walter Munson. The blaze started in an upstairs storage room and spread through bedrooms. Water also damaged the first floor. Volunteers and full-time firemen had the fire out by 11:45. (AF

Arlington Hts. Man Assists In Serb Fete

Representatives of 28 Serbian-American groups, many of whom are former resistance fighters, prisoners of war, and refugees from Titoland, will attend a patriotic rally November 16, to see and hear Peter II, former king of Yugoslavia.

The 2 p.m. Sunday meeting will take place in the grand ballroom of the Sherman hotel, Chicago, and will feature choirs, soloists, and folkdance groups in what has been described as "a colorful program." George Milesevich, 216 S. Evergreen, Arlington Heights, is an officer with one of the Serbian relief agencies and a member of the executive committee.

DR. BOJIDAR Pouritch, the last royal premier of Yugoslavia, will be the principal speaker. His Grace, Rt. Rev. Bishop Dionisije, of Libertyville, head of the Serbian Orthodox church in the United States, will bless the gathering.

A banquet honoring King Peter will start at 6 p.m. at the Sherman, and will be followed by dancing, with Peter leading the first King's Kolo, a time-honored Serbian tradition wherever royalty is present. (A

Special Service

A special service of praise and thanksgiving will be held Sunday morning at Our Saviour's Lutheran church in Arlington Heights.

Rev. John P. Petersen, pastor, announced that the service would serve two purposes:

— to give the new congregation an opportunity to express its appreciation for its new church building by giving a special offering to the benevolence program of the United Lutheran Church in America; and — to mark the fortieth anniversary of the ULCA.

"This service will enable us to offer a combination anniversary and appreciation gift to the Illinois synod," explained the pastor.

OUR SAVIOUR'S church was organized in 1955 under supervision of the ULCA's home missions' board and received financial support and guidance from the synod during its first years.

The sermon Sunday will be given by Rev. Robert Schenck, president of the ULCA's Chicago conference.

Nearly 850 persons attended the church's first worship service and dedication program last Sunday. An additional 275 persons toured the new $208,000 church Friday night at an open house for the congregation and prospective members.

Another open house Tuesday night was for local businessmen, village officials, contractors and suppliers, clergymen, school officials, and neighbors. (A

Women's Club Plans Program

Members of the Arlington Heights Woman's club are broadening their efforts in behalf of the patients at the Hines Veterans hospital near Maywood.

The activities are being carried on by the veterans service committee of the club. Chairman of the group is Mrs. A. M. Gammill.

Recently a group of the club's members met with officials at the hospital for a screening. At that time the women were welcomed by Dr. Morris Thomas, acting manager of the hospital. Dr. R. A. Allen, assistant director of professional services; D L. LaRocque, chairman of the hospital's advisory committee, and Janet E. Morris, director of the orientation course for the Arlington Heights women and others who plan to help at the hospital.

MRS. Gammill, CL 3-4767, explained that the hospital was anxious to obtain volunteer helpers and that there were "many worthwhile and satisfying things to be done at Hines." The Arlington group plans to visit the hospital two days a month.

In connection with the Hines program, the Arlington women will continue to take gifts to the veterans, such as radios, records, magazines, books, playing cards, jigsaw puzzles, crossword puzzles with answers and men's clothing.

Members of the Woman's club also are active in providing services to the Nike base in Arlington Heights. Fresh flowers are donated and parties, such as at Christmas time, are hosted. Mrs. Fred Barney has continued with a practice of taking flowers to the base each week. (A

Social Security Designed To Protect Children, Too

By JULIUS BERMAN

One of the important reasons for social security insurance benefits is the protection of children. Before the recent changes in the law, however, foster children who had not been legally adopted were often out of luck where social security is concerned. I have known many "little orphan Annies" who were not eligible for payments.

I recall, in particular, the case of 6-year old Johnnie K. The Johnsons had taken him to live with them but before they could get around to a legal adoption, Mr. Johnson died. Mrs. Johnson fully expected to get survivor's payments for the little boy and for herself as she had the child in her care. It was our painful duty to tell her that benefits were not possible. Johnnie had not been legally adopted and she, as a widow without a legal minor child could not get payments as she was under 62.

IN 1958 CHANGES in the social security law make it possible to pay benefits to more children (including Johnnie) and more widows (including Mrs. Johnson). In the case of children, this results from the removal of the adoption provision in the old law; in the case of widows, the removal of the adoption provision will also permit the payment of mother's benefits in most cases.

It is no longer necessary that a child, other than the worker's own child, be an adopted child in order to qualify for survivor's benefits. The requirement now is that the child be "adoptable" and be adopted by the surviving spouse within two years after the worker's death. If the child was living in the worker's household as a member of the family, and was not supported by anyone other than the worker, the spouse or a social agency, he is now regarded, for social security purposes, the same as the worker's own child.

IN THE CASE of the adopted child of a retired insured worker it is no longer necessary that the child have been adopted for as long as three years in order to be eligible for benefit payments. The 3-year restriction was put in the old law to guard against abuses through adoptions undertaken to secure rights to benefits. As adoptions are subject to court approval in the various States, however, Congress decided that his is a rare abuse, and removed the restriction from the law. Benefits are now payable to an adopted child immediately after adoption.

Under the old law, the mother of a child adopted by her deceased husband could not get widow's benefits if their marriage had not been in effect for at least a year before his death. This often resulted in a situation where the child could get survivor's benefits but the widow with the child in her care could not. Under the amended law, the length-of-marriage restriction has been removed if the deceased worker legally adopted the spouse's child.

The amended law includes other changes relating to marriage and remarriage. I shall discuss them in the next article in this series. (BB

PRIVATE ENTERPRISE slipping? Sam Giaccio of Chicago says when he started sharpening scissors in 1935 there were 400 grinders plying their business in Chicago and suburbs. Now there are only 15 or 20 left. When Sam came from Italy he was a carpenter and cabinet maker, but he tried going on his own soon after. All scissor-grinders build their own grinding devices, Giaccio says. Accompanying him on his visit to Paddock Publications in Arlington Heights was Peter "Pat" Scarpetti, who came from Italy in 1949 and became Giaccio's assistant about a year ago.

Want to Be Beachcomber? Here's How to Make It Pay

by BILL DULANEY

Ever longed to get away from it all and hunt shells on a secluded beach for the rest of your life?

You can, and make a living at it, according to Dr. Alan Solem, assistant curator of lower invertebrates for Chicago's Natural History Museum.

"Few conchologists (shell hunters and collectors) ever get rich, but many are able to make a living by selling their finds to museums or other collectors," said Solem.

Some shells sell for as high as $900 with one species bringing $1,200, he said.

"THERE IS, however, a vast difference between the vacationer who idly picks up a pretty shell or two and the man who makes a living hunting shells. The latter knows when, where, and what to seek," said Solem.

"Many persons have no idea of how a shell is formed or what to look for in collecting specimens. They think the ocean just tosses shells up on the beach, and if you find a pretty one, you're lucky," he said.

Shells are members of the animal kingdom, and while those found along the beach are generally dead, "They were once as alive as you or I," explained Solem.

Shells belong to a tribe of the animal kingdom called mollusks. The tribe includes slugs, snails, mussels, clams, oysters and other invertebrates animals lacking a backbone).

THE INTERNAL organs of a mollusk are enveloped in a sac of skin called a mantle. The mantle manufactures the shell.

The secretion that comes from it is impregnated with carbonate of lime which is obtained from the food supply.

When there is only a small amount of lime present in the food supply, the shell is thin and delicate. When there is a great deal of lime, the shell is thick and heavy.

Solem terms "beach shells" of little value. "They're mostly dead shells, faded by the sun, chipped or blunted by waves, and like a damaged stamp or coin, worthless to the collector," he explained.

A better grade of shells are those termed "freshly dead." These are shells that have just died and are found soon after being cast upon the beach. Or they may have been left high and dry by a falling tide, said Solem.

THE BEST GRADE of shells, however, are the ones taken alive.

"Not only are live shells in better shape in form and color than dead ones, but there is a possibility of nurturing them and eventually having them reproduce," said Solem.

While low tide is the best time for hunting shells, there is also a seasonal factor to consider. At certain times of the year a beach may be covered with a particular shell, but it may be months before the shell appears again, explained Solem.

On Florida's west coast, a shell collector's paradise, shelling reaches its peak from February through May.

"While most shells are taken from shallow water, the really great shell treasures are generally found in deep water imbedded in coral or attached to rocks or wrecks," said Solem.

THE SHELL was discovered in 1830, but there are only 25 specimens known to exist today.

However, said Solem, within the past two years two live specimens of the shell have been found and malacologists (those who study the animals within shells as well as shells themselves) are attempting to reproduce Conus Gloria offspring.

The rarest shell in existence today, a specimen of the Gloria sells for $1,200.

Another rare shell before 1900, was the Scala pretiosa or Chinese wentle-trap, dredged off the coasts of China and Japan.

This shell brought upwards of $300, and trade in them became so lucrative that copies were made from rice paste and sold to dealers.

Since the turn of the century the genuine shells have become so plentiful that, paradoxically, the imitations are now the rare items.

There are approximately 100,000 different species of shells known to exist today, and within each species there are numerous families of varying colors and minute differences, said Solem.

SHADINGS OF shells are so subtle that within one species found in this country there are 180 color variations.

Solem, who is going to Panama for two months this winter in quest of new specimens, estimates the museum's collection at over a million shells.

Ninety per cent of the 100,000 species are a half-inch or less in size, but the Giant Clam, the world's largest shell, may measure from three to four feet across and weigh as much as 500 pounds, said Solem.

This clam, found in the South Seas, was once used as a baptismal font for Polynesian babies.

The Horse Conch is the largest shell found in American waters. It may reach a length of two feet.

WHETHER OR NOT you intend to take up shell collecting for your life's work, it can still be a fascinating hobby, said Solem, who got his doctorate in zoology from the University of Michigan.

While the best shell hunting grounds in North American waters are found off the coasts of Florida, California, Cuba, and the Caribbean islands, a Chicagoan unable to get to these places can still find 120 different types of shells within a five mile radius of the Loop, said Solem.

"Lake Michigan, woods, ponds or damp ground, all contain many fine specimens of shells," he said.

JUST DOGS

by DAVE TERRILL

Pups React to Bringing Up

In tests made at the Jackson Memorial laboratory, Bar Harbor, Me., to determine how pups should be brought up, either indulgently or strictly, it was found that pups, like children, reacted somewhat according to the individual.

One group of pups was brought indulgently — they were encouraged to do whatever they wanted and were never punished. A second group were subject to strict discipline and trained to sit, stay and come on command. At eight weeks of age each pup was tested for obedience. Placed in a room with food, it was punished whenever it touched the food. The experimenter left the room after a few minutes and watched the pup through a one-way glass to see what happened.

Among the Fox Terriers and Beagles, the indulged pups tended to be obedient, while the strictly reared pups generally began eating soon after the experimenter left the room. Timid Shetland Sheepdogs, whether indulgently or strictly reared, tended to show obedience to the test, while the aloof Basenjis tended to be disobedient, regardless of upbringing. The indulged Shetlands and Basenjis were more active, vocal and less timid than their strictly raised fellows.

All of which seems to bring out the fact that to some degree it is the individual that determines how they would react under certain conditions.

Fox Valley Obedience

There were at least 15 people from this area who entered their dogs in the Fox Valley Dog Training club obedience trial held last Sunday in St. Charles.

Many of them came out of the affair with some high scores in the classes entered and with trophies to prove it. Those reported to this editor were Wilbur Nelson of Arlington Heights with his miniature Poodle, who won third place in the Open A class. Also from Arlington Heights, Mrs. Jack Scott won the trophy awarded to the owner of the highest scoring toy breed, which in this case was a toy Poodle.

Entering an obedience trial for the first time with her Irish Setter, Sharon Kraehmer of Mt. Prospect won fifth place in the Novice A class. From Palatine, Mrs. Ward Siewert and her Dachshound entered in the Novice A class went home with the trophy awarded to the highest scoring Dachshund.

The club trophy offered by the Northwest Obedience club from Palatine to one of its members with the highest score in either of the two Novice classes was won by Ilomae Kranz of Northbrook with her Doberman Pinscher.

Happy Hunting

Your editor hopes that the local nimrods will do well this season. Reports have not been too good relative to ducks coming down to winter nesting areas, however, things should pick up now that cold weather is finally here. In the South Dakota area the pheasants are reported in great numbers with good results.

From early indications, it would seem that to have a dog along would be the best way to make sure of picking up all game hit and knocked down. Many a cripple has been missed because a dog was not on hand to retrieve it.

Barks & Bays

This business of hunting brings to mind that perhaps one of the reasons a dog helps a great deal is that he can hear a sound at 80 feet that can't be heard by a man at 20 feet.

Move to Improve Electric Capacity

A move to improve electrical distribution capacity in Wheeling township was made Friday by the Commonwealth Edison company.

A petition to extend Edison's 7,200 volt distribution line one mile along its existing right-of-way near the Soo Line tracks and Palatine road was filed with the Illinois Commerce Commission in Springfield.

The extension, to be constructed at a cost of $14,000, would connect at each end with an existing distribution line in Wheeling township.

Hearings will be set before the state commission in Chicago.

EYE TO EYE
Seeing things the same way generally spells success for two people. Consistent agreement on important matters will build a partnership strong enough to last a lifetime.
For young people, the objective of financial security should be one of life's more important goals. Too often, the savings program is put off—money is spent on seemingly more necessary things.
Many opportunities require proper financing. It may be a chance to buy just the home you've wanted, or to capitalize on a good business opportunity. Opportunities don't wait for a convenient time, and when they do come, they often call for swift action. Saving for these occasions is the first essential step in building your estate.
No matter what your income, it is possible to save regularly, to build financial security and independence at Oak Park Federal Savings.
You can be completely assured of four important things when you do: (1) savings safety—your account is insured to $10,000.00, (2) availability—your money is ready for you, anytime you want it, (3) convenience—the finest saving facilities in the world, (4) high earning power—your savings earn at the highest rates consistent with good management practices.
Come in, or investigate Oak Park Federal's easy save-by-mail plan. A phone call or post card with your name and address is all that's necessary. Do it today.
We transfer savings funds from anywhere in the world at no cost to you.

MAP Welcomes New Realty Firm

A. C. Kelter, president of MAP Multiple Listing Service, has announced the affiliation with MAP of the realty firm of Bruns and Payne, the newest member of the service. Twenty-five other offices comprise the balance of the membership of the two year old real estate information clearing house.

Members of the firm are: Ralph Bruns, owner; Howard Kagay, sales manager; George Ekeberg, and Fred Potter.

Bruns and Payne has been actively in business in Arlington Heights for the past two years, and are located at 1306 West Northwest Highway.

Bruns, now owner, was associated with McKay and Nealis in Des Plaines prior to his becoming a partner in the firm. Kagay, until recently, was a staff member of Chicago Title and Trust company.

IN ORDER to qualify for MAP membership, a realty firm must be well established, and possessed of a good reputation for integrity and professional conduct.

Membership in the Northwest Suburban Board of Realtors is another requisite, which assures the property owner of professional achievement and compliance with the Realtor's code of ethics, thereby giving added protection for the property owner or prospective owner beyond that required by the state real estate code.

MAP Multiple Listing Service is the only such service devoting itself exclusively to Mt. Prospect, Arlington Heights, Palatine, Wheeling, Prospect Heights, and their related countryside areas.

Each of the 26 member offices has full information on all the listings offered through MAP, thus adding another fine service to the accomplishments of which it can boast. This vast library of information is an aid to both buyer and seller, since it gives an accurate cross-section of a goodly part of the property offered for sale in the Northwest Suburbs.

Tax information, lot sizes, living area in square feet, and room dimensions are but a few of the facts that can be immediately noted and compared for the interested buyer's or seller's benefit. The member offices of MAP invite inquiry, and offer counselling to anyone who has a problem relative to property ownership.

The facilities of all 26 offices are at the disposal of the general public in the general interest of the communities served by MAP.

Carl Clare Heads Subsidiary Firm

CARL P. CLARE

Electronic research and manufacture within Universal Controls, Inc. will be expanded considerably with the election of Carl P. Clare, 625 Newbury pl., Arlington Heights, president of Universal's wholly-owned subsidiary, C. P. Clare and co., to additional duties as executive vice president of the parent company.

The Clare company is a major producer of electrical relays and switches for the electronics industry and the armed services.

This was announced by M. Mac Schwebel, president of Universal who said that "broadening the scope of Clare's executive and research responsibilities was in recognition of his leadership in the electronics field and his contribution to the growth of both the company he founded and to Universal."

SCHWEBEL emphasized that Clare will continue his personal leadership of C. P. Clare and co., which has plants in Chicago and in Fairview, N.C., and a major research and development laboratory in Chicago.

In other moves to further strengthen the top management echelon of Universal, Schwebel announced the creation of an executive committee for Universal with Carroll Rosenbloom, chairman of the Blue Ridge Manufacturing co., as chairman and with Louis Chesler, chairman of General Development corp., and Schwebel as members.

The Clare company produced the relays which are now used aboard all the U.S. Navy's nuclear submarines and in the armed services' intercontinental ballistics missiles. Major communications systems and many of the giant computers in use today also count Clare products among their key components.

Launch $500,000 Campaign For Holy Family Hospital

The first organizational meeting of the Holy Family hospital building fund campaign took place November 5 at the Provincial House of the Sisters of the Holy Family of Nazareth, at 353 N. River rd., Des Plaines.

The Reverend Mother M. Aloysius, Provincial Superior, announced a $500,000 goal for the hospital drive.

Pastors and their assistants represented the following areas:

DES PLAINES: Very Reverend George C. Halpin; Reverend Patrick A. Bird, pastor, St. Mary's; Reverend Francis Buck, pastor, Our Lady of Hope; Reverend Thomas Hanely, pastor, St. Stephen Protomartyr; Reverend John J. Dussman, pastor, Our Lady of Perpetual Hope;

BUFFALO GROVE: Rev. George Ballweber, pastor, St. Mary's;

PALATINE: Rev. Arthur O'Brien, pastor, St. Theresa; and WHEELING: Rev. George Mulcahey, pastor, St. Joseph the Worker.

MOTHER ALOYSIUS revealed that the Sisters of the Holy Family of Nazareth are borrowing $1,000,000 to help defray the cost of the building construction and are in the process of selling property which will net another $500,000 which also will be allotted to alleviate the cost of the new hospital. The Hill Burton Agency, a federal Agency, has appropriated $636,000 toward this project.

The new 3-story hospital will be erected on a 60-acre plot at the corner of Golf and River roads in Des Plaines. The overall cost of the construction will be $3,000,000.

Arrangements for other organizational meetings are being formulated for the week of November 16. (BB

Q. While in a restaurant recently, the waiter lighted some candles on our table. The light annoyed us, and I blew the candles out. Was this proper?

A. Properly, you should have asked the waiter to remove the candles.

Marks 35 Years In Utility Firm

FRED UTTERBACK

Fred C. Utterback, 116 S. Pine, Arlington Heights, manager of industrial gas sales for Northern Illinois Gas company, Thursday celebrated his 35th anniversary in the utility business.

Starting in 1923, Utterback was named field engineer in 1925; gas construction inspector in the operating department in 1926; senior field engineer in the engineering department in 1931; senior engineer in 1932; gas heat engineer in the sales department in 1934; northern division gas engineer in 1937; industrial gas engineer in 1941; and general office manager of industrial gas sales in 1949.

HIS HEADQUARTERS was moved from Chicago to Bellwood in 1952. Previously his offices had been in Waukegan, Crystal Lake, Evanston, Northbrook, and Oak Park.

Utterback is a member of the Arlington Heights Methodist church; Midwest Industrial Gas Council; promotion advisory committee of the American Gas association; and Triangle Engineering Fraternity. His hobbies include color photography, traveling and football.

He has a daughter, Mrs. Mary Talmy, of Pasadena, Calif.; and a son, Bill Utterback, of Chicago.

Appointed Manager Of Bureau

T. J. OCASEK

Thomas J. Ocasek, 409 Banbury rd., Arlington Heights, has been appointed manager of the Fire Prevention Department of Western Acturial Bureau to succeed the late Richard E. Vernor.

Ocasek began his insurance career in 1923 with Underwriters Service association. He served in the Ohio field about 15 years for USA and became assistant manager in 1947. During World War II, he held a state command post under Gov. Bricker for the training of industrial plant fire brigades and anti-sabotage protection.

Entering the brokerage field in 1948, he became chief engineer and later vice-president of Rollins Burdick Hunter Co. of Chicago. He is a past president of Chicago chapter of Society of Fire Protection Engineers and of Chicago Buckeye club.

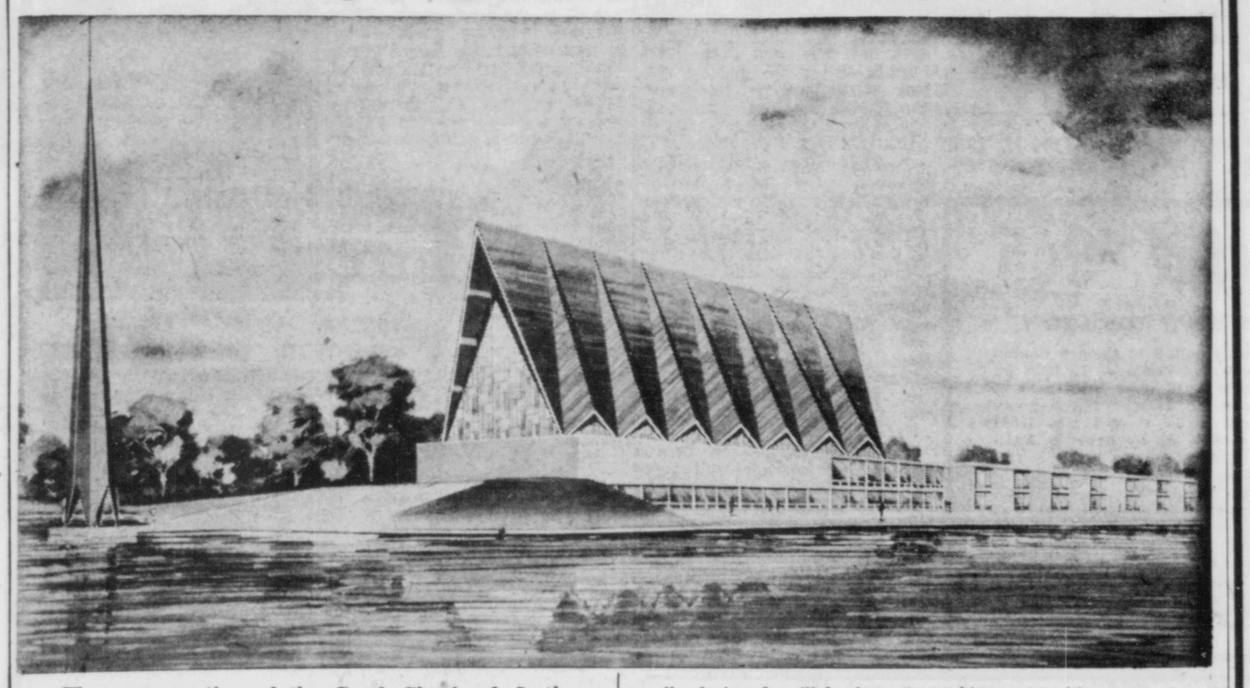
Unique 'Church on the Lake' Begins Final Campaign for Building Funds



The congregation of the Good Shepherd Lutheran church in Des Plaines has begun a final drive to raise funds for what is described as one of the most beautiful and unusual churches in the midwest.

The imaginative structure—to cost about $200,000 in its first stage—is being built on a unique lake front site created by the Illinois Toll Roads.

Bids are now being taken from prospective contractors. They are due by November 21.

In 1945, Good Shepherd Lutheran church was a tiny mission congregation. Services for 43 persons were conducted in the home of one of the worshippers. The congregation was organized by the Rev. Mr. Herbert H. Nagel at the behest of the Chicago Lutheran Church Extension Association.

REV. NAGEL'S flock has grown to almost 800, including 325 Sunday school students. Three times—in 1946, 1947, and 1950, the church had to expand its facilities.

The new church is being designed by William M. Cooley, A.I.A., and Associates of Park Ridge, Illinois. The contemporary structure features a steeply pitched, fluted roof, with multi-colored cathedral glass in the chancel area. Walls will be of face brick, exposed on the interior.

Plans for the futuristic church are available at Cooley's office, 532 Busse Highway in Park Ridge. It is hoped that the church's fund drive will be successful enough to cover construction costs.

A seven acre site adjacent to a 52 acre man-made lake serves as the church's plot. The artificial lake was dug according to specifications agreed on cooperatively by the church and the Des Plaines park board.

THE CHURCH WILL be built on a mound of earth 80 by 600 feet long and seven feet high, allowing for split-level construction. The raised church was made possible by the toll road contractor, the S. G. Groves company, which donated more than 6,000 yards of fill to the church.

Architect Cooley, who has designed more than 100 contemporary churches in the Chicagoland area, calls the site "the most interesting I've ever been privileged to work on. In my opinion," he says, "it ranks as one of the world's most breathtaking church sites."

On the land side, the entrance to the church is at ground level. On the opposite side, the basement fellowship hall boasts broad expanses of windows directly overlooking the placid lake.

THE CHURCH'S seating capacity is 475 persons—332 in the nave, 50 in the balcony, and an overflow of 93 in the narthex.

The church's expandable sanctuary, however, allows for an eventual capacity of 720 worshippers.

The unusual stained glass chancel window is 25 feet high and 30 feet wide, and carries the theme: "The Good Shepherd Giveth His Life for the Sheep."

Symbols such as the Lamb of God, the Shepherd's Crook, and a triumphal banner are woven into the window. The glass for the window—which Cooley personally designed—will be imported from Holland, Belgium, England, France, and Germany. The colorful window ranges from near-black at the bottom to a triumphant gold at the top.

A MONUMENTAL 36 foot cross adorns the center of the stained glass window. The cross will be internally lit, and is a prominent part of the chancel. Below the cross is a marble altar of imported Italian travertine.

The basement fellowship hall will accommodate 225 for dinner and 330 for assembly purposes. Expanded, the fellowship hall will seat 400 diners.

Eventually, the church hopes to build a full-time elementary school, with eight grades, a kindergarten, and a gymnasium. Cooley has initially designed a six room parsonage for the site. The congregation also hopes to add a duplex teacherage—unique for local religious schools—in the near future.

An inlet has been carved into the shoreline of the artificial lake to form a bay. A 100 foot copper tower, topped with a gold cross, is set in this bay, away from the shore. In the base of the tower is a pulpit from which the Rev. Nagel may address his congregation, which will be seated in an outdoor amphitheatre.

CEDAR TREES line the picturesque front approach drive. A fountain, surrounded by a circular drive, is set at the top of the entry. In the center of the fountain will be placed a statue in bronze of Jesus as "The Good Shepherd."

A covered canopy will allow access to the church from the parking area without exposure to the rain. The site also provides for playground areas, with space for basketball, tennis, baseball, and picnics.

Good Shepherd decided on the new building in 1954, when the present structure became quite overcrowded. Land was purchased the next year, and the preliminary plans were approved finally just last year. Cooley's office finished the working plans about one month ago.

Each time the congregation has expanded in the past, Pastor Nagel's flock has done most of the construction work itself. At present, they are worshipping in a white "L"-shaped structure consisting of a chapel, fellowship hall, narthex, and kitchen.

Science Creates Quiet Automobile

Is it possible for an automobile to be as quiet as a library?

Extensive scientific research by Lincoln engineers and the use of specially designed testing equipment have made the 1959 Lincoln one of the quietest running automobiles on the American highway, according to R. S. Stoffel, sales manager, Touhy Avenue Motors, Park Ridge.

Two basic aims of unitized construction in the Lincoln and Continental are strength and silence.

THE STORY of strength lies in the fact that the body and frame are integrated into one massive piece of welded steel components. More than 10,000 welds add strength to the all steel body. More important, these welds permit the maintenance of closer tolerances for tighter door fits and eliminate any body movements that contribute to noise.

The story of silence begins earlier. It is more complex and demands the use of instruments normally found only in a scientific laboratory. Before the body is ever assembled, each metal body component is tested for vibration and noise characteristics.

The testing process is comparable to tuning a complex musical instrument. To test each body component, the engineers take a device known as an "electro mechanical exciter" and attach it to the component. This precision machine shakes the component and finds out what noises occur at various frequencies. The trick is to eliminate resonance points. This discovery tells the engineer where to apply various kinds of sound deadener material.

WHEN EACH component is checked the body is built into a unit. It is then divided into four inch squares similar to a checkerboard. Each square is then checked with a sound meter. Vibrations are picked up and a sound level measuring device is used to equate the vibrations. Sound tapes are made and engineers play them back in a special recording studio. The findings are then analyzed and engineered into the car to properly tune the body, eliminating disturbing noise characteristics.

While the body-in-white is tuned properly to eliminate bothersome noises, the engine, heaviest of all components, is made to rest quietly, using larger rubber engine mounts for cushions. Such things as standard undercoating reduce stone noises and fender vibrations.

In addition, each accessory is tuned individually and checked for maximum quiet when it is installed in the car.

Inside the Lincoln and Continental a variety of sound deadeners and heat insulation are applied. The dividing wall between the engine compartment and the passenger compartment is made up like a sandwich. It consists of a layer of waffle felt, a sheet of aluminum and a layer of fiber glass in addition to the steel instrument cowl.

Such body components as the door and rear quarter panels are insulated with waffle felt and a special mastic compound. Waffle felt also covers the floor from the front to the rear including the trunk area and trunk lid. There is a layer of jute beneath the carpet, which in itself acts as a silencer.

Bell Employee Presented Award

PRESENTING the Theodore N. Vail Award for community service to Elwing D. Carlsen is Gordon Aller, left, general manager of Illinois Bell Telephone co.

An Illinois Bell Telephone company employee Wednesday received the highest award the telephone industry can give to a telephone man or woman—the Theodore N. Vail award for saving a life.

Elwing D. Carlsen, who lives at 1309 N. Pine Grove, Round Lake Beach, was the guest of honor at a luncheon at the Country Squire near Grayslake. Gordon Aller, General Manager of Illinois Bell, presented the award to Carlsen in the presence of Arlington Heights and Round Lake City officials and civic leaders who were invited to attend.

THE INCIDENT for which Carlsen was honored took place in a snow storm the afternoon of January 21, 1958. Carlsen, then a PBX installer in Evanston district, was crossing a railroad between Palatine and Barrington when he saw a car stuck between the rails a few feet from the crossing.

Carlsen warned the driver, a woman, that a train was due on the tracks in a few minutes and went to a nearby gas station for a tow truck. He returned to the stalled car and found the driver in the car trying to drive it off the track.

He persuaded her to leave the car less than a minute before it was demolished by the train.

The Vail Award recognized Carlsen's life saving act.

VAIL AWARDS were created in 1920 as a memorial to Theodore N. Vail, a pioneer in the telephone industry. They are presented to telephone employees who meet emergency situations with quick thinking and cool action that results in saving human life. All awards are made by an impartial committee which reviews all acts of heroism by telephone employees.

Carlsen, who is now assigned to the Arlington Heights telephone office, was accompanied to the ceremony by his wife. They have two children, a son and a daughter.

Saks Fifth Ave. Opens New Store

Large crowds greeted the official opening of Saks Fifth Avenue at Old Orchard Monday noon. Many women probably came out of curiosity and stayed to buy. New innovations in stock display and use of "shadow boxes" in place of the old time window display was only one of the features that earmark this store.

Throughout the entire store the color scheme of "Orchard Rose" was carried out.

Governor Stratton and men prominent in the merchandising world of both Chicago and New York were among the guests at a luncheon held at Le Manoir.

PHILIP M. KLUTZNICK, president of Old Orchard business district, Inc., had these words to say as the ribbon was cut:

"Shopping centers have become one of the modern real estate phenomena. On every side one hears of centers being planned or built in addition to the many that have already been developed in post-war America. We are accumulating an interesting experience in our effort to make the shopping center draw and keep the consumer. Planners and developers worry about highways to reach the centers; they then spend countless hours trying to achieve an attractive layout within the economics of the project. Worry about store fronts, building materials, parking lots and their layouts absorb the developer.

"Actually, when all is said and done, no matter how much traffic uses the abutting highway, no matter how attractive the structures, how rich the floral exhibits and landscaping, or now numerous the parking spaces, the heart and core of a shopping center is the merchant. There are some merchants whose concern with what they sell and how they sell it, and with the interest of the consumer as well as the seller, is so sensible and sincere that they can do business in the wilderness. There are others who may have the most attractive environment, in the best location, and yet the consumer passes them by.

"The basic premise of Old Orchard has been to bring the best merchants possible into the finest environment that is economically feasible. It is for this reason that within months it should be possible to demonstrate that the largest percentage of customers visit Old Orchard, next only to the famous Loop of Chicago, within Chicagoland. It is in the pursuit of this policy that we find a special delight in welcoming one of the great merchant families of America—the Gimbels—into Old Orchard with one of theirfinest shops, Saks Fifth Avenue," he concluded.

Illinois to Be Midwest Capitol

Illinois, in the next 10 years, will become the capitol state of America, as it is now the capitol state Mid-America.

This was the prediction this week by Ralph J. Finitzo, President, Home Builders Association of Illinois and a Chicago realtor and home builder.

Basing his prediction on figures produced by the University of Illinois, Finitzo said that this and other recent surveys indicate that the Chicago area, alone, will have an estimated population growth of 1.5 million in the next decade, and that the states' total will reach 10 million people.

IT WAS ALSO estimated, he said, that $10 billion alone will be spent on the Cal-Sag Canal development area, with a resultant development of 15,000 acres for new building and the creation of 650,000 new jobs.

Similar developments, he stated, are being planned for many Illinois cities, especially those following the natural lines of transportation and communication.

Finitzo stated that this is one of the major reasons for the convention of the Home Builders Assocation of Illinois to be held November 16-19 at the Pere Marquette hotel in Peoria.

"We are now very near the national centers of population and agriculture," Finitzo continued, "it is only natural that this great state of ours will become, in the very near future, the center of government, housing, industry and culture."

He pointed out that, already, the Chicago area is the greatest producer of steel - biggest transportation center and producer of and distributor of real products.

However, the builder - realtor charged the Illinois' area is underdeveloped, under built.

HE SAID THAT recent construction figures released by the F. W. Dodge corporation and the departments of labor and commerce showed that residential construction across the nation was up 9 per cent during October and 3 per cent so far this year; but that here in Illinois, housing was off some 10 per cent.

"The opportunity to serve this state and in turn, the nation is wide open to the home builder," he said.

The builder-executive said that Marvin B. Myers, Rockford, convention committee chairman of the Association, had informed him that home building experts from the national and state scene will be present at the convention for just that purpose — to lend advice in this period of rapid development. (BB

Editor Is Banquet Speaker

One of the main speakers Saturday night at an installation banquet for the Illinois councils of League of United Latin American Citizens in Chicago was Charles E. Hayes, 36 S. Highland ave., Arlington Heights.

The banquet at the Midwest hotel was held in conjunction with the Supreme Council meeting of LULAC.

Other speakers at the banquet for 300 guests were Col. Jack Riley, chairman of the Pan American games committee; Judge Walter J. Kowalski of Chicago's Municipal court; and Felix Tijerina, national president of LULAC.

Hayes is managing editor of Paddock Publications, Inc., and was recently made an honorary member of LULAC in recognition of his efforts in behalf of Mexican-Americans residing in northwest suburbs. (BB

Christmas Seals To Deluge Area

Twenty-seven and a half tons of brightly-colored Christmas Seals are deluging Chicagoland this week.

They are appearing in the mailboxes of one million, one hundred thousand families in the city and suburbs to mark the launching of the 1958 Christmas Seal Sale.

The Seal Sale officially opens on November 14 and continues through Christmas Day.

FUNDS RAISED through the sale of the Seals are used to fight contagious tuberculosis in the Chicago area through free chest X-raying and tuberculin testing, health education, rehabilitation of former TB patients, and medical research.

The 1958 Christmas Seals depict a little boy and girl, clad in winter coats, hoods, and mittens, writing "Christmas Greetings" on a blackboard.

"Buying and using the Christmas Seals is a wonderful form of Christmas greeting," said Dr. Edgar W. Swanson, chairman of the Christmas Seal Committee.

"These actions send Christmas greetings to the thousands of Chicago and Cook County residents who now have or who have had tuberculosis. It is the way that all of us who are healthy have of saying, 'We're with you in the fight to regain your health'."

The Seals are used to decorate cards and packages mailed during the Christmas season, and can also be used in original and clever designs in decorations around the home at Christmas.

Area's Water Dilemma Is Explained

Ray Chmelik, president of the Culligan Water Conditioning company in Mt. Prospect, recently announced major expansion for his office, plant and display facilities.

The new plant, measuring an area of 60 x 60 ft., will be added onto the existing plant located at 3 W. Central road.

He explained that his large addition was necessary to enable him to handle the tremendous increase in business resulting from the large number of families buying homes in the northwest suburbs.

"Most people who were used to hard Chicago water didn't realize how hard suburban water could be," Chmelik stated, "until they moved into their new homes. Usually we get calls for a soft water installation within a week after most people move into their homes. After they see how dingy their clothes look when laundered in hard water, or how difficult it is to bathe or shave with hard water," Chmelik continued, "they ask us what their problem is."

TO WATER conditioning men like Chmelik, the answer to this problem is simply that the water in the northwest area is hard. Since the water in most areas comes from privately owned or municipal wells, it picks up hardness minerals and other impurities as it flows underground. These minerals make the water difficult to live with, as they cause the water to react with soaps to form a scum or soap curd. Other impurities cause staining of clothing, even porcelain fixtures. In some sections, water supplies have a "rotten egg" taste and odor while others contain suspended impurities which make it appear cloudy. All of these problems can be solved by the installation of a proper water softener, water filter or chlorinator."

Even the families who use Chicago water in their homes have a hard water problem, since Lake Michigan water is approximately eight grains hard. Experts agree that any water over three grains hard should be softened for economical and efficient use in the home. "Chicago has the hardest water of any large city in the country." Chmelik said, "it's no wonder that water softening is such a big business in this area."

Chmelik plans to hold an Open House celebration when his new plant is completed this fall. Visitors will be able to see how water softeners are regenerated and, more important, they can view the tremendous amounts of solid impurities which are filtered from seemingly clear water by a water softener. STUDEBAKER'S 1959 LARK four-door sedan is available in either Deluxe or Regal trim and with either the new, more economical Six or the shorter-stroke, higher compression ratio V-8. The new Lark four-door sedan has as much inferior room as longer cars, with more head-room than many. The distinctive grille gives the new Studebaker Lark a flair that resembles the motif of many sports cars. Increased stability with reduced body roll on curves contributes to the greater comfort and safety of the new Lark series. This results both from an improved suspension system and a wider tread for 1959.

Lake County Planners Hear Brickman Opponents Tues.

The Lake county planning commission will hear objectors to Builder Joseph Brickman's $1 billion "Blueprint of the Future" Tuesday, Nov. 18.

The first step toward development of the proposed 6,222 acre community was taken last week when the Glen Oaks Service company filed a petition with the Illinois Commerce commission seeking authority to erect and operate a water and sewer system in 554 Brickman owned acres in Ela township.

THE FOCUS OF controversy for more than a year, Brickman's plan visualizes 16,000 homes, 6,000 apartments, one high school, four junior high schools, 29 grade schools, a fire and police station, library, golf course and hospital to be built over a 15 year period.

The ultimate population of the community is estimated at between 60,000 to 80,000 persons.

Longtime residents of Ela township claim Brickman is attempting to form a "captive community." Numerous legal battles have ensued, and at least three court actions are still pending.

Attorneys for Brickman are pressing a disconnection petition against the village of Deer Park. Other suits contest the legality of Kildeer's and Hawthorn Wood's incorporation.

THE LATEST opposition group to Brickman's plan is the Ela Township Women's Civic association.

Comprised of women from Deer Park, Hawthorne Woods, Kildeer, Lake Zurich and Long Grove, the organization's purpose, according to Mrs. Malcolm Shroyer of Hawthorn Woods, is to help prevent "rash rezoning of property for private exploitation."

"It is the contention of the association," said Mrs. Shroyer, "that Mr. Brickman's plan for rezoning is merely part of a get-rich-quick scheme. Everybody but Mr. Brickman would lose and thousands of acres of beautiful countryside sacrificed to his personal ambition."

Q. How are invitations to bridal showers issued?

A. Since these are informal affairs, the invitations may be made by telephone, note, card, or even in person.

Q. What should one say to people who have just had a death in their family?

A. Upon the occasion of death, some expression of sympathy is always appreciated by the family, but the less elaborate the expression the better. A simple "I am sorry. Is there anything I can do?" is sincere and sufficient.

Season-End Grain Stocks Reach New Record Highs

by L. H. SIMERL

Carryover stocks of sorghum grain, corn and soybeans were at new record highs at the end of the 1957-58 marketing year. Price support programs were the principal cause of the large accumulations of corn and sorghum grain. These accumulations may be good or not, depending on their size in relation to national needs.

THE CARRYOVER of sorghum grain on October 1 was estimated at 309 million bushels. This amount is nearly four times the previous record set in 1956 and equaled in 1957. It is 69 per cent of total 1957 production.

The 1958 crop was estimated in October at 607 million bushels, 8 per cent above last year's record. Texas, Kansas and Nebraska are the leading producers. Price support loans are available at $1.83 a hundred pounds. The crop is drier than it was last year, so the price support program may be more effective.

CARRYOVER of corn on October 1 was estimated at 1,467 million bushels. This amount is only 3 per cent more than the previous record set a year ago, but equals 41 per cent of the 1957 crop. Before price supports a normal carryover was about 10 per cent of the previous year's crop.

The 1958 crop was estimated in October at 3,686 million bushels, which is 8 per cent more than last year, but only 2 per cent more than the previous record crop harvested 10 years ago.

The national average price support loan rate for non-compliance corn is $1.06 a bushel. Harvest time sales seem likely to hold prices 10 to 15 cents below the loan level for a few weeks.

THE CARRYOVER of old soybeans on October 1 was estimated at only 21 million bushels. Although this is about twice the largest previous record carryover, it is only 4 per cent of the 1957 crop. Excessive carryover was prevented first by keeping price support levels in line with market values and more recently by paying large subsidies for the exporting of soybean oil under public law 480.

The 1958 crop is estimated at 573 million bushels, up 19 per cent from the previous record set just last year. The official average price support loan rate is $2.09 a bushel, but the rate is a few cents higher for dry beans. Prices will probably stay 10 to 15 cents under the loan until farmers put around 100 million bushels under price support.

WHEAT ON October 1 was also at a new record high of 2,126 million bushels, or 18 per cent more than the previous record for the date set two years ago. October 1 stocks include most of the 1,449 million bushels of wheat produced this year as well as that remaining from previous crops. Carryover next July 1 is forecast at 1,330 million bushels.

Wheat prices have received some support from recent international arguments. The national average price support rate is $1.82 a bushel. Substantial amounts of wheat, however, are not eligible for price support. Recent prices for the red winter wheats have been about 10 cents below the loan level.

U. of I. Studies Shipping Fever

University of Illinois veterinarians are taking a different approach this year in studying the shipping fever complex.

Calves are being followed from the farm of origin through the sale of the feedlot in an attempt to determine the cause of shipping fever. Dr. A. B. Hoerlein of the college of veterinary medicine explained this at the recent Illinois Veterinary Medical conference held in Urbana.

Shipping fever, a respiratory disease of cattle, develops after cattle are shipped from the farms or ranches where they were produced to the corn-belt feedlots. The disease is estimated to cost Illinois farmers $2 million annually.

THE CAUSE of shipping fever is unknown. Since the disease is complex — perhaps as complex as the common cold of man — very little research to determine the cause has been done in the last 30 years, points out Dr. Hoerlein.

The college's new research program, aimed at determining the cause of shipping fever, is expanding rapidly. If the cause of the disease is learned, preventive measures can be developed.

One of the unique features of this research program, says Dr. Hoerlein, is the enthusiastic cooperation being shown by the farmers producing calves, by the state and by the practicing veterinarians.

MATERIALS from field investigations are studied in the college's laboratories. Along with these field studies, continuing detailed investigations are being carried out with the university's experimental herds in Urbana and at the Dixon Springs Experiment station.

Trials to evaluate tranquilizing drugs used in calves following weaning will again be made at Dixon Springs. Results from trials last year showed no advantage in their use, except that the calves were very quiet after weaning, says Dr. Hoerlein.

Watch Out Corn Pickers

You've heard the saying, "Clothes make the man." But the records show that clothes — the wrong kind, that is — can hurt him, too, if they are responsible for an accident around corn-harvesting machinery.

O. L. Hogsett, University of Illinois safety specialist, says that a man running a corn picker should wear comfortable, snug-fitting clothes that won't catch on moving gears, shafts or other moving parts.

Even a fairly smooth shaft can grab a torn pants leg, beginning with one little thread and then gobbling up the rest of the pants —with the victim in them.

And watch out what kind of gloves your husband wears, too. It's safest to wear none at all. But, if the weather makes them necessary, they should be cloth ones with floppy gauntlets. Especially steer away from double-thumb gloves. Leather gloves are not as safe as cloth gloves because they won't pull off so easily if they become caught.

If you've been putting off mending some of your husband's clothes, do it now before the corn-picking season gets into full swing. It may prevent an injury or perhaps save his life.

Minerals for Sows, Gilts

Brood sows and gilts need plenty of the right minerals to farrow healthy pigs and get them off to a good start, according to a University of Illinois veterinarian.

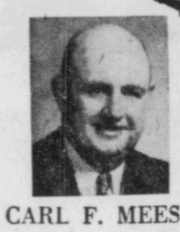
Dr. J. R. Pickard of the College of Veterinary Medicine says sows' rations are most commonly deficient in calcium, phosphorus, salt and iodine.

Grains are a good source of phosphorus. A good way to provide the other minerals is to feed a commercial mineral mixture or one consisting of one or two parts of steamed bone meal, two parts of finely ground limestone and one part of iodized salt. Some swine growers make certain that sows eat the minerals by mixing them with the grain.

Calcium-deficient rations often lead to "downer" sows with broken bones and paralysis when the calcium in the sow's body becomes severely reduced, Dr. Pickard points out. This is most likely to occur during the latter part of the nursing period.

Abortions and stillborn or hairless pigs may result when the ration is deficient in iodine. The soil in most parts of the state contains enough iodine, but it's cheap insurance to supply extra iodine in the form of iodized salt.

Down on the Farm



CARL F. MEES
with Your Farm Adviser

Cook County Farm Bureau held its 38th annual meeting November 6 at the Arlington high school gym. There were approximately 750 in attendance.

The Farm Bureau was organized 38 years ago. It's chief object was to sponsor an educational program for the rural people of Cook county and to bring to the people the latest research findings of the University of Illinois. It has been doing just that throughout all these years.

Crop yields were quite low when the extension service was first organized in Cook county. There were only two years between 1920 and 1940 that the yield of corn was over 40 bushels per acre. One year the average yield was reported as 13 bushels per acre. Since 1940, the average yield has never dropped lower than 41 bushels per acre. It has gone as high as 59 bushels per acre. Yields on individual farms up to 80 bushels per acre are not uncommon. Some 100 bushels per acre yields have been reported. We have gone a long way. Yields of other crops, including vegetables have followed the same pattern.

THE EXTNSION service in the county at the present time is directed and supervised by an agricultural extension council, these members are appointed by the dean of the College of Agriculture acting for the board of trustees of the University of Illinois. However, the local financial support still comes from the County Farm Bureau. The past year the commercial flower growers have also contributed to the support of the extension service.

The Cook County Farm Bureau has the largest membership of any county farm bureau in the United States. This is quite a record to achieve for a county which has the second largest city in the United States, more than 100 incorporated cities and villages out of Chicago and a population of nearly 6,000,000 people.

Many people marvel when they hear that Cook county still has more than 2000 farms and 175,000 acres of productive farm land.

The Cook County Farm Bureau cooperating with the University of Illinois College of Agriculture, is to be complimented for sponsoring this excellent adult educational program for the people in Cook county. It has done much to improve the social and economic aspects of rural and suburban living. (Fm

Set Plants For Winter

by JAMES FIZZELL, ASST. FARM ADVISER

Now is the last chance we will have to prepare lawns and plantings for winter. Proper attention to this will assure that everything will come through the winter in the best condition.

Lawns should be raked free of all fallen leaves. Leaves will smother out the grass below them leaving dead areas in the lawn. The grass should be cut to about two inches so that it will not become matted inviting disease.

ANNUAL FLOWERS should be pulled out of the beds as soon as they die, or should be dug under. Tender perennials and bulbs should be removed before the ground freezes solid. Be sure to cut back the dead tops of the hardy perennials and rake the rose beds free of fallen leaves. Some of the diseases of roses can be eliminated in this way, since they often overwinter on fallen leaves.

Secure the materials you will use to cover the rose plants. Half bushel baskets placed over the plants work quite nicely.

Evergreens, particularly newly planted ones should be well watered before the ground freezes. These plants need water even in mid-winter because their leaves loose water every warm day.

Farm Expert In TV Talk

The November 15 "How Does Your Garden Grow," program with John Ott, (WNBQ Channel 5, Noon) will feature James Fizzell, assistant farm adviser in Cook county as special guest. Fizzell will talk and demonstrate how to care for flowers in the home.

This topic, covering potted plants, cut flowers and planters is quite timely with the coming of the holiday season, at which time most people have flowers in their homes either as gifts or decorations.

Fizzell states that he will exhibit a new publication on "Care of Flowers in the Home" and tell where and how it can be obtained.

Move Over — Spiders Coming

Mr. and Mrs. Homeowner may notice that spiders are becoming more numerous as winter approaches, points out Steve Moore, entomologist with the University of Illinois and Illinois Natural History survey.

The reason is that spiders forage outdoors during the summer, but move inside for shelter when cool weather arrives.

Moore explains that spiders, unlike most household insects, are beneficial because they kill many destructive insects. However, they are annoying to most people merely because of their presence.

Spiders are easily recognized. They differ from true insects by having eight legs and only two body sections. The poisonous black widow spider can be identified by its rounded black body with an orange or red hourglass marking on the underside.

Moore recommends any of the following materials to control spiders: DDT in a five per cent spray or 10 per cent dust; chlorodane, a two per cent spray or five per cent dust; dieldrin, a .5 per cent spray or one per cent dust; or malathion, a two per cent spray or five per cent dust.

In the house, use only oil-base sprays or dust forms of the insecticide. Use water-diluted sprays outdoors or in buildings where residue stains are not objectionable. Dust forms are convenient for treating hard-to-get-at places.

Moore urges all homeowners to keep insecticides away from children and to read carefully directions on container labels.

U. of I. Tractor Studies Show Common Errors

Another check for $15,000 has been given to the department of agricultural engineering at the University of Illinois to support the tractor maintenance research project for three more years.

This is the second three-year grant for that amount made by the Illinois Farm Supply company to the university to support a study of farm tractors in the state, according to F. B. Lanham, head of the department. The first grant covered the period from 1955 to 1958.

During that time, study of more than 60 tractors in operation on farms showed researchers where farmers were failing to make routine maintenance checks suggested in their operators' manuals. Heading the study group of staff members and graduate students was J. A. Weber, associate professor of agricultural engineering.

AS A RESULT of the study, Weber and his associates have put together suggestions to tractor manufacturers for standardizing maintenance recommendations and for designing their tractors for easier, simpler maintenance procedures.

In addition, the agricultural engineers at the University have put together and are promoting suggestions to farmers for keeping their tractors in better operating condition. Better maintenance on the part of the farmers would result in fewer service calls and longer life for farm tractors, Weber says.

Longer life for tractor parts and operation at peak performance would mean more profit for farmers. The result for the companies would be satisfied customers who are better able and more willing to pay for the new machines yet to be designed and made.

FARMERS often tend to blame implement or petroleum companies, dealers and their mechanics for tractor troubles that are the direct result of poor maintenance, Weber says. The tractor studies are designed to find out exactly what these troubles are and what to do about them.

The 60 farm tractors used in the initial study during the past three years were inspected by a trained mechanic for poor maintenance. Operators of these tractors were questioned about their knowledge of manual recommendations and their maintenance practices. The tractors were chosen at random in counties immediately surrounding Urbana.

Inspection of each tractor took half a day and included 78 different items. These points of inspections included only the ones listed in the operator's manual as being the responsibility of the operator himself.

THE MECHANIC found maintenance deficiencies on all 60 tractors. Some were more common than others and were classified as those that should be getting better care. They included battery water below the plates, dirty and restricted crankcase breather pipes and air cleaners, low tire pressures, poorly adjusted brakes, improper valve clearances, pitted ignition points, excessive engine speeds and need for crankcase oil changes.

Current research is being directed to specific items on the tractor. Results of laboratory and field tests of dry-type air cleaners were recently reported to tractor engineers at a national meeting of the Society of Automotive Engineers.

OTHER TESTS now in progress under terms of the project are designed to study ways to improve ignition point and intake valve life. Final goal of the work is to make the tractor easier for farmers to maintain and also to get longer, more dependable performance from the machines.

Further study during the next three years under the new grant will include design changes to eliminate some maintenance chores and make others easier to do, Weber says. Farmers actually need to spend about 60 hours a year to follow all of the present manual recommendations. In practice they are spending about half that time.

Anyone who wishes more information about farm tractor maintenance may ask his county farm adviser for a copy of these fact sheets. Or he may write directly to the Department of Agricultural Engineering, Urbana, Illinois.

Corn Referendum Will Be Nov. 25

Corn farmers will go to the polls Tuesday, Nov. 25, in a special referendum to determine whether the national farm program for corn should be changed. Voters will vote at the Highland Grove school, Ela rd., just south of the intersection of Ela and rte. 62. Voting time is from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m.

The referendum is provided for in the newly enacted farm law, the Agricultural Act of 1958. Voting will be conducted in the commercial corn area, which consists of 932 counties in 26 states and includes the entire state of Illinois.

VOTERS WILL express a choice between the following alternatives.

A new program under which there would be no corn acreage allotments and no designation of a commercial corn area. Under this program, all corn producers would be eligible for price support without any restrictions on acreage. The level of price supports would be 90 per cent of the average corn price received by farmers during the three preceding years, but not less than 65 per cent of parity. Recent information indicates a rate for next year will probably be from $1.12 $1.15.

Continuation of the present corn program, under which farmers who plant within acreage allotments are eligible for price support at 75 to 90 per cent of parity. The current corn situation would indicate a reduction of approximately 15 per cent in the national corn allotment for 1959 and price supports at or near the minimum. Support under this plan probably would be at 75 per cent of parity — from $1.24 to $1.27 a bushel in 1959.

A MAJORITY VOTE of corn farmers casting ballots will decide the referendum. All farmers, who produced corn in 1958 or had an interest in the corn crop are eligible to vote.

Guards Best For Sows

Experimental guards have successfully replaced gates for confining sows in a field in research work at the University of Illinois Agricultural Experiment station.

"Eliminating fences and partitions could greatly simplify the job of cleaning concrete feeding floors for hogs," says E. L. Hansen, UI agricultural engineer in charge of the research work.

Minimum width of the guards so far has not been decided, Hansen reports. For small pigs it probably could be less than the 30 inches designed in the experimental models.

Properly built, the guards can utilize such manure-carrying equipment as an auger, gutter cleaner or high pressure water system installed under the grate to simplify the cleaning task. Waste can be conveyed to an underground tank.

If the feeding floor is designed to use clear-span construction for the roof, the grower can use a tractor for cleaning. Washing and scraping distances can also be shortened.

For latest information, ask your county farm adviser for a copy of Farm Buildings Fact Sheet No. 12, "Fenceless Hog-Feeding Floors for Easy Cleaning." Or write directly to the Department of Agricultural Engineering, Urbana, for a copy.

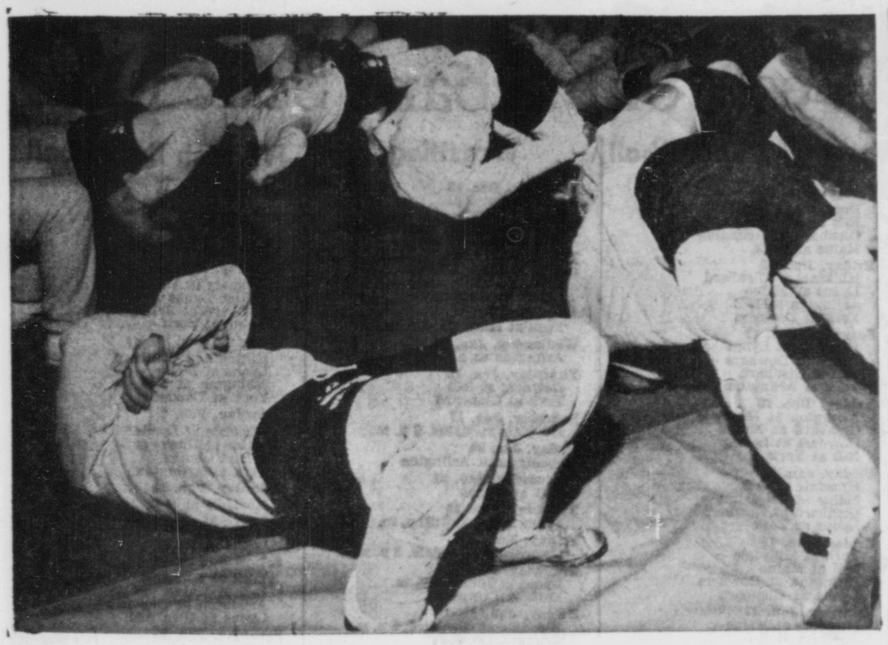
Card Cagers to Get Full Scrimmage



BRIDGEWORK, wrestling style, is accomplished by Cardinal grapplers as the warm-up in a prescribed calesthenics routine. So far, the work outs have reduced the squad's weight 56 pounds.

KICKIN' IT AROUND

by BOB BUCHANAN

SEASONS COME. SEASONS GO. Games are played and recorded for posterity. But little thought is given as to how the games come into being. More than 150 winter sports contests on all levels of competition were announced this week at Arlington high school. The tremendous task of putting each one into its correct time and place falls to one man, the athletic director. Wally Grace, now in his 14th year, has that task at Arlington.

GRACE

Grace's scheduling of games for Arlington is relatively simple. The West Suburban conference has seen to that. On the other hand, scheduling for Prospect high is quite complex. Two sports—football and basketball—have monopolized fan interest. They are an athletic program's "bread and butter" sports, although wrestling is gradually creeping into the picture. Because they are most popular, football and basketball have had the most restrictions placed upon them by officials in the traditionally-rich West Suburban conference.

WSC Limits Games, Practices

THE LEAGUE LIMITS the number of football games to eight. Conference play consumes seven, leaving each school only the opening contest in which to schedule a non-league encounter. In basketball, the West Suburban is much stricter than the Illinois High School association under whose auspices nearly all teams play. The WSC says each school can compete in 18 basketball games and one holiday tournament or 20 games and no tourney. Even when the IHSA's strictest rules to date take effect in 1960, the WSC will still be more strict. With 14 West Suburban league basketball games, only four non-conference games can be scheduled. Baseball is the only other West Suburban conference sport to be restricted. Just two non-conference games can be scheduled in addition to the 14 in WSC play. Cross country, wrestling, track, tennis and golf have no limitations.

WSC officials even go so far as to limit the number of football and basketball practices each week. Once WSC competition has begun, only four gridiron practices can be held weekly. Once WSC cage competition has started, only three basketball squad practices can be held each week.

Complete Cycle Every 14 Years

WEST SUBURBAN CONFERENCE schedules in all varsity sports are made up for this year and two years hence. The schedules are such that each year football and basketball teams alternate home sites with the last conference game one year becoming the first next year and all other games dropping one notch in the schedule. For instance, Arlington, which closed its football season at La Grange early this month. opens up its 1959 WSC pigskin campaign at home against La Grange's championship club. Next year for the first time since Arlington joined the West Suburban conference in 1951, it will play its final football game at home. By the same token, Arlington will play its next seven final football games at home. Only every 14 years does the conference schedule make a complete cycle.

Non-League Games at a Minimum

THIS METHOD keeps the number of non-conference games to a minimum—one in football and four in basketball. Leyden, since 1954, has been the Cards' only non-league football foe and Evanston, Elgin, Palatine, and Glenbrook the Cards' only non-WSC cage opponents. Grace cited several factors as to how non-league foes reach agreement to play one another. Usually the schools are in relatively close proximity so that traveling is no factor. Competition is on comparable levels. Each team brings along a good following of fans. And wherever possible teams are usually in the same tournament area.

In non-league games, two year contracts on a home-and-home basis are usually signed; however, this is not the case in the "Interim" conference. Grace as well as the athletic directors of the other five schools cannot promise a return engagement since the league by 1960 may expand to a more workable size of eight.

Cards, Prospect Share Gridiron

BECAUSE OF HAVING only one lighted football field in the district, both Arlington and Prospect will play their home games on Arlington's gridiron. Thus, for seven consecutive Friday nights next fall, local fans can see a football game at Arlington. Opening honors go to Prospect high which will play Proviso West in a non-league game. Then the Prospectors go to St. Procopius of Lisle before taking on five "Interim" conference foes in a seven-game schedule.

On the cage scene, Grace has even more difficulties at Prospect, trying to line up eight non-conference games. Most of these have not been determined, but are being filled as time progresses.

Cut Game Numbers, Expand Sports

HIGH SCHOOL SPORTS scheduling has come a long way from a few years ago when Taylorville went through 45 basketball games unbeaten. Today that number of victories can never be equalled, nor do many educators desire to see it. The constant Friday-Saturday combination for basketball games is gradually diminishing to one a week. Tuesday night games are now out in the suburban area with most high schools complying to the wishes of the North Central association of Secondary Schools—that no athletic event be held the night prior to a day of school.

Athletic events are now being put more in perspective with the number of contests being cut in favor of expanding the number of sports. Wrestling was recently admitted into WSC membership. Five West Suburban schools now have gymnastics teams. Will that sport be next to join WSC schedules?

Wrestling Team Sheds 56 Pounds

In the first week alone, 50 Arlington varsity wrestlers have shed 56 pounds. Leading in the weight shedding parade are Walt Meyer and Skip Schiel who have dropped six pounds each.

However, several others also have to reduce in order to make lower weight classifications.

Even so, Coach Dick Mudge is looking for even lighter boys. He is looking for boys at about 95 pounds for his varsity wrestling team.

"We're hurting at that weight," Mudge noted. "We have plenty of boys at the heavier weights but no one has come forth in that classification and it's just as important as the heavyweight match.

"I'd surely like to see light weight fellows below 100 pounds out whether they've wrestled or not. Remember," he pointed out, "this sport is designed so you won't be wrestling someone bigger than you."

The opening practices have been stressing fundamentals, takedowns, pins, and set ups for takedowns. Other work has included the open stance and lock ups.

The attitude of the boys has been excellent, Mudge remarked. They have followed training rules quite well, he added, including diets designed to maintain normal weight.

3 Gymnastic Coaches Aid IHSA Rules

Arlington gymnastic Coach Gay Hughes was one of three members who appeared before the Illinois High School association Tuesday, Nov. 4, to recommend a set of gymnastic rules to be adopted by the IHSA board.

Appearing with Hughes were Joe Giallombardo of New Trier and Bill Roetzheim of New Trier. They, in addition to Charles Pond, University of Illinois gymnastic coach, an ex-officio member of the committee, spoke before All Willis, executive director of the IHSA, and Sid Alkire, one of Willis' assistants.

The rules, Hughes said, were modified for high schools from the National Intercollegiate gymnastic rules.

Only last year did gymnastics become a part of the IHSA.

91 Arlington Athletes Honored

Receive Letters, Numerals

Ninety-one Arlington high school athletes were awarded letters and numerals Wednesday night at the Cardinal Booster banquet in the school cafeteria.

Forty-seven youths, including seven managers, received their "A" for fall sports at Arlington. Another 44 received numerals for competition on the frosh-soph level.

THIRTY-ONE athletes and five managers received a major "A" in varsity football and nine runners and two managers received major "A's" in cross country. Frosh-soph football numerals went to 28 football players and six managers, and eight frosh-soph cross country men and two managers.

Football Coach Buz Ormsby and cross country Coach Russ Attis and their counterparts on the frosh-soph level each gave resumes of the past season and their expectations for next fall.

Cross country "A" recipients were Kenneth Courter, Co-Capt. William Dodge, James Erickson, Maurice Johnson, Donald Knoepfle, Ronald Marks, Charles Phelan, Co-Capt. Robert Taggart, William Terbell, and Managers Gerald Kouzmanoff and Thomas Rezner.

Receiving numerals for frosh-soph football were George Allen, Melvin Aukamp, George Dilley, Fred Empkie, Michael Field, Fredric Froyd, Robert Glaser, Keith Grams, Gary Gullett, Gerald Halverson, Frank Hermes, Michael Hogart, Michael Koenig, Richard Kunz, Dennis Leonard.

Cross country numeral winners were Roger Fredrickson, James Glidden, James Hendricks, Roger Luedke, Jack Mutti, John Newhard, Douglas Vaughan, Richard Wolden, and Managers Michael Castor and Randall Miller.

Minor Ailments Remedied

Late this week Coach Frank Bohac is expected to put his Arlington cagers through their first full-scale scrimmage of the season.

Up to now, Bohac has concentrated daily drills on fundementals such as passing, short shots, and dribbling. The players also have worked one on one, two on two, and three on three.

Monday Bohac began introducing more complicated procedures in the drill. As the coach remarked, "This week we begin putting the brain to work."

Bohac said the 1958-59 squad has shown a lot of hustle and determination in its first week of drills and that there are "about 13 boys trying for the starting team" when the Cardinals meet Evanston on the Wildkits' floor a week from Friday.

Several minor ailments on the Cardinal varsity have been remedied. Don Gerken, who was out with a sore hand, reported last Thursday. George Bork, victim of five blisters on his feet, is progressing nicely. Dave Varriado, out last Thursday and Friday with a stomach ailment, is back once more. Junior Gene Dahlquist reported to the squad after practice began. And the football players are finally beginning to work the kinks out of their muscles.

Helping move the players along are four Cardinal managers, Jerry Kouzmanoff, Roger Rosene, Tony Thomas and Paul Christman.

Another week, Bohac reported, will probably give him a good idea as to who will be fighting for the five starting berths against Evanston in the opener.

Card Sophomores Prepare for Opener

Coach Ken Shaller is currently in the process of shaping up Arlington's highly touted sophomore basketball squad of 30 candidates.

It's a little too early to definitely tell who will make the starting five, Shaller remarked. He added that nine boys had shown good promise in early workouts.

Shaller is keeping the squad unusually large due to two reasons, a number of promising prospects, and because Arlington and Prospect will be divided into separate high schools next fall.

Only two baskets in the middle gym at Prospect has hampered individual participation. Even so, Shaller has a fair indication of who the "likelies" will be for the season's opener at Evanston a week from Friday.

Two tall boys, Dick Palmer and Bill Zadel, both of whom stand 6-3, are on the possible starter list. So are Jim Clabaugh, Fred Empkie, Keith Grams, Frank Hermes, Fred Lussow, John Newhard and Mark Thorne.

Other candidates include Ken Anderson, Jon Didrickson, Jim Diehl, Fred Froyd, Lee Garr, Jerry Gehrke, Bob Glaser, Jim Glidden, Terry Kups, Les McDonald, Fred Neal, Earl Peacock, Craig Quackenbush, Jeff Rogers, Dennis Rooney, John Rush, Bud Smith, Gary Thomas, Joe Turcek, Grant Wallhoff and Skip Witt.

Managers are Bob Frank, Bud Bradley and Tom Thiele.

A Card Rooter

Cardinal Basketball Coach Frank Bohac last week added another Arlington rooter. His wife gave birth to their seventh child, a girl, whom they named Sue Ellen.

Gymnasts Put Tricks In Routine

Arlington gymnasts are slowly rounding into shape for the forthcoming season, Coach Gay Hughes reports.

During October the more than 20 gymnasts learned 20 to 30 tricks in their specialties. Now they are putting the tricks together into routines.

59 Frosh-Soph Gymnasts Turn Out for Practice

Coach Rick Farris was flooded with 59 prospective freshman and sophomore gymnastic candidates last week during Arlington squad workouts at Prospect high.

Leading candidate is Bill Sayre who as a freshman last fall placed seventh in the state among varsity participants in tumbling.

Other hopefuls include Warren Bischoff, Larry Brausseau, Jaun Buruato, Pete Cameron, Jack Carney, Robert Cochran, Bill Covalsen, Ron East, Pete Engle, Gary Erwin, Jeff Fahrner, Edward Flood, Jim Gardner, Fred Harper, Tom Haworth, Dennis Hines, Alan Holdinar, Ken Holmes.

Park's Gym, Tumbling Season Opens

The Arlington Heights park district's tumbling and gymnastics program for boys and girls in first through eighth grades will get under way Saturday morning.

The class schedule is as follows:

1st and 2nd grades, 9:00-9:45.

3rd and 4th grades, 9:45-10:30.

5th and 6th grades, 10:30-11:15.

Advanced group, 11:15-12:00.

Dick Ault, physical education teacher and former Olympic champion, will conduct the program. Mr. Ault has had many years of experience in teaching tumbling and gymnastics to children.

The program is designed to develop coordination and muscular strength, as well as skill in tumbling and gymnastics.

All children wishing to participate in the program, should come to the Recreation Park gym at the time specified above. Advance registration is not necessary.

There are still openings for groups of men or women that wish to play volleyball. The volleyball league meets on Monday evenings from 7-11 p. m., in the Recreation park gym. Those interested in playing, should register as a team. Registration can be made by calling the park office, CL 3-0620.

41 'Short' Cagers Report

The freshmen basketball coaches, Ted Wissen and Bob Baker, are pulling their hair wondering what happened to all the tall boys.

Last week 41 youthful candidates reported on only two reached six feet or more. Last year's excellent freshman squad had many over that figure.

One boy stands 6-2 and another 6-0 and that's all from the nearly 500 freshman boys at Prospect high.

Bowling Tourney Entries Mailed

Entry blanks and posters for the approaching Paddock Publications Inter - League handicap bowling tournament have been mailed to all loop secretaries with eligibility date for the big events less than two months away.

Secretaries of all men's and women's leagues are asked to pick up their letters at their respective bowling alley desks this coming week. Mixed leagues are not included in the tournament.

A RECORD number of leagues are expected to enter this year's tourney Jan. 10-11 at Hi-Way Recreation, Palatine, and Jan. 18 at Pioneer lanes, Addison. Men's event is slated for the Palatine alleys, with first place teams as of Dec. 20 eligible.

First place teams of all women's leagues as of Dec. 27 will compete at Addison Jan. 18. Both groups will be shooting for hundreds of dollars in prizes, in addition to a large traveling team trophy, plus five individual awards.

THE CASH IN the men's event a year ago amounted to $540, with $240 distributed in the women's meet. Tourney promoters are expecting at least a 10 per cent increase in entries in each tournament, so the prize money will also be upped.

First place teams of all men's and women's leagues at Hi-Way in Palatine, Arlington and Beverly in Arlington, Mt. Prospect and Gunnell's in Mt. Prospect, Wheeling and Jeffery in Wheeling, Bowlwood in Wood Dale, Pioneer in Addison, and Bensenville Bowl will be eligible.

A few leagues bowling at other alleys can compete in the tournament providing they are "local in character." Secretaries must prove to tournament promoter Bob Paddock that at least two-thirds of all league members live within the direct area served by Paddock Publications.

Secretaries of these loops are urged to contact Paddock as soon as possible to obtain permission to compete. (Sp-4

Wayside Wins 2 Contests

Our Lady of the Wayside's two basketball teams opened the season Saturday by defeating St. Patrick of McHenry.

Wayside's varsity kept its lead intact throughout the game to defeat McHenry, 30-24, and the junior varsity throttled McHenry, 27-8.

Saturday, the Wayside teams travel to Barrington to meet St. Ann's.

MAC SAYS

by G. A. McELROY

COACH JOHN ELLIS has a record turnout of 90 candidates for the Palatine high wrestling squads this year which compares favorably with the numbers out for all basketball squads. Ellis has never had a losing team in wrestling at Palatine, including the first year the Pirates tried the sport. This year, with 11 lettermen, he has one of his better seasons in prospect. The only trouble is that so many of his smaller boys who were good last year appear to weigh about the same this season. It will be really tough to name the 112 pound regular with two of last year's best boys Conley and McCreery at that weight plus a pair of very good boys from the frosh-sophs. Basketball may be in for a rough season but wrestling prospects are especially bright.

Next Tuesday, Nov. 18, Palatine will host the wrestling rules interpretation meeting in the north and west suburbs for the state association. This meeting is for coaches and wrestling officials with demonstrations and rules interpretation by Coach Pat Patterson of the University of Illinois.

Barrington Opposes Top Teams

BARRINGTON, always a basketball power in recent years, has attractive schedule of non-league games for the coming season. The Bronchos tangle with Hinsdale Nov. 21 and follow with Waukegan, South Milwaukee, East Rockford, St. Edwards of Elgin, Highland Park, Palatine, and North Chicago outside the North Suburban plus the Elgin holiday tourney which also includes Thornton and York.

Grayslake in the Northwest Conference had a great undefeated season. The Rams scored 171 points to opponents' 19 and made 80 first downs to 31 for the eight teams they defeated. A total of 13 boys broke into the Grayslake scoring with big 210 pound halfback Tom Farm, high man with 48 points in spite of missing the first two games with Palatine and Round Lake. Farm gained 493 yards for a 5.8 yard average and had a punting average of 39 yards. Gerry Goshgarian, quarterback, was voted most valuable player. Grayslake ran their string to 15 straight, the last loss being to Palatine in the 1957 season opener.

Libertyville Wins 12th Title

WHEN LIBERTYVILLE surprised everyone by going through the North Suburban season undefeated it was the 12th football championship the school had won but the first in the last 15 years. The 1943 team participated in a string of 22 straight wins by the Wildcats under Art Bergstrom which ended with the final game of the 1944 season when Lake Forest took a 13-7 win and the championship. Libertyville titles were 1925, 1927, 1928, 1929, 1931, 1932, 1933, 1938, 1940, 1942 and 1943. Jack Martin coached six champions in nine years, never finished below second and lost only nine games in nine years. Art Bergstrom coached four champion teams in the six years from 1938 to 1943. The present Wildcat team coached by Bob Tunnicliff now has a 10 game streak going and is the sixth undefeated team in Libertyville gridiron history.

This is the week that parents of Palatine athletes hold family style potluck suppers in the school cafeteria for the football squads. Frosh and soph parents entertained the football boys Wednesday and coaches talked about their two championship teams. Thursday (tonight) the varsity football and cross country squads will be honored with a potluck supper featuring the appearance of Harlon Hill and Joe Fortunato of the Chicago Bears as speakers. Palatine football teams won 14 and lost 10 in the season just concluded. Both frosh and soph teams had 6-2 records while the varsity won 2 and lost 6. The cross country squad defeated all their conference opponents but were forced to take second behind North Chicago in the league meet.

Notes From Here and There

Glenbard finished last without a victory in football but their cross country team was undefeated in the West Suburban and finished second in the state only five points behind Alton, the winner. . . . John Hannah, president of Michigan State and promoter of top flight football, says that every student during undergraduate school days should experience a losing football season in order that the sport be placed in its proper focus. Michigan State is experiencing its first losing season since Hannah became president. . . . Final standings in the Suburban league show Proviso East undefeated in varsity football, Morton undefeated in soph football, Evanston undefeated in frosh football, Proviso East undefeated in varsity cross country, and New Trier unbeaten in sophomore cross country. . . . Maurice Guins of North Chicago set a Tri-County conference scoring mark of 61 points and Jimmy Jones also scored 49 to better the old mark of 44. . . . Barrington frosh gridders had a 3 won 4 lost season, one of the few losing groups in recent years. A total of 16 frosh players missed one or more games due to scholastic ineligibility according to the Barrington Courier-Review. . . . The defeat of the Baltimore Colts by the New York Giants, their first of the season, makes the Baltimore-Chicago Bear game at Wrigley Field next Sunday one of the top Chicago sports attractions of the year. The Bears can tie for the lead if they can win and they may do it if quarterback Unitas of the Colts is still out of action. . . . Iowa won the Big 10 a week early as major teams in the league knocked each other out of the running. With the title and a trip to the Rose Bowl assured the Hawkeyes can make a claim for national honors by beating Ohio State this week and Notre Dame the following Saturday.

BROWNS TEAM in the seventh and eighth grade division of the Arlington Heights park district midget football league halt for the photographers. In the front row (left to right) are Richard Carlson, Jim Jakubiec, Rusty Walters, Steve Martin, Steve Coffman, Jim Buckley, Chick Crosby; second row, Bill Machut, Fred Kreusch, Mike Flaherty, Guy Burlingame, Nick Hawley, Paul Conti, Robert Conti, back row, Coach Martin.

Spalding, Dons Play To 6-6 Tie

by Jim McCabe

The Dons of Notre Dame in their final game of the season proved the old adage "better late than never" to be true in football, tieing Spalding of Peoria 6-6 Friday night at Notre Dame. Both scores were made in the last five minutes.

Fullback Harry Carlson, playing his last game for the Dons, accounted for the Don's only score. With less than five minutes in the last period remaining, Spalding was forced to punt. Carlson and halfback Creden were in double safety. The kick went to Carlson on the Spalding 35, and Carlson went to the goal. The extra point was blocked.

On the extra point attempt, Notre Dame was penalized and Jim Dippman was forced to kick off from his own 25. The ball was returned to the 37. Halfback Horan moved the ball down within the Don five for the Irish, where Fullback O'Neill plunged for the touchdown. Spalding elected to run the extra point but Horan was stopped short of the vital point. The game ended with the Dons on the Spalding 34.

Notre Dame had the fans on their feet at the close of the second period when the Dons got to Spalding's two yard line only to be denied by the clock.

And so at the close of Notre Dame's second season of varsity competition, the Dons may well be proud of their 6-2-1 record. Notre Dame will swing into their basketball season on Friday, Nov. 21, when the Dons go against Maryville at Notre Dame.

No. Chicago Defeated In Finale

North Chicago's War Hawks were jolted out of a perfect football season last Friday by Marmion Military academy, 12-8, last Friday at Aurora.

Oddly enough, it was the same Marmion team which last year ruined a perfect gridiron slate for Coach Tom Parker's charges.

Jimmy Jones, North Chicago's all-state candidate, registered the first touchdown on a 14-yard first period run. Then the Cadets rang up first and second period touchdowns, using a spread formation.

Gunnell Defeats Sims 2 Out of 3

Gunnell's whipped Sim's two out of three times Saturday in Northwest Junior traveling league, with Gunnell's hitting 924 and 905. Sim's won with 910.

Gunnell's: J. Lind 548, F. Gerlach 496, R. Ibbotson 598, A. Steichmann 507, P. Mueller 566, 924, 886, 905.

Sim's: B. Vogt 569, D. Raichert 533, T. Neill 472, B. Ruth 492, T. Gerster 527, 826, 910, 857.

JAMES STAVROS KEGLERS will be host to Paddock Classic Traveling League this Saturday night at Jeffery Lanes in Wheeling, with competition slated to start at 6:30. First row, Bud Cecconi, sponsor James Stavros, Hec Healey. Second row, Bill Harris, Art Cameron and Al Kucera. Kucera is no longer with the team. In his place is George Stone.

Dewitz Rolls 756 Series; Boosts Team within Game

J. T. Flood Engineering walloped the pins for a 3158 series in the Paddock Classic traveling league Saturday night at Beverly Lanes with team captain Casper Dewitz of Barrington shooting 756 for a new individual high series for the loop. Dewitz opened with 267, followed with 221 and finished with 268 to help his team roll games of 1099, 966 and 1093. The 3158 is a new high for the league and put the Engineers within one game of league leading Victor Electric.

CASPER DEWITZ

Beverly Lanes hit 1060 the middle game after a 988 opener. Leading keglers for Beverly were Chuck Duwe of Arlington Heights with a 679 and Tom Kouros of Barrington Woods with 621. Other members of Flood Engineering in the 600 circle included Leroy Papineau, 613; Ed Dudek, 614; Chris Pulos, 608.

Victor Electric bowed twice to Johnson Sporting Goods at Gunnell's Saturday night. Neither team showed particularly well, though Joe Cordulack managed to hit 594. Top team game for Johnson's was 954. James Stavros copped all three games from N.R.G. Construction at Hi-Way Recreation in Palatine with Bill Harris shooting 600.

Top averages to date include Casper Dewitz of Barrington, 199; Tom Kouros of Barrington Woods, 196; Leroy Papineau of Algonquin 196; Al Valentino of Rolling eMadows, 196; Irv Hahnfeldt, Palatine, 195, and Chuck Duwe of Arlington Heights, 195.

It will be position night this Saturday with all six teams competing at Jeffery Lanes in Wheeling. James Stavros will oppose Johnson's Sports; Beverly Lanes will meet N.R.G. Construction, and Victor Electric will compete against Flood Engineering.

Kreitling Nears Illini Pass Record

Junior End Rich Kreitling moved nearer Illinois' all-time pass receiving record by catching three aerials for 157 yards and three touchdowns in Illinois' 21-8 victory over Michigan last Saturday. Kreitling now has totaled 616 yards on 18 catches, and needs only 98 yards in final two games to equal Rocky Ryan's 714-yard total in 1952.

Kreitling already has tied Ryan's record of five touchdown catches in a season. He has little chance to break Illinois' record for most receptions in one season—45, held by Ryan and Rex Smith (1952).

Illini Faces Wisconsin 35th Time

Illinois squares off against Wisconsin Saturday in Memorial Stadium for the 35th time in a grid series which has been closely contested since it began with a 10-10 tie in 1895.

Neither team has been able to muster more than a three-game lead and most of the contests have been marked by low scores. Wisconsin now leads Illini 16-13 in the series. Five games have ended in ties.

Recent years, however, have seen the Badgers take control of the rivalry, and spoil some Illinois hopes for a Big Ten title and a Rose Bowl bid.

In 1953, an underrated Badger eleven knocked Coach Ray Eliot's squad from the unbeaten ranks, 34-7 at Madison. The loss dropped Illinois to a co-championship and may well have been a factor in swinging the Rose Bowl bid to Michigan State. Wisconsin's point total marked the largest by a winning team in the series.

A fumble in last year's contest turned out to be a big break for Wisconsin. Deep in Badger territory, wish Wisconsin leading 17-13, Illinois lost the ball on a fumble. The Badgers then marched downfield for another score and wrapped up the game. Illinois' touchdowns both came on passes—a 16-yard completion from Tom Haller to Rich Kreitling, and a 27-yard throw from Bob Hickey to Dejustice Coleman.

HAVING TEA BEFORE the fireplace of Oak Street school library in Palatine, Mrs. Michael Varde, left, and Mrs. William Hodge make final plans for the Palatine Junior Womans club membership tea which will be held there Sunday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock. All young matrons living in Palatine are invited to come for tea and acquaint themselves with the club's activities, which afford a social contact for newcomers as well as service projects to support retarded children's homes, the Palatine youth center, mental hospitals and to aid unfortunate families. Further information may be had by calling Mrs. Varde, vice president and membership chairman, at FL 8-1634. Mrs. Hodge is president of the club.

Quite Contrary by Mary

Anyone for a Dream?

I need someone who goes around explaining dreams. I suppose I could call him a dream explainer but I think there is a more scientific name for him. Anyway, I'm worried and I need him.

The other day I turned on the radio and lay on the sofa happily listening to a football game. I like football because it is something I would never do. Anyhow, I must have dozed off to dreamland because I certainly had a dream. I dreamed I was a football player and not in my Maidenform-you-know-what, either.

I was in full football regalia complete with shoulder pads and helmet and all the other stuff. It was a riot, and there I was in the line, all 105 pounds of me, and doing a wonderful job as the members of the opposing team very carefully neglected to tackle me. It seems, in this crazy dream, that they all knew I was a girl and were careful.

Well, even if it was a dream, it was beginning to seem a little ridiculous, even to me so I woke up. But, do you know it was so real I almost asked the man in my life if he knew that secretly I was working out with the L.A. Rams?

Now what I want to know is, what does this mean way down deep in my subconscious? Do I really want to play football? Do I wish I weighed as much as a linesman? Do I really have a secret desire to go smashing on through to the plaudits of the yelling multitudes? Or am I just demented?

A friend of mine was matching me dream for dream but hers made a lot of sense. She dreamed that Rex Harrison asked her to marry him. This has a lot of substance to it even though both she and Rex are already espoused and not to each other. I mean, this is just wishful thinking and fun.

But, I fail to understand what made me think I was equipped to carry the old pigskin through that line. I don't even care very much for pigs and even less for their skins. I can only conclude that dreams don't mean a thing except that one probably has indigestion and take the relief that is just one swallow away.

I refuse to think that I have a secret hankering to try to tackle Willie Gallimore. I hardly have the strength to spank the kids when they need it.

James Emmerich Is Married in Evanston

St. Nicholas church in Evanston was the scene of the October 25 wedding in which Mary Hermes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hermes of Evanston, became the bride of James Emmerich, son of the Joseph Emmerichs of Buffalo Grove. Father Leroy united the couple at 11 a.m. mass in a setting of white and yellow mums.

The bride chose a white silk taffeta wedding gown which ended in a long train, and wore a sequin crown to hold her illusion veiling in place. White orchids, ivy and stephanotis formed the bridal bouquet.

JUDY LUNDQUIST was maid of honor in royal blue taffeta and carried yellow lace mums. The bridesmaids, also gowned in royal blue taffeta, were Barbara Thurlwell, Linda Emmerich and Lois Ryan. They carried bouquets of yellow, rust and light brown mums. Carol Krueger was flower girl in light blue taffeta and carried white carnations and red roses.

The bridegroom's attendants were Paul Didier as best man and Jack Turlwell, James Hermes and Jack Emmerich as ushers.

FOLLOWING the morning ceremony a breakfast was served at Elliot's Pine Log, and later in the day a buffet supper honored the bridal couple in Skokie Legion hall.

Both the bride's and bridegroom's mothers were gowned in blue as they received guests at the ceremony and reception. Mrs. Hermes chose royal blue silk faille, and Mrs. Emmerich wore light blue chiffon.

A trip to Canada, Niagara Falls and New York was planned for the honeymoon.

The bride is a graduate of St. Scholastica academy in Chicago, and the bridegroom was graduated from Ela Vernon high school.

Stork Feathers

Mr. and Mrs. James A. Wroe, 206 S. Yale, Arlington Heights, are announcing the birth of their fourth child, a son, born October 3 in St. Francis hospital, Evanston. The baby, named James Matthew, has three sisters, Sandy 12, Amy, 5, and Beth, 3.

A son, John David, was born November 3 in St. Francis hospital to Mr. and Mrs. John B. Sickel, 537 S. Pine, Arlington Heights. The 6 pound 7 ounce baby has two sisters, Susan, 12, and Molly, 9. Grandparents are Mrs. John Parker Smith of Oak Park and John Tyler Sickel of Excelsior Springs, Mo.

Parents of their first child, a 7 pound 14 ounce son, are Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Gaitsch, 501 Dempster, Mt. Prospect. The baby, named Randall Scott, was born October 27 in Elmhurst hospital. Grandparents are the Fred Gaitsches of Des Plaines and the Clarence Heinkels of Arlington Heights. Leonard Nelson of Chicago is the baby's great grandfather.

Mark Donald Bostrom was born October 13 in Alexandria hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Donald E. Bostrom, of Alexandria, Va. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hoffie of Arlington Heights and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bostrom of Chicago.

Tri Delta Founders' Day Luncheon is November 19

The Clan room of the Old Orchard country club, Arlington Heights, will be the setting for the Tri Delta alumnae chapter Founder's day luncheon at 1 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 19. Luncheon reservations should be made by November 17, by calling Mrs. Edward Stein, CL 5-9315. All Tri Deltas in the Des Plaines, Park Ridge, Mt. Prospect and Arlington Heights area are invited.

The president, Mrs. Arthur R. Wetter of Des Plaines, will be toastmistress for the program and guest speaker will be Mrs. Hilliard J. Potts of Brookfield, Wis. alumnae vice president of Delta Delta Delta. Mrs. Potts, who has served Tri Delta in numerous capacities over the years, was elected to this top office at the sorority's national convention last June in Miami Beach. Another special guest will be Mrs. Clyde Selleck of Evanston, district chairman in charge of alumnae activities in Illinois.

THE PROGRAM will feature a candlelighting service honoring the founders of Delta Delta Delta. The sorority was founded Thanksgiving eve in 1888 by Sarah Ida Shaw and Eleanor Dorcas Pond. Decorations for the table will be silver, gold and blue, the traditional sorority colors.

Delta Delta Delta was the first women's fraternity to be founded as a national organization. Others grew from locals or were not limited to college women at first. There are now 103 collegiate chapters in 42 states and two Canadian provinces; 273 alumnae chapters in all 48 states, Canada, Alaska, and Hawaii, and more than 62,000 initiated members.

DELTA DELTA DELTA has chosen education as its major philanthropic field. Since the establishment of service projects scholarships in 1942, 2,000 college women have received more than $270,000 as gifts from this fund. More than half of these grants have gone to unaffiliated women and the balance to Tri Deltas and members of other fraternities. Tri Delta alumnae chapters also support community projects, including in the Chicago area, the Cleft Lip and Palate Institute of Northwestern university.

Wesleyan Guild Plans Holiday Fair in Palatine

A Holiday Fair has been announced by the Wesleyan service guild of First Methodist church, Palatine. The fair will be held in the old church, Plum Grove and Wood st., Friday, Nov. 21, from 7 to 9 p.m. and Saturday, Nov. 22, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

The fair will feature holiday articles in the Sweet Tooth booth, a Christmas Fantasy booth which will include yule decorations and centerpieces, a children's booth and a bake booth.

The Fireside tea room will be open for refreshments, according to Mrs. Mary May, chairman of the fair. President of the sponsoring guild is Mrs. Florence Parkhurst.

Pantry Shower Thetas to Visit Local Florist

The Mothers' club of Notre Dame High School for Boys, Niles, will hold its annual harvest pantry shower for the Holy Cross fathers at 8 p.m. Monday, Nov. 17, in the school. A home fashion forum, presented by a River Forest furniture store, will also be a part of the program.

Mrs. Alvin Vosskuhler and Mrs. Frank O'Connell of Arlington Heights, are among the hostesses for the evening.

Just Around The Corner From Patty McArdle

'Hams' at Heart!

Dear Peg:

You would never have believed, if you'd seen Bob emoting the other night, that the first time we were ever called to be a member of the drama club and each time he's been asked to be in a play since then he has objected soundly. Now, I know what you're thinking—and it's not true—I do not talk him into these things! I said that he "objects soundly," but not within ear shot of whoever asks him. To Bill or Howdy or whoever calls he says "Well, all right." Then, having committed himself, he reads the play carefully, studies his part and after one rehearsal consistently does an outstanding job of acting his role (that's the reason that he's called on so frequently—which is what he objects to).

We have belonged to this group for four years and although couples have come and gone, a certain nucleus of us has remained and what's more we've always had a waiting list. I'm convinced that most people are "hams" at heart!

I may have told you about our club before, Peg, but if I haven't and you don't have a similar organization in your community, I would certainly recommend for sheer fun and relaxation and for an activity that can be shared by husband and wife you start a group like this (and believe me, the husbands who don't think they'll care for it at all are the ones who turn out enjoying it the most).

The 17 couples meet once a month in someone's home. The couple who is host for the month selects the play, casts and directs it, having one rehearsal a week before the play. Of course, we don't attempt to memorize any of the lines, however, we are expected to know our parts well enough that we don't have to keep our faces in the books all the time. If the play calls for a necessary change of clothing or unusual costuming, we try to dress in what it calls for. The directing couple arranges their living room to resemble a stage and set at one end and seats the audience in rows of chairs at the other end. It is really surprising to see how enjoyable a play can be even when being done under such amateurish conditions.

The host selects the play by reading some in the library or by just having an idea of what he would like to do. If he selects a somewhat modern play, it is easy to procure the books through the Play Dramatists Service. (In our selection of plays, we are careful to choose comedies or even mysteries rather than anything tragic or seriously dramatic.) Our yearly dues of $3.00 per couple takes care of buying play books.

The members bring their own beverages for the evening and the host provides potato chips, pretzels, etc. An interesting sidelight to the activity is that we seldom see most of the members at any time other than the play meeting. Although the common interest in acting brings the couples together, their other varied and diverse interests keep the group stimulating and refreshing. It's lots of fun!

My love,

Patty

Mrs. S. Claus to Hold Open House in Palatine

Engagements

Nancy Wintergerst

A January wedding is being planned by Miss Nancy Wintergerst and her fiance, Lawrence W. Coert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willard J. Coert, 933 N. Forrest, Arlington Heights. The couple's engagement has been announced by Miss Wintergerst's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas M. Wintergerst of Elgin, former residents of Prospect Heights.

Both Miss Wintergerst and Mr. Coert were graduated from Arlington high school.

Linda Coad

Announcement has been made of the engagement of Linda Ann Coad, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn L. Coad of Portland, Ore. to Bradford Wayne Godfrey, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Godfrey of Arlington Heights.

Wedding plans have been made for November 29 at Carmel, Cal., after which the couple plans to spend a portion of their honeymoon in Arlington Heights.

Miss Coad attended Sacramento junior college where she will major in social welfare.

Mr. Godfrey attended Arlington Heights grade schools and Arlington high school, completing his high school education at Western Military academy in Alton, Ill. He attended A and M College of Texas for four years, majoring in mechanical engineering. At present he is stationed at McClellan air force base, Sacramento, where he has two more years to serve under his enlistment.

Mrs. S. Claus is coming to Palatine and opening her house for one day, November 29, at St. Philip Episcopal church. Everyone will be able to see, taste and buy the many things that have kept Mrs. Claus so busy helping her famous husband.

Children can meet Mrs. Claus in her parlor. They can have their picture taken with her, give her letters for Santa and receive a bit of candy from the kindly, little lady herself. This will be an opportunity for mothers to find gifts, holiday decorations and baked goods that aren't available anywhere else this side of the North Pole.

MRS. CLAUS' Pantry will appeal to everyone. There will be old-fashioned penny candy, the kind that makes it difficult to decide between watermelon slices, jaw breakers, licorice whips and gingerbread men. Mothers will be tempted by homemade fruit cake, pies, cookies, baked goods and special North Pole frozen foods.

Next to the Pantry, visitors will see Mrs. Claus' workshop. Here will be found special Christmas gifts and decorations including heavenly angels, peephole eggs with snowy scenes inside, hand-decorated coal scuttles and fireplace brooms for the Christmas hearth. Holly and rose trees, golden epergnes, and many festive decorations will be offered for gay and unusual holiday tables.

In the Toy Corner something can be found from Santaland to please every boy or girl.

AS VISITORS near the corner of Schubert and Wood sts., one block west of Northwest hwy., they will be tempted by aromas from Mrs. Claus' kitchen. All day long November 29, Mrs. Claus' helpers will be serving warm, homemade snacks, coffee, pies and cakes. Mrs. Claus, who will begin welcoming guests at 10 a.m., has promised that prices will be so reasonable that even children will be able to do their Christmas shopping for their parents and friends.

Coffee Break At Mors Bakery

Something new in store-customer relationships is being tried by Mors Bakery in Arlington Heights. Wednesday, Nov. 19, Howard Faber, one of the store owners, is inviting all women of the community to a "coffee break," where they will be served, free of charge, from a buffet table of cookies, donuts, cakes and coffee.

Faber chose Wednesday afternoon for the free parking facilities offered by the village and to give busy housewives a break in their weekly routine. The store is located at Dunton and Miner sts.

November 20 Tea to Honor Hosp. Guild Life Members

Fall flowers and fall colors of brown and gold will be the theme of the gala tea to be given by the Northwest Community Hospital center women's auxiliary to honor its members who have taken out special life memberships. The tea for life members will be held November 20 from 3 to 5 p.m. at Inverness country club.

Golden ribbons with their names inscribed in brown will be received by life members at the tea. These are being handprinted by Mrs. Walter Kellin of Arlington Heights. Mrs. Edward C. Hume Jr., Rolling Meadows, is making name cards for committee members, officers, and board members of the auxiliary attending the tea.

MEMBERS OF several garden clubs in Palatine have volunteered to do original table arrangements for the tea, and met last week to plan their decorations. They are Mrs. Victor Baumgart, Mrs. H. D. Von Jenef, and Mrs. Walter H. Kruse, all of Palatine.

The drive for life members of the Auxiliary is still in progress, and anyone wishing further information may call Mrs. Everett Wagner, Arlington Heights, life membership drive chairman, at CLearbrook 3-4435. Plans for the tea are under the direction of Mrs. Wagner and Mrs. Robert Provart, Palatine, membership chairman.

AUXILIARY members will learn "How the Community and the Hospital Cooperate in Time of Disaster" at their meeting Wednesday, Nov. 19, at 8 p.m. in South Junior high school, Arlington Heights.

Motion pictures and a discussion of the subject will be presented at 8 p.m. preceeding the business session by Dr. Carl Davis, assistant professor of surgery at the University of Illinois and assistant associate attending surgeon at St. Luke hospital.

The November meeting will be the last business session of the auxiliary in 1958 and several revisions to the by-laws of the group will be presented for vote.

All members and women interested in joining the auxiliary are invited. The meeting will be conducted by Mrs. Joseph Steckler, president.

CHRISTMAS DECORATIONS and gifts for all members of the family will be features of the Holiday Bazaar to be held November 23 by St. Raymond Catholic Womans club. The affair will be held from 3 to 9 p.m. in the school auditorium. An added feature of the bazaar will be the "country corner" where home made preserves, Christmas candy and fruit cakes will be offered. Working on some of the items are Mrs. Edward Clarke, Mrs. Bruno Mandarino, Mrs. Anthony Pankau and Mrs. Roy Zander.

Handmade Quilts To Be Feature Of Yule Fair

Handmade quilts will be a special feature at the annual Christmas Fair sponsored by the Ladies society of Faith church, 401 S. State rd., Wednesday Nov. 19.

Mrs. Herman Koenig, chairman of the quilt display, said that a variety of unusual handmade quilts are to be sold during the afternoon.

Christmasy aprons have been made to sell to guests during the afternoon and Christmas cookies, which can be kept for the holidays, are another special item prepared for the Fair.

Luncheon is to be served at noon Mrs. Wollert Ellertson, general chairman announced. The sale will commence at 1 p.m. and last until the items are gone. Coffee and cake are to be served all during the sale.

Brainstorming Lesson For AAUW Members

Brainstorming will be explained and demonstrated with the subject "How Does a Community Undertake the Evaluation of its Schools?" by William A. Hart Jr., account supervisor of Batten, Barton, Durstine and Osborne, Inc. at the regular meeting of the northwest suburban Illinois branch of the American Association of University Women Thursday, Nov. 20. The meeting will be held at 8:15 p.m. in South Park field house, Des Plaines, with the help of a panel of members. By special request, husbands are invited to this meeting.

Mr. Hart was a psychology major at Dartmouth and received his AB degree in 1942. He taught advertising for three years at the University of Buffalo and is a past president of the Buffalo-Niagara chapter of the American Marketing association. He was in charge of the brainstorming panel of the Buffalo office for three years and has lectured extensively on creative thinking and staged demonstration brainstorming panels for numerous industrial and academic groups.

HOSTESS CHAIRMAN for the evening will be Mrs. Bruce Graham of Arlington Heights.

The Des Plaines Art league added to the interest of the October meeting with an exhibit of paintings by Viola Prill, Robert Peterson, Jan Coventry, Grace Wright, Barbara Tade, Lucille Wittkay, Ed Walaitis, Beverly Hapke and Elvira Campbell. The work of other artists will be exhibited at future meetings. (S

Linen Shower Set to Help Girls' School

Arlington Heights Women's club will participate in an open house and linen shower Friday, Nov. 14, from 12:30 to 3:30 p.m. at the Park Ridge School For Girls.

The event is programmed by the seventh district women's clubs, of which the Arlington Heights club is a member.

The shower is for dishcloths, dishtowels and white bath towels and face cloths. Cash donations will also be accepted by the school.

THE SCHOOL WAS organized in 1876 and in 1914 the Illinois Federation of Women's clubs built and furnished the Illinois cottage which is furnished and kept in good repair by the federation, which donates $3,000 to the school each year for general and educational purposes.

At Christmas, gifts are sent to the girls in the Illinois cottage under a prescribed plan outlined by the federation.

Mrs. Earl Snodgrass, chairman of the Arlington Heights group aiding the Park Ridge school, urges all members of the Arlington group to participate in the activity. (S

SUCCESSFUL HOMEMAKING

by LOIS SEILER, Food Editor

Almond Cookies Must Be Made Month Before Christmastime

BY LOIS SEILER

With the holidays close at hand, you may wish to get a head start and plan some of your foods in advance.

Mrs. Arthur C. Johnson has shared with us her recipe for Christmas Almond Cookies which are best when made at least a month before the yuletide season.

The flavor and texture of these cookies improve with age and are a boon to a harried housewife, who with so much last-minute Christmas preparation can at least have some cookies baked weeks ahead.

A NORWEGIAN recipe, it was passed down from her grandmother and has always been a favorite in Mrs. Johnson's family.

The cookies are unusual in many respects. One of the ingredients is hartshorn salt, a leavening agent which makes them so light-textured. This may be purchased in a drug store.

They are also unique in shape, for the dough is rolled thin, cut into circles and shaped and baked in cup cake tins.

Versatile, too, they may also be filled with ice cream and served as a dessert.

MRS. JOHNSON suggests enlisting your husband's help when making these cookies, for they are best when beaten by hand. Once he tastes them, he won't mind expending the effort to beat the dough.

Light brown and flakey, these delicate almond cookies are a delightful taste treat.

Another favorite recipe of Mrs. Johnson's is an elegant asparagus casserole which she always serves on special occasions.

This recipe, too, is excellent for holiday entertaining for it can be prepared a day in advance and popped into the oven before serving.

ASSEMBLED in layers, this dish consists of canned asparagus, slivered almonds, grated cheese, hard-cooked eggs and bread crumbs baked in a rich cream sauce.

Rich and delicious, this asparagus casserole is a perfect accompaniment for a turkey dinner.

It is nourishing and satisfying enough to use as the main course for a no-meat dinner, too.

The good cook who has shared these recipes with us is active in the Mt. Prospect Woman's club as chairman of the committee for the Park Ridge School for Girls, the Marquette School for Boys and Indian Affairs.

She is also hospitality chairman and serves on the board of the Northwest Community Hospital.

The Johnsons live at 501 Na-Wa-Ta in Mt. Prospect. They have one son, Alvin, who is a freshman at Northern Illinois State Teacher's College.

Christmas Almond Cookies

1 pound granulated sugar
3 eggs
1 pound ground almonds
1 teaspoon hartshorn salt
1 pound flour

Cream butter and sugar together. Add the eggs and beat well. Stir in the ground almonds.

Sift the flour and hartshorn salt together and add to above mixture. Beat by hand.

Roll the dough out thin and cut into circles. Shape the circles of dough in cup cake tins.

Bake in a 375 degree oven for 9 to 10 minutes. Watch closely as the cookies brown easily.

Use as cookies or fill with a scoop of ice cream and serve as dessert.

Asparagus Casserole

1 cup butter
½ cup flour
2 No. 2 cans asparagus
1½ teaspoons salt
½ teaspoon pepper
½ cup bread crumbs
¾ cup blanched, slivered almonds
1 1/3 cups grated mild cheddar cheese
4 hard-boiled eggs, sliced

Make a cream sauce by melting the butter, stirring in the flour and gradually adding the liquid from the canned asparagus. Season with salt and pepper and cook until slightly thickened.

Assemble casserole in the following manner: bread crumbs, asparagus, almonds, cheese, eggs and cream sauce. Repeat layers and top with buttered crumbs.

Bake for 20 minutes in 375 degree oven.

Serves 10 to 12.

Heights Woman Named to High Auxiliary Post

An Arlington Heights woman has been elected vice president of district 2, Hospital Auxiliaries of the Illinois Hospital association. Designated to the post at the ninth annual state conference in Peoria was Mrs. Everett Wagner, 1516 Mayfair.

Mrs. Wagner has been active in the Northwest Community Center hospital women's auxiliary since its organization. She is a past president of the group and is now a member of the board representing Arlington Heights. She is also serving as chairman of the life membership drive now being conducted by the auxiliary.

Thanksgiving Ball to Open Holiday Season

Elmhurst country club is to be the setting November 28 for the annual Thanksgiving ball, the affair that has come to mark the official opening of the holiday season in the northwest suburbs.

Traditionally, the ball is held the Friday after Thanksgiving and is preceded by dozens of pre-ball parties and dinners. Many of the guests will be dining at the country club where arrangements have been made to serve until 8:30 p.m.

Cy Toff and his band will provide dance music for the affair, sponsored each year by St. John Episcopal church in Mt. Prospect.

Tickets may still be purchased from the ticket chairman, Mrs. James W. MacRae, CLearbrook 3-6586.

Alpha Chi's Plan Formal Installation

Next meeting of the newly-organized northwest suburban alumni club of Alpha Chi Omega will be held Wednesday, Dec. 3, at 8:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Roger P. Girard, 1012 N. Dunton, Arlington Heights.

A bridge session will follow the planning for formal installation of members which will take place at the January meeting. Members of Alpha Chi Omega not yet acquainted with the group may call Mrs. Girard, CL 3-5197.

Mrs. Glenn D. Thrasher, 237 S. Highland, and Mrs. George L. Gardner, 631 S. Lincoln lane, both of Arlington Heights, took over the duties of project chairman and publicity chairman, respectively, at the November meeting.

Too Good To Be Missed By 3-R Set

This is the type of breakfast that comes to school to be eaten by the 3-R set before books are opened. Many a child hurries off with little or no breakfast — a meal too important to be missed — to catch a bus or ride. Teachers now encourage these children to bring food which can be eaten easily upon arrival.

Once outdoors, children's appetites quicken and they are "starved" by school time. Shown in the photo is a breakfast for eating without fuss or extra dishes. The whole wheat sandwich with tasty filling goes hand-in-hand with a hot beverage. Slices of buttered cinnamon bread add something sweet. Fruit and a hard-cooked egg round out the before-school pick-up.

Orange-Cream Cheese Sandwich

12 slices whole wheat bread
1 (3-ounce) package cream cheese
⅓ cup orange marmalade

Spread cream cheese on six slices of bread. Top with orange marmalade and then cover with remaining bread slices.
Yield: 6 Orange-Cream Cheese Sandwiches.

IFWC to Spend Day in Court

All club members in the seventh district Illinois Federation of Women's clubs are invited to spend a day visiting court Monday, Nov. 17. Arrangements have been made for a tour of the county building which will include observation at several courts in session. Attorney Andrew Bunta will act as escort and guide.

All interested in this project will meet in the office of the clerk of the circuit court on the fourth floor of the county building at 10 a.m. Further information can be had by calling Mrs. Zak at NE 1-4240.

New African Violet Club Being Formed

Since Saintpaulia African Violet society has a capacity membership and a long waiting list, a new African Violet club is being formed in the Paddock area. All interested persons are urged to contact Mrs. Edmund Abroe at FLanders 8-0517.

The new club would provide all African violet enthusiasts with membership in an organization designed to teach and inform members in the intricacies of the popular house plant.

Thetas to Visit Flower Shop

Members of Kappa Alpha Theta alumnae group will visit Anderson's Flowers on Golf rd. following their November 20 meeting in the home of Mrs. W. H. Carns, 106 S. Stratford, Arlington Heights.

Members report that they are looking forward to viewing the Christmas floral displays at the Arlington Heights greenhouse.

Chi Omegas Plan Auction to Aid Charity Causes

The resounding tap of an auctioneer's gavel will call for the attention of all Chi Omegas in the Chicago northwest suburban area at 8:15 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 18, in the Park Ridge home of Mrs. Clare Perlin. Mrs. Kenneth Stevens, 1716 W. Olive, Arlington Heights, will be one of the co-hostesses for the evening.

Fun and fund raising are combined in this annual sale of discarded treasures, for what is one Chi O's discard, is another's heart's desire in this gay exchange of dollars for charity. All articles offered for auction are either new or nearly new, and may vary from imported Swedish crystal to lovely Williamsburg brass candlesticks, to handmade aprons, fancy cookie molds or jewelry.

Mrs. Donald Dougan, 621 N. Gibbons, Arlington Heights, will serve as auctioneer, and it is hoped that all Chi Omegas in the vicinity will be present to support this project. Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. John Eder, 314 Ioka, Mt. Prospect, CL 3-8550.

Palatine Woman Will Be Hostess At Open House

Mrs. Herbert R. Anderson, R. R. 1, Box 33, Palatine, a member of the board of directors of the Mary Bartelme club, will be a hostess at an open house November 14 honoring Miss Margaret Winchell, the club's new executive director.

In announcing the appointment, Board President Mrs. Charles W. Bryan Jr. said, "The club has provided residential care and casework treatment for problem teenage girls since its founding by Judge Mary Bartelme in 1914. The need for this type of service to the community is increasing rapidly. Miss Winchell brings specialized training and administrative experience which will guide the agency in the development of its program and possible expansion of facilities."

The new director, a former Chicagoan, is a niece of the late Judge Victor P. Arnold who was closely associated with Judge Bartelme in the Circuit Court.

Way Back When

Roosevelt Elected in '08; Hoover Elected in 1928!

30 YEARS AGO
November 6, 1928

Herbert Hoover will be the next president of the United States. His election was conceded by the New York Herald, democratic newspaper, at nine o'clock this evening.

50 YEARS AGO
November 5, 1908

We patriots saved the country. The spell binders can now take a long rest. And the next day it snowed to bury the tracks of the defeated politicians.

It was no fault of Bryan that his party was defeated in the election Nov. 3. No other Democrat could have polled so big a vote against the Roosevelt administration, especially when Taft has promised to perpetuate the Roosevelt principles. There is no stronger, purer, well-posted man the party could put up. We as Republicans must admit his honesty, zeal and unfaltering patriotism. On the other hand, we must condemn the venomous, cowardly bickerings and malicious attacks of W. R. Hearst and his ilk on a man so much his superior every way and the party because they did not consider Hearst capable or worthy of the high office to which he vainly aspires.

Mr. William Mueller, second son of Mr. and Mrs. John Mueller and Miss Mary Rosewald, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rosewald were united in marriage in St. Johannes Lutheran church in Elk Grove Oct. 29. The happy couple will start life on the H. W. Busse 80-acre place now occupied by Henry Rodewald.

Elk Grove — Ed Pingel bought 3 cows at Wiebe's auction. As he hasn't heard what color is the latest fad in Chicago, he chanced it by choosing one brindle, one calico and one assorted.

Mrs. Meyer Blume who has lived in this vicinity 50 years, died Nov. 1. Miss Henrietta Minchrod was born in 1832 in Germany, came to America at the age of 23 and married Meyer Blum the following year. They resided in Wheeling and Palatine townships.

PALATINE —

The citizens meeting at the M.E. church, Sunday, was attended by over 200 people. It was something new, but its success was as great if not greater than anticipated. The audience was entertained by special music and heard two good talks on citizenship, especially of the political side by Dr. C. B. Allen and Attorney R. L. Peck. The Roosevelt, Folk, Johnson and Hughes era is here and will grow greater as time goes on, and we, each one of us, individually, can by the little ballot hasten the period when corrupt officers will be a thing of the past. The new suburban orchestra, Miss Selma Torgler, directoress, gave three selections.

We hear all kinds of hunting stories these days from both dexterous trappers and inexperienced hunters. J. H. Toynton and W. H. Brockway went up into the wilds of McHenry county last week Friday, and returned with all the rabbits and squirrels they could carry home, with the result that all their friends had rabbit for dinner the day following. However, Messrs. Geo. Baker, with his assistants, Bob McCabe and A. Hackbarth claim the honors of the season. They went out one recent afternoon and returned with two good size coons.

Many citizens heard Judge Cutting deliver his regular quadrennial political speech and it was one that not a Republican or Democrat could take offense at. The hall was packed. Many farmers for miles around drove in to hear the judge, and everyone present went home knowing that he had heard as fine a political speech as was ever given in Palatine. We believe the Judge enjoyed speaking to his old time friends as much as they were pleased to hear him. While he now holds the greatest judgeship in the city, we realize that there is still a much greater future for him, and we know that no matter at how high a bench he sits, he will always remember his Palatine friends, and if business permits, will give another speech four years hence.

A number of boys did considerable damage around the town Halloween. Evidence was obtained of the parties implicated, and the board, at the regular meeting, Monday evening, instructed the clerk to send notices to the parents of such parties. The boys, when informed of this fact, realized that they had gone too far and repaired some of the damage, before the notices were mailed.

DuPAGE COUNTY

Itasca — Two auto loads went out Monday night and furnished campaign songs for several towns. Hurrah for Taft. Bryan — three strikes and out.

Walter Chessman fell from a tree while out nutting a few days ago. Although no bones were broken he is quite lame.

Itasca polled 131 votes Tuesday: Taft 89, Bryan 35; Deneen 62; Stevenson 63;

Bartlett — J. L. Kelly, Bartlett manager for the Chicago Telephone Co., was one of the lucky ones to draw 160 acres in the Rosebud reservation. We fear he will leave us next spring and go there to improve and live on his farm.

The Hanover monument is still resting serene in its new location with its mouth agape as a token of former glory. To the tax payers, we would suggest: take a good look at it for that will be all you will ever acquire from it for your spondulicks that who settled in Michigan. In 1850 once upon a time you were called upon to contribute towards this glorious memorial of Hanover's progressiveness.

Bensenville — Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Franzen, Jr. named their little boy Earl Henry Barney last Sunday, the two grandpas acting as sponsors while Rev. Schick officiated.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS

Born Oct. 26, a son to Mr. and Mrs. Lacina.

Dorothea Anch was born in Germany 1828. She came to America in 1830 with her parents she married Rev. Meyer, who lost his life two months later in a storm on Saginaw bay while on a missionary tour. In 1852 she married Rev. Edmund Roeder to whom she bore 9 children. Mrs. Roeder died at the old parsonage Nov. 1, lacking only 18 days of 81 years of age. Her body was laid to rest in the Lutheran cemetery beside her Husband Pastor Roeder, who died Feb. 21, 1902 after over 50 years' work as a Lutheran minister, 34 years of which he served St. Peter's congregation.

NEEDLE in the GROOVE

by PAUL LITTLE

Stereo discs are winning national attention these days, and Victor has two of the best out yet. These are "Stars and Stripes" and "Cakewalk," music by Sousa and Louis Moreau Gottschalk arranged into modern ballet scores by the gifted young American composer Hershy Kay, rousingly played by the Boston "Pops" Orchestra under Arthur Fiedler; and "Christmas Holidays at Radio City Music Hall" (LOP-1010).

This latter is one of the most handsomely packaged albums we've ever seen, complete with ornamental brochure in full color that gives you the history of this world-famed New York City showplace (where the great tenor Jan Peerce got his start under Erno Rapee). On it, you'll hear Richard Leibert at the grand organ playing a Christmas medley; the Rockettes' sensational tapdancing routine to "Merry Xmas Waltz" and "Picnic for Strings," and the Radio City Music Hall orchestra under Raymond Paige in a delightful version of Eric Coates' "Cinderella" ballet.

SETTING UP STEREO lp in your home means a stereo pickup like the Stanton-Fluxvalve (which also plays standard lps), a dual amplifier or two separate amplifiers with preamp controls (or again, two preamps with two basic powers amps like the Chiago-made Extron transistor-four-watt unit that operates on battery and reproduces without hum) and two speaker systems of equal balance. You do not need large speakers for stereo, but they must be mates, placed about ten feet apart and you sit in the middle at the back. The result is a "live" movement of music just as when attending a concert. It's an aural thriller!

For opera lovers we recommend Victor's two-disc set of Donizetti's "Lucia di Lammermoor," with Roberta Peters giving the finest performance of her career on lp; Jan Peerce as a superb Edgardo, and the brilliant young American-born basso Giorgio Tozzi as Raimondo sings gloriously. We award laurels to Erich Leinsdorf for his electrifyingly sensitive and dynamic conducting of the Rome Royal Opera House orchestra and chorus. Sound is spacious and lifelike; this is an opera set to treasure!

DON'T MISS Harry Belafonte's latest, "To Wish You a Merry Christmas" (Victor LPM-1887); with orchestra and chorus directed by Bob Corman, Belafonte sings witha feautiful sincerity and dignity such Yuletide favorites as "A Star in the East," "The Twelve Days of Christmas," "O Come All Ye Faithful," "God Rest Ye Merry, Gentlemen," "O Little Town of Bethlehem," "Deck the Halls," and "Where the Little Jesus Sleeps."

We only wish the sublime spirit of this disc could permeate the hearts of men the world over, to bring us the eternal peace these carols portend!

(B12

GARY COOPER is the very personification of the title role of his new film—"Man Of The West." The picture, a United Artists release in CinemaScope and color, will open Friday at the Des Plaines Theatre.

Christmas Plays Set By Theatre

Two Christmas plays are being prepared by the Talent Bank of Village Theatre, Inc. and booking are being accepted now for the holiday season. Pat Paris, speech correctionist for Palatine, will direct "Just What They Wanted," a Christmas situation comedy. The cast will feature Randy and Marshall Moses, Norma Smith, Mike Muchmore and Lynn Lobenhofer.

The dramatic Christmas play, "Miracle at Plaise," will be directed by Kay Hawley. The cast will consist of Carol McCann, Sylvia Staebler, Jo Duro, Jerri Rix, Lee Suhr and Barbara Faun.

Any organizations or club interested in booking one of these productions may call Jeanette Jenkins at CLearbrook 5-0583. All bookings must be made one month in advance.

Children's Play Has Magic Effects

EXPLAINING THE intricacies of the magic spoon to Mary Jane Jayne, who appears as Marianne in Village Theatre's forthcoming children's production, "Rumpelstiltskin," is "Red" Pawnall.

What is so fascinating as the art of magic? Its enchantment captures the imagination of child and adult alike—an art that never grows stale because of its infinite variety.

And so it will be in Village Theatre's production of "Rumpelstiltskin" which will be presented on Sunday, Nov. 23.

THE MAGICAL effects for this play are under the supervision of Wilbur "Red" Pownall who has many difficult but intriguing problems with which to deal. The magic spoon is one of the projects. This spoon is one of the dwarf's nasty little weapons. He touches his victims with it and the spoon lights up either burning or freezing the spot it touches. Of course, the effects of the heat or cold will be shown only through the reactions of the actors but the flashing light is a different matter. Red has installed a five cell flashlight in the handle of the four foot spoon and when this is flashed on it will light up the edges of the lucite spoon.

Straw which will be spun into gold will be effected by using excelsior for straw, placing it in a false bottom basket and then Rumpelstiltskin will push it down into the basket so that it seems to disappear. The gold ribbon will emerge from the spindle of the spinning wheel.

ANOTHER TRICK used in "Rumpelstiltskin" will be the magic grandfather clock, designed by one of Village Theatre's talented artists. When the dwarf emerges from the clock, the hands will race (by means of electricity) and lights will flash behind the dial.

The most exciting magical trick will be the explosion and disappearance of the dwarf but Mr. Pownall refuses to give away any trade secrets on this score. It will be a mystery, as magic should be, to intrigue the viewer and his imagination.

Three performances of "Rumpelstiltskin" will be given at 1:30 p.m., 3:30 p.m. and 5 p.m. The 1:30 performance will be given for the patrons and their guests. The 3:30 performance will be general admission. Tickets will be on sale at the door or they may be purchased from Virginia Hula on the north side at 114 Fremont st., and Mary Jean Daneke on the south side at 546 S. Vail st.

The 5 p.m. performance will be sponsored in its entirety by the Bluebirds and Camp Fire Girls. The three performances have been set up to take care of the large anticipated crowds. It is suggested that an early procurement of tickets will avoid last minute disappointments. The play will be given in the little theatre of the Miner st. junior high, Arlington Heights.

Slate Tryouts For Suspense Drama Tues.

Tryouts for Palatine Players next production will be held Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in Cutting Hall auditorium of Palatine high school, it was announced this week by Helen Bodelson, president of the community theatre group.

Any interested residents of northwest suburbs may tryout for a part in the play, she added.

Mrs. Bodelson will direct the Players production of "A Guest in the House," three-act suspense drama by Hagar Wilde and Dale Eunson to be presented in March. There are 14 parts to be cast—seven women, six men, and a girl.

Recently the Players presented four performances of James M. Barrie's fantasy, "Dear Brutus."

OFTEN MISUSED

The titles "Honorable" and "Reverend" should always be preceded by "The,' and should always be followed by the full name, never by just the surname. Say, "The Honorable George L. Fox," and, "The Reverend Thomas J. Collins," never, "Honorable Fox" or "Reverend Collins.

Do not say, "I am pretty sure that I shall be there." It is much better to say, "I am quiste sure."

The abbreviation "i.e." stands for the Latin words "id est" and means "that is." It should not be confused with "e.g." (exempli gratia), which means "for the sake of example."

Use Disfigured when speaking of a person's face, and Defaced when speaking of a wall, painting, or a signature.

Do not say, "This piece of steel is the more heavier of the two." Omit "more."

Reader Urges Income Tax For Illinois

Suggests Cure for State's Unbalanced Taxing System

by E. F. LAURIN

In recent months considerable publicity has been given to a state income tax. Proponents say it will produce state funds to aid the schools. Opponents claim it is just another tax and is unneeded.

If a state income tax is "just another tax," it certainly is unneeded. You must agree, however, that the taxing system has become unbalanced and that real estate bears an unrealistic share of the tax load.

I wonder if your readers realize that 95 per cent of the cost to operate the local high school comes from property taxes. In turn, about 70 per cent of grade school costs will come directly from property taxes.

LOCAL TAX bills for 1957 show that 67.3 per cent of the tax went to local grade and high schools. As you well know I am not anti-school. I am opposed only to the taxing system.

Since the personal property tax system has broken down, property taxes really mean real estate taxes, and the 1957 real estate taxes have increased almost 60 per cent over 1952 taxes! It is hard to realize that the real estate and construction people have been so apathetic about this taxing phenomenon.

Some 10 or 11 years ago I proposed a state income tax and got nowhere with the suggestion. I proposed not just another tax — but a state income tax to produce funds for the operation of the public school system in the state of Illinois and for no other purpose. With your permission I would like to review the possibilities and the consequences of such a tax.

BUT FIRST a word about property taxes . . . some people blame the tax rate or the assessed value as being responsible for high taxes. You can bet your last shirt that the only reason your tax bills are high is because the taxing bodies require more tax funds and real estate bears the load. The tax rate is merely a figure which applied to the assessed value will produce the amount of tax funds asked for by the taxing bodies. The assessed valuation when properly applied is only a means to an equitable distribution of the tax load. Tax rate ceilings and equalization factors are only side issues. The main factor is "how much do the taxing bodies require?" For example: assume the Village required twice as much tax funds for 1957 as it actually levied: your 1957 tax bill would have been increased to the extent that the portion thereof allocated to the Village would have been twice as much — it is as simple as that.

Now about a state income tax — published reports state that a 1 per cent income tax (in Illinois) will produce 200 million dollars. Two years ago the public schools in Illinois received 317 millions of tax funds together with 81 millions of state funds from other sources. Assume that costs have increased to where they need a total of 500 million. This is an amount which a 2½ per cent state income tax will produce, based on news reports.

Right here you may well ask — so what? You are just proposing another tax with aggravating nuisance values. Let's see, by illustration, how it will affect a man with $6,000 annual income and one with $15,000, assuming certain factors:

Annual Income	$ 6,000.00	$15,000.00
Owns Real Estate Valued at	15,000.00	35,000.00
Assessed Value of Real Estate	6,000.00	15,000.00
Real Estate Tax for Schools only @ $3.458 per $100 of Assessed Value (for 1957)	207.48	518.70
State Income Tax Payable at 2½ per cent on Same Basis as Federal Income Tax, assuming 4 exemptions and standard deduction	60.00	290.00
Saving—if State Income Tax is substituted for real estate taxes for school funds	$ 147.48	$ 228.70

NOW WE HAVE the next and natural question — where does this saving come from? By widening the tax base, the individual impact is lessened.

The next question — another complicated income tax return to prepare? There is no good reason why a state income tax should not be based on a single figure — the amount of taxable income used for federal income tax purposes.

The most important question one could ask would be: If we had such a tax, would it not be a political plaything? If basic state laws can be changed to permit a state income tax, they can be changed also to include built-in ceilings and limits to the extent that non-excessive public school costs only will remain the basis for the tax.

THE BASIC taxing system in Illinois stems from the ox-cart era and much of the initial system remains unchanged today. I would like to point out some of the evils and inequities of our taxing system, based on my experience:

(1) Tax-Free Property. The list of real estate removed from the tax rolls is growing steadily. As this list grows, it narrows the property which will bear the tax load. In addition, the privilege has been abused to the extent that real estate held many years tax-free has been sold at current values. I propose that the tax-free privilege be eliminated from all property including state, municipal, school and church properties. You ask — what good will it do to add municipal or school property to the tax rolls when such tax costs will in turn come from all of the taxpayers? The good will come from (a) it will point up the true costs of municipal or school operations and (b) it will tend to discourage the use of otherwise rich taxing properties as tax-free properties.

(2) Delay in Collection of Taxes. The 1958 tax with which to pay 1958/59 costs will be collected in 1959 — and much of it will not be received by the taxing bodies until a year after the costs were incurred. Many taxing bodies have built up a partial cash cushion (operating funds) by spending less than the tax levies and by other means, including working cash funds. This system really stems from the ox-cart era, and places a hardship on schools, particularly since the greater part of their funds will come from taxes. In order to meet and pay current running expenses over and above available cash, it is necessary to sell tax anticipation warrants at prevailing interest costs or to issue tax anticipation warrants or teachers' orders directly to the creditor.

If public service companies can bill gas and electric services and villages can bill water and sewer services on a bi-monthly basis, why cannot services covered in your taxes be billed bi-monthly through a central billing office?

(3) TOWNSHIP TAX Collectors are required to deduct a collection fee from tax monies remitted to the various taxing bodies. If the total of such collection fees exceeds the legal limit the collector is entitled to for his services, the excess is then paid over to the local Town Fund.

Doesn't it seem reasonable that any excess commissions should be remitted to the exact tax body which was charged? Some townships (fortunately not ours) are finding it hard to think up projects to use up these excess funds.

(4) A New Personal Property Tax. The present broken down personal property tax should be killed. If a state income tax law is enacted, the personal property tax should be buried permanently. If a state income tax law does not come into being, a new personal property tax law should be enacted and enforced.

(5) A County-Wide Tax System. We have two political parties — the in's and the out's and between them they have the tax system sewed up. To take it out of politics is like travelling to the moon — maybe it can be done, maybe not.

I PROPOSE a single tax body for each county, headed by a County Tax Commissioner appointed by the Governor (subject to Senate approval) for life (or age 65) and with adequate compensation. This tax body should take over all of the taxing functions now carried out by the County Clerk, Township and County Assessors and Township and County Collectors.

Finally, many people will not agree with me, especially with regard to tax-free property. I will be satisfied, however, if these proposals will start some thinking and talking about this matter.

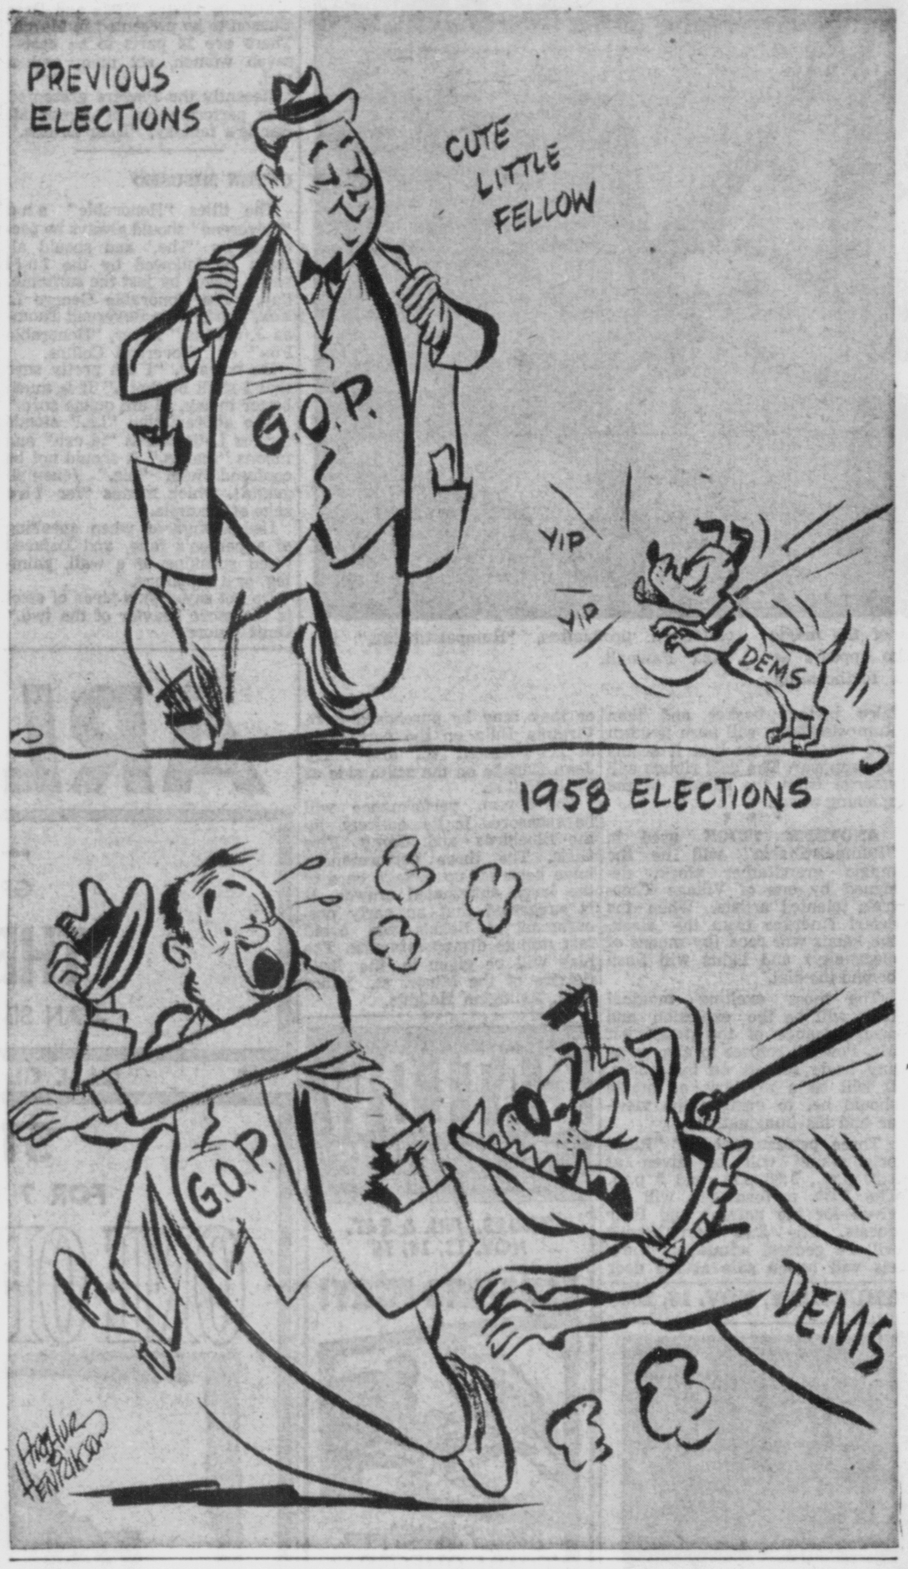
— And in 1960, What?



Democrats Cheered By Suburban Gains

by TED SMART

While Chicago voter registration was at its lowest level in 16 years, suburban registration climbed to an all-time high for the November 4 election.

Chicago voters numbered 1,848,050 — a drop of 4.31 per cent, or 83,157 from 1954.

Suburbanites came out in droves, hitting a record 692,742 — a gain of 119,006 over 1954, or 20.75 per cent.

Both politicos and John Q. rarely give Chicago voting more than a brief glance for indications of trends or shifting of political sentiments. The big city is invariably Democratic. But both regular Democratic and Republican county organizations eye suburban voting habits, each a little hopeful and each a bit apprehensive, as the returns roll in.

NOVEMBER 4th's election was no different, at least in this respect. But there was one difference, a big one. Suburban Democrats, while losing heavily, showed strong gains.

Democrats were happy over the results. Wheeling Township Democratic Committeeman James Stavros told reporters at his headquarters on election night:

"This looks like our largest turnout in history. I've never seen so many Democratic votes."

The expressions of pleasure by leaders of both parties caused more than one observer to comment on the oddity.

SHERMAN Canty, Republican township committeeman for Elk Grove, expressed confidence that Republicans would "bounce back" in 1960, and claimed Democratic inroads into the township were negligible.

"We have generally averaged a 4 to 1 majority in past elections, and although this dropped to a 3 to 1 margin in Tuesday's election, I don't think it's an indication the Democrats are going to keep piling up larger and larger votes in future elections.

"I'm optimistic about 1960. I don't think it's whistling in a graveyard. With the proper candidates, we will increase our vote."

CANTY WAS "surprised" at Democratic gains in the county. He said he had thought some Republicans "stood a good chance" for trustee positions on the sanitary district commission, and that Peter J. McGuire, defeated GOP sheriff candidate, would have made a better showing. He expressed disappointment in the race that saw Joseph Lohman victorious over Warren Wright for state treasurer.

The relatively good showing of township Democrats is something that many Republicans probably don't care to admit. Canty's figures on past elections were off a little, at least in the 1956 race where the GOP majority was closer to 4½ to 1. The Elk Grove vote of November 4 saw this lead trimmed to a 2½ to 1 majority, with 71 per cent of those registered voting.

PALATINE'S Republican committeeman, Jackson Boughner, said he and his workers were "pleased and happy" at the GOP showing in the township.

"We carried every precinct for Mrs. Church and Warren Wright," he said "Our organization worked hard, but it's been the pattern that Republicans stay at home in off-year elections."

The GOP spokesman said the "70 to 75 per cent turnout" was good with "no top offices at stake."

Boughner said that an average of 100 Republicans stayed home in each precinct, and said this, rather than Democratic gains, was responsible for the "slight proportional increase" in the Democratic vote.

THE REPUBLICAN township committeeman from Wheeling also expressed pleasure at the turnout of GOP voters in the township, despite a surge of Democratic balloteers in his bailiwick which tumbled the Republican majority from a 1956 peak of 3½ to 1 to a margin of just over 2 to 1. Henry Busse was not too happy about the village of Wheeling itself, however.

"Wheeling set us back," he said. The GOP was edged out in three of the town's four precincts. Then, attempting an explanation of the Democratic inroads:

"This thing, this large Democrat vote, state after state, was general. Perhaps it's a reaction against Eisenhower — he didn't do too much in the recession. Perhaps he was too conservative. Perhaps Hodge hurt us."

Busse denied Democratic boasts that newcomers from Chicago were affecting the suburban political complexion.

"WE DID extremely well in the newer areas. In the 34th precinct, an area north of Euclid and east of Douglas, there were 209 votes for Wright and 109 for Lohman. In the 36th, it was 223 to 113. In the 35th, east of Main st. and north of Central, there were 334 votes cast, of which Lohman got only 75."

Another new section, Busse observed, is the 29th precinct, where, of 609 votes, 155 went to Lohman.

To Busse's comments on new-resident voting trends, it could be pointed out that the homes in the above-mentioned four precincts are in the cost area of $25,000. Homes in the three precincts in Wheeling that went Democratic are in the $15,000 category.

One might be tempted to say, then, that one difference between a Democrat and a Republican may be $10,000 in housing!

Letters to the Fence Post

Suburban Life

I have read Mr. Ted Smart's editorial page feature regarding Mr. Dallstream's views of suburban life in your current issue with much interest.

I am in full agreement with Mr. Dallstream's ideas of more than half-acre lots, brick and stone home construction, purely residential areas unmarred by filling stations, shopping centers and the like. I also have a preference for Cadillac automobiles, 65-ft. sailing yachts and imported brandy.

Unfortunately I can afford none of these benefits of the luxurious type of life. Therefore I live in a brick-faced frame house on a quarter-acre lot in Hoffman Estates, drive a smaller car, and drink beer.

I believe that I owe my family the best of suburban living that I can afford, therefore I looked for a fair sized lot, a well constructed house within my financial limits, and a builder who seemed to consider community welfare to the extent of making provisions for schools and community activities. Owning but one car, I must have a shopping center in my vicinity. Knowing that my children, and my neighbors' children will someday overload the present school system, I feel the need for school district revenue from filling stations, a shopping center, and desirable controlled industry.

I hope that someday I shall be able to afford the type of life Mr. D. considers ideal. I hope, though, that I shall never have such a warped outlook. In the meantime, with the help of my good neighbors, I shall prevent my community from ever being "bleak, drab housing."

I might suggest that Mr. Dallstream visit our community and meet the average home owner in Hoffman Estates and see his family in the process of growing in a suburban atmosphere.

Henry E. Netter
Hoffman Estates

Courageous Stand

Congratulations on your courageous stand for Railroad Park and against the selfish interests of the Arlington Heights National Bank. It takes courage to subordinate your own commercial interests for the good of the village at large.

Whoever wrote your incisive editorial on page one also deserves a salute from the boss (or better yet, a raise).

Nicholas Shuman
Arlington Heights

'Fancy Type'

It is obvious that the ever increasing school population requires the early planning and well timed building of school expansions, and part of the tax dollar must be spent on such construction.

The amount of money required will depend to a large extent on the labor and material. The cost of simple and still satisfactory construction will be lower than the cost for the fancy type, especially when not absolutely necessary additions are included. Our vote of November 15 will decide on the use of tax money for much needed classrooms, as well as for the fancy type "multi-purpose rooms," which we find in many new schools here.

Unfortunately, the school board has failed to give the voter a chance to decide for himself whether he wants anything but the complete package, since there does not appear to be a choice of voting for needed classrooms and for extras separately. It may well be that many a taxpayer will have no other choice but to disapprove this one way proposal.

We are told that the expenditure per pupil in Arlington Heights is about the same as the average throughout the county. However, this fact does not prove that our construction cost has been what it should. Perhaps our construction cost is high, and other items of the total education cost are low, resulting in this "average" expenditure. Perhaps we could provide a better education by dividing the tax dollar differently, and so that we provide better education by having better paid, and therefore better teachers.

It must be remembered that many school systems have done just this because of the shortage of good teachers. There can be no doubt that the parents of all school children will appreciate better education, even when the school buildings and administration offices are not of the fancy type."

John A. Kern
Arlington Heights

Deprived of Vote

More than 100 people in our precinct were deprived of their right to vote on the state bond issue for schools and mental institutions.

This ballot was not given to the voters until after 10 a.m., and then only because a member of our PTA finally got the matter corrected.

When I called the board of election commissioners in Chicago (at 8 a.m.), I was referred to the county building. There an efficient and well-informed gentleman insisted that this bond issue was on our voting machines. It wasn't. I somehow feel that if these hundred votes had involved somebody's pet candidate, our local knights in shining armor would rise up immediately to cry fraud and scandal.

Can't we have election officials who know the issues to be voted on and the method of voting? Can't we have poll workers who know how many ballots should be given out? The ability to count to three seems a not unreasonable requirement. Let us take precautions to avoid a repetition of such ignorance and inefficiency.

"Precinct 16"
Rolling Meadows

Could It Be True

After the polls closed on November 4, I was a watcher for one of the candidates in the fifth precinct of Rolling Meadows.

When the judge started to read the totals from the machines we all listened in disbelief. "Could this be true?" we asked ourselves. As it turned out it was true; the Democrats missed carrying Joe Lohman over Warren Wright by only two votes. For the office of State Superintendent of Public Instruction there was a draw, and the invincible Mrs. Church beat Mr. Kusek by a mere 15 votes for the 13th Congressional district post. A little further down on the ballot, one of the three Republican candidates managed to win in the Sanitary District balloting by a half dozen votes. The Democratic candidates carried everything else on the ballot.

Being a Democrat, for the most part, naturally I was elated. Rolling Meadows, during its short existence, has always gone Republican by almost the same ratio as Arlington Heights, Palatine, etc.

When Thursday rolled around I rushed to get the Rolling Meadows Herald to see how the Meadows voted as a city, but to my disappointment there were no figures. The only totals shown were those of the entire township (Palatine). These figures showed a lopsided Republican victory except for Bob Casey's excellent showing for the state senate.

I was quite peeved with Paddock Publications. I always thought it was routine procedure for a local paper to print the returns showing how the candidates did locally.

I immediately called Mr. William Hickey, the Democratic Chairman in Rolling Meadows, to get the Rolling Meadows figures. Although these figures were not as good as those in the 5th precinct, they showed substantial Democratic gains.

For instance, Rolling Meadows carried for 11 Democratic candidates as follows:

County Clerk—Barrett (D) 1428, Waner (R) 1104
County Judge—Kerner (D) 1414, Barrett (R) 1118
Criminal Court Clerk—Olson (D) 1298, Wall (R) 1223
Probate Court Clerk—Korzen (D) 1302, Slad (R) 1211
Probate Court Judge—Dunne (D) 1254, Hunter (R) 1175
County Superintendent of Schools—Puffer (D) 1293, Frederick (R) 1143
County Board of Appeals—Spangler (D) 1237, Bland (R) 1208
Pres. County Board—Ryan (D) 1301, Chaplin (R) 1138
County Board—White (D) 1273, Dolezal (R) 1233
State Senate—Casey (D) 1719, Graham (R) 894
State Representative—Kinser (D) 1892½, Carroll (R) 1742.

The total vote for all Republican candidates came to 38,678 as against 35,777 for the Democratic candidates, a difference of only 2,901 votes.

These figures should give the Democrats in Rolling Meadows quite a lift. If the figures are printed, more Democrats might begin to show their faces.

In the north and northwest suburban areas, Rolling Meadows included, Democrats are a rarity. Many Democrats are afraid to admit that they are Democrats because they feel that they have so little company.

However, there are now indications that Rolling Meadows is turning into a little Democratic island in the middle of a great Republican Sea. It is only proper that the voters of Rolling Meadows are acquainted with this fact. This is just a matter of good straight reporting.

I have always felt that Paddock Publications has given Rolling Meadows good coverage in the local addition of the Herald. Please don't disappoint me now on this important matter.

John J. Mackin

Blue Ballot

I do wish to extend to your staff my sincere thanks for your excellent cooperation in supporting "Vote Yes for the Judicial Amendment." The area is forunate in having a publication that is so genuinely interested in local and state improvement projects.

Although I am uncertain as to the outcome of the referendum, nevertheless I am very optimistic that the voters will approve the adoption of the Court Improvement Program. Irrespective of the outcome, Paddock Publications and the staff are to be commended for their excellent assistance in portraying all sides of the judicial amendment and particularly its strong support for the Court Reform Program.

The Northwest Committee for Modern Courts and the state committee is indebted to you for your excellent cooperation. In some instances an extremely vocal group prevented a local organization from speaking out unanimously in support of the Court Reform Program. You and your people did not hesitate to present your support for this refrom which will be extremely beneficial to the state and for our particular area. Your personal support, just as our fall weather, has brought a ray of sunshine to the committee's efforts in promoting this vitally needed improvement.

News Coverage

On behalf of the citizen group which has been working in this area for Judicial Reform, and the many organizations and individuals who have supported these efforts, I would like to express our sincerest appreciation to you. Through your most generous news coverage and editorial expression, the voters of our community have had the opportunity of becoming fully familiar with the issues.

The northwest suburban communities are indeed fortunate to have a local newspaper directed by an editor who is willing to speak out forcefully on the political, civic, and social questions affecting the local citizenry.

In Appreciation

CARD OF THANKS

The family of the late Mrs. Sophie Dohl wishes to thank the Rev. Edward A. Lazarz for his kind and comforting words, for the beautiful flowers, offers of memorial, and other acts of kindness.

Elmer Dohl and Family

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear son, brother, brother-in-law and uncle, Kenneth Tesmer, who died Nov. 12th, 1950.
We often sit and think of him
When we are all alone
For memory is the only friend
That grief can call its own.
Like ivy on the withered oak
When all other things decay,
Our love for him will still keep green, and never fade away.
Sadly missed by Mother and Dad and the Kucera Family

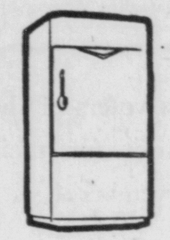
WOULDN'T YOU RATHER HAVE MONEY . . .

than a bunch of dust catchers taking up valuable storage space around your home?



Take the attic, for instance. There's that old chair . . . still sturdy, but never used any more . . .

and the stove you replaced years ago . . .

and the trunk Dad took to college . . .

and Junior's old typewriter . . .

wash tubs you haven't used since you got your automatic . . .

the bicycle no one has ridden in ages . . .

and the radio that hasn't been turned on since TV.

There's probably a lot more, too . . . all of it in good condition . . .

"But who wants it?" you say!

Someone does want it . . . and they're looking for it in Paddock Publications Want Ads.

The holiday season brings a new importance to meals and meal planning and Heights Liquors reminds residents that a fine dinner wine adds a gracious touch to holiday dining. They suggest one of the sweet wines—port, sherry or muscatel, for example —as an excellent choice for the dinner table. Heights Liquors carries a complete line of wines, whiskeys, bourbons, cordials and champagnes.

Distinctive and beautiful decanters are also on display at the store. These add a festive touch for holiday entertaining and make excellent gifts. Among the many interesting types shown are a decanter in the shape of an anteleope painted in soft colors, one in the shape of a bowling pin and another in a remarkable slender, sophisticated shape.

Heights Liquors also has a number of novel bar and cocktail accessories, including cleverly styled openers, ash trays, hors d'oeuore servers, coasters and glasses of every type.

Heights Liquors is open on Sundays from 1 to 7 p.m., as well as weekdays. (PH

Open East-West Tollway Stretch on November 21

Motorists will be able to enjoy 27.5 miles of continuous expressway travel from First ave. in Maywood to route 31 on the west side of the Fox River at Aurora on November 21.

Charles L. Dearing, executive director of the Illinois State Toll Highway Commission, announced today (Thursday) that the Commission will open the East-West Tollway from the Congress st. Expressway connection at Wolf road to the route 31 interchange west of the river at Aurora.

WILLIAM J. Mortimer, superintendent of the Cook county highway department, said that the direct connection between the East-West Tollway and Congress street Expressway at Mannheim road will also be open to traffic on November 21, offering continuous, uninterrupted travel from First ave. in Maywood to the East-West Tollway and on to Aurora.

Dearing said that completion of a 1500-foot bridge over the Fox river near Aurora will permit the opening of the [illegible] west to route 31, instead of Farnsworth ave. as previously announced.

A 7.3 mile section of the East-West Tollway from route 31 west to a direct connection with route 30 will be opened before the end of this year, he added.

George L. Jackson, chief engineer of the Commission, said that the excellent construction weather of the past few weeks is the principal reason for the change in opening plans.

"THE UNUSUALLY favorable weather is enabling us to open these sections one and one-half months ahead of schedule," Jackson said. "The entire 28-mile East-West Tollway is being opened within a construction period of less than 19 months."

With the opening of the East-West Tollway on November 21, more than 130 miles of the 187-mile tollway system will be open for traffic.

The 76-mile Northwest Tollway from O'Hare airport to South Beloit was opened on August 20. This was followed on August 28 by the opening of 30 miles of the Tri-State Tollway from the connection with Edens Expressway north to the Wisconsin line.

Ground was broken to launch construction of the Illinois Tollway in September, 1956, a little more than two years ago. (B12

Schaumburg 4-H Plans Hayride

November 14 is the date set for the Schaumburg 4-H club's hayride which will be held on the Pfingsten farm. Plans for the party were made at the group's November 7 meeting held in the home of the Franzen girls.

After the meeting, Bonnie Franzen gave a demonstration on pigs and Nancy Franzen on sheep. The group also set December 5 for its Christmas party.

New members of the club this year are Pat Zavila, Andy Anderson and Danny and Steven Smith.

Schaumburg Girls Hold All-Day November Meeting

The November meeting of the Girls of Schaumburg 4-H club was held November 8 in the home of Mrs. Weise. The meeting was an all-day affair from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. during which all girls gave food demonstrations.

Darlene Fribke demonstrated yeast breads; LaVerne Engelking and Kathy Brown, brownies; Laura Baylin and Sheryl Tucker, oatmeal drop cookies; Kathleen Pohlman, lazy daisy cake; Phyllis Hinrichs, Janet Whelton, Billie Marie Alsip and Esther Iehl, apple pies; Rayann Iehl, deviled eggs; Jeanne Martin and Geraldine Dudek, cocoa; Karla Nielsen, tossed salad; Joyce Wiese and Sheila Alsip, fruit salad; Estelle Iehl, pork chops; Roberta Murrey and Nancy Stohr, peanut butter drop cookies. Paula Schneble showed the proper way of setting a table and Sheryl Tucker, how to measure flour.

The girls planned a guided tour at Weiboldt's store in Oak Park, to be followed by lunch at Russells in River Grove and then a tour of Burney Bros. bakery in Chicago.

The group's December meeting will be held December 13 in the home of LaVerne Engelking, 101 Illinois blvd.

Country Cousins Welcome New Members Nov. 4

A meeting of the Country Cousins took place November 4 at the home of Shirley Broom, and members discussed coming projects with their leader, Mrs. Trimmel.

Two new members, Robin Anderson and Suzanne Williamson, were welcomed.

Cinda Pippenger and Linda Poulous gave demonstrations on the materials and procedure involved in making a first year skirt. Janet Crowe gave a demonstration on shrinking cloth and Patty Van de Merkt showed the group the proper way of sewing a button on a jacket (½-H
